BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Additional Local on Fourth Page.

The weather report for tomorrow is fair and stationery.

Today is collection day, when bills come thick as grasshoppers.

The little child of Mr. J. T. Rorick at North Dalles is quite sick with typhoid fever.

Several committees of the city council meet tonight to get their reports ready for the next council meeting.

Special meeting of Jackson Engine Co., No. 1, will be held Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, to transact important business.

Two heading outfits from Walla Walla country and one from Gilliam county have come into Sherman to get work during harvest.

The body of Mrs. Schronden, the lady drowned at Cascades yesterday, was found about 3:30. The body was found between the incline and government dock. The funeral services were attended by a large number of sympathizers.

The Dalles is ahead of Salem on the matter of telephone exchanges. Salem has a circuit of 100 subscribers, while our city has two complete systems, one numbering over 250 exchanges. Whenever anybody gets ahead of Salem, it is worthy of mention.

Papers asking for a requisition to enable the officers to bring Bluford Douglas back to Wasco county were forwarded to Governor Lord this morning. Douglas is charged with the larceny of stock and was arrested at Walla Walla. He is being detained there awaiting the arrival of officers from here.

Joe Robinson started on a several hundred mile drive this morning. In company with S. B. Martin, a commercial traveller, he started for Prineville, Canyon City and points farther south. They will be gone several weeks and will have covered all the tributary country south of The Dalles.

In company with Mr. J. W. Condon, manager of the telephone company, a representative of THE CHRONICLE drove out to Three Mile, the present terminus of the line. The poles are all in place to that point and the wire will be stretched immediately. A large gang of men are at work and ten days, or at the furthest, two weeks will see the line completed to Dufur and in complete operation. The work through Thompson's addition and up to Three mile, is the hardest which the builders will find in the entire distance. Many of the holes had to be blasted in the solid rock while at a greater distance the digging will be easy. The Dalles will soon have communication with Dufur and Kingsley.

The police court was busy this morning, as the natural result of the morning after a circus. One Indian was fined $10 for disorderly conduct; a man named Stegman acquitted of the charge of fast riding; two drunks and one hobo fined and sent to jail. This completes the routine of the recorder's court.

A warrant was issued by Justice Davis this morning for the arrest of George Armstrong, charged with larceny by bailee. The complaint was sworn out by H. S. Cheesman, alleges that the defendant has in his possession a wagon and team belonging to the private prosecutor, which he refuses to restore to the owner.

A stranger named J. M. Garvey was robbed of $120 in the east end of town. He claims to have been doped and while in an unconscious or dazed condition his pockets were picked of their contents. Garvey, who is a peddler by profession, came before Justice Davis this morning and swore out a warrant charging John Doe with the crime. There is no definite belief as to who the guilty party is, but the officers are watching several suspicious personages.

A car loaded with fast freight and baggage from the Regulator went into the river at the locks yesterday. The accident happened on the lower incline. The car becoming unmanageable, and running off the track, plunged into the water. A buggy and considerable freight were aboard the car and will likely not be recovered. The damage is estimated at $500, though it is yet too early for the exact amount to be determined.

Water Commissioners' Meeting.

The first meeting of the water commission at which the newly elected members were present, was held in their office. When the roll was called, Commissioners Mack, Crossen, Nielsen and Chrisman answered to their names. The credentials of J. O. Mack and Joe T. Peters were read and accepted. Mr. Mack was re-elected at the last election and Mr. Peters chosen for a new term. After the reading and approval of the minutes, the commission decided to postpone the regular election of officers until the next meeting. The secretary read the following bills, which were ordered paid:

Table listing bills for various services: Jacobsen Book & Music Co., Maier & Benton, W. R. Brown, R. E. Teague, I. J. Norman, H. Laffin, H. Chrisman, I. Burget.

The application of A. G. Hoering for a years rental of 25-foot front on Union street, north of the commissioners' tool house, was read and the application not granted.

The reports of the treasurer and superintendent were read and accepted. The total book account against water consumers was $1483.25; amount collected, $1096.25; amount yet to be collected, $387. The treasurer's report read as follows:

Financial table showing cash on hand, warrants received, and treasurer's report details.

Regarding the treasurer's report $4500 of the cash on hand is drawing 6 per cent interest in the bank.

Mr. Hood, of the city council, appeared before the board and stated he had been instructed by the council to ask the board not to charge the city $32 per month for water rent. Owing to the fact that economy was being practiced in every department it was thought the water commission should not ask the city rent.

After some discussion a motion was made that the superintendent be instructed to carry an open account with the city until further notice and collection will be delayed until it is seen how the new system of finance works.

A Day of Circus.

The Wallace Shows gave two performances yesterday—in the afternoon and evening, and it can safely be said a Dalles audience were never better pleased. From start to finish the entertainment was of the highest merit and the attractions call for much praise. The attendance was large and had not the circus came just when farmers were busy with harvest would have been much larger. The managerie contained many rare and interesting animals. Inside the big tent two rings and a platform, all filled with performers at the same time held the eyes of the audience riveted. The attractions were too numerous to mention. All were good. The living pictures or statuary brought forth much deserved applause. The tight rope performers, Japanese jugglers, bare-back riders, bicyclists and the irrepressible clowns kept up a continual round of interesting spectacles. Some of the feats were wonderful, especially the trapeze work of the Fisher Bros., where one of them turns a double somersault in mid air, high above the ground, and is caught by his brother. In the evening this act was omitted owing to the sudden sickness of Mr. Fisher.

By the high order of their attractions and the uniform courtesy and gentlemanly conduct of their employes the managers of the Wallace Shows have made a pleasant impression upon The Dalles and can be assured of crowded tents upon their return.
