A BOARD OF TRADE.

A letter came to The Dalles yesterday from an eastern city addressed to the Board of Trade of this city, making enquiries as to the advantages offered by The Dalles for the establishment of a branch factory for the manufacture of school supplies and furniture. The letter purported to come from the manager of such an establishment, and stated, among other things, that the company contemplated establishing a branch factory on the Pacific slope to supply its Pacific Coast trade. The letter made many enquiries concerning the price of lands, character of timbers etc. Such letters generally may not amount to much, yet might in particular instances amount to a great deal if placed in the hands of one interested, in properly answering them.

As it is, they usually find their way to a waste basket and the writer no doubt wonders at the lack of business courtesy or enterprise of The Dalles. It would cost something to maintain a board of trade, but the cost when borne by all business men of the city would be inconsiderable, and its benefits to the city would be great. We venture the assertion that had it not been for the board of trade, which formerly existed here, the boat company, which has solved for us the transportation question, would not have undertaken its work at the time it did, and further, that the act of the legislature authorizing the construction of the state portage road would not have become a law when it did. Both these enterprises had their origin in The Dalles board of trade, and for some time the boat company was known as the Board of Trade Boat company.

We are now entering upon a new era of prosperity and we need, more than almost anything else, an organization which will unite in a common purpose the business men of the city. It should be organized on a sound financial basis and conducted for the commercial welfare of this city. Who will take the matter in hand?

BUILDING MATERIAL GOING UP.

A strong indication of returning prosperity is the confidence apparent among builders; we assume that our own city is no exception, and here many residences and some business houses are building or have just been completed. The price of nails and lumber have both recently experienced a sharp advance; in Portland lumber has recently advanced 25 per cent.

A gentleman recently from Puget Sound reports that the lumbering interests are again active and as a result business in all lines is reviving. The same is true in the lumbering districts of California and Oregon. We hope it is a permanent improvement, although this section is a consumer and but a very small producer of lumber. Whatever helps the northwest helps us and we care little from what source the prosperity comes.

Anything that will help the future of The Dalles should be enthusiastically supported by our citizens. An organization composed of business men heartily devoted to the interests of our growing town is what just at present we need the most. In former years such a body did good work; it could do better now. Matters are continually arising, which for lack of a proper body of reference, are left neglected. Before another three months shall pass we should have some such organization. Pendleton, Baker City and La Grande have their boards of trade, commercial clubs or whatever name is given them. Our future is as bright as the brightest. Strong concerted efforts will hasten its coming. In a city more than anywhere else the adage "In Unity there is Strength," has especial force.

The Prineville Review, which knows a good thing when it sees it speaks in these high terms of the D. P. & A. N. Co. "The Regulator company appear to be doing the main shipping business on the Columbia this season. It is well this is the case, for more real benefit has accrued from the establishment of this transportation line to Eastern Oregon than from any other one enterprise."

Not since "The Anglomaniacs" has there been so clever a society satiro as Henry Fuller's "Pilgrim Sons," which is published in the August Cosmopolitan. The problems involved in woman's use of a bicycle are so startling and so numerous, under the rapid evolution of this art, that one welcomes a careful discussion of the subject by so trained a mind and so clever a writer as Mrs. Reginald de Koven. The Cosmopolitan illustrates Mrs. de Koven's article with a series of poses by professional models. A new sport, more thrilling than any known to Nimrod, more dangerous than was ever experienced by even a Buffalo Bill, is exploited in the same issue in an article on "Photographing Big Game in the Rocky Mountains," before shooting. The idea that ten cents for The Cosmopolitan means inferiority from a literary point of view is dispelled by the appearance in this number of such writers as Sir Lewis Morris, Sir Edwin Arnold, Edgar Fawcett, Tabb, W. Clark Russell, Lang, Sarcey, Zangwill, Agnes, Repplier, etc. Nor can we entertain the idea of inferiority in illustration with such names as Hamilton Gibson, Denman, VanSchrick, Lix, Sandham, etc., figuring as the chief artists of a single month's issue.

PROGRESS.
 People who get the greatest degree of comfort and real enjoyment out of life, are those who make the most out of their opportunities. Quick perception and good judgment, lead such promptly to adopt and make use of those refined and improved products of modern inventive genius which best serve the needs of their physical being. Accordingly, the most intelligent and progressive people are found to employ the most refined and perfect laxative to regulate and tone up the stomach, liver, and bowels, when in need of such an agent—hence the great popularity of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. These are made from the purest, most refined and concentrated vegetable extracts, and from forty-two to forty-four are contained in each vial, which is sold at the same price as the cheaper made and more ordinary pills found in the market. In curative virtues, there is no comparison to be made between them and the ordinary pills, as any one may easily learn by sending for a free sample, (four to seven doses) of the Pellets, which will be sent on receipt of name and address on a postal card.

ONCE USED THEY ARE ALWAYS IN FAVOR.
 The Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heart-burn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. Put up in glass vials, therefore always fresh and reliable. One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are mildly cathartic. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day after dinner. To relieve distress from over-eating, they are unequalled. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules; any child will readily take them. Accept no substitute that may be recommended to be "just as good." It may be better for the dealer, because of paying him a better profit, but he is not the one who needs help. Address for free sample, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.
