We thought, when we were too small to think carefully, that we knew how to define a democrat; but in these latter days we are compelled to give it up. He was once supposed to be a free trader, an anti-protectionist, an honest money advocate, a man of Jacksonian simplicity in governmental and personal affairs, a great financier, a shrewd diplomat, a wise statesman. But since he has been examined by the solar spectroscopy of public discussion he appears a little of all and a great deal of none of these imaginary beings. We talk with a sheep man, who pretends to be a democrat, and we conclude that a democrat is a protectionist; we read Carlisle's speeches and we are convinced that he is a sound money advocate; we read the report of democratic conventions in many states and we conclude that he is a fiat silver man; we read the life of Cleveland in the White House and we are sure that a democrat is an aristocrat, who knows nothing of simplicity of any kind; we read of the treasury deficit and the bond sale and there is no evidence of a great financier having had anything to do with it; we consider the Hawaiian foolishness and there is nothing of diplomacy there; we read the history of the present administration and we wonder where we ever got the idea that a democrat was a statesman; there is one, and only one definition that fills the bill, namely: A democrat is one who dies, but never reigns.

THE DALLES TO BE ADVERTISED

The real estate exchange of this city have undertaken a commendable enterprise in the publication of a pamphlet concerning the resources and surroundings of our city and county. If the editorial work is carefully done and care is used to exclude everything that might induce immigration under mistaken ideas, and our resources are fairly represented it will be of great use to the community. If, however, there is misrepresentation, such as is too often found in similar publications, it will be a detriment to the people who are visited by it and ultimately a harm to our city. But the matter is in the hands of conservative men and we have no reason to anticipate that it will be unwisely or unfairly done. If by means of the proposed pamphlet people in other communities are induced to come here to their own advantage, we shall be benefited; if on the other hand it leads to removals, which shall prove disastrous to those coming, our county will be that much worse off.

The work on the locks at the Cascades goes on apace and each day brings nearer and makes more certain the completion of a most important benefit to a very large country. The Paul Muhr company promises the completion of its portage road around The Dalles, contemporaneously with the opening of the canal; then Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington will know for the first time the inestimable benefit of cheap transportation. If it shall add three cents per bushel to the price realized for wheat, Sherman and Gilliam counties next year will be richer by over one hundred thousand dollars; and the probability is that it will add six to seven cents per bushel.

The Chinese government has a more difficult case to settle by reason of the Ku Cheng massacre than any it has yet had thrust upon it. England will not pass unnoticed the cruel murder of seven or eight of her subjects, who were residing in China as missionaries. If the murderers are not punished according to England's idea of justice, there will be a row compared to which Japan's invasion will be as nothing. The massacre was a most shocking one, but in its ultimate result it may do more toward the civilization of the Chinese nation than the work of the individuals who lost their lives could have done.

Oregon needs more than almost anything else a cleaning out of the system of pilfering incident to the management of its state offices. The constitution of the state provides for the payment for services rendered the state, and the governor and secretary of state have no more right to fees they now claim the right to appropriate than have county clerks for fees taken in for official services.

Oregon is herself again and the thermometer has returned to its normal condition. This will, no doubt, end the extreme hot weather. Hereafter we shall enjoy weather that cannot be surpassed anywhere on the globe for comfort and health. Oregon is a good state to live in.

THE BUSINESS MAN'S LUNCH.

Hard Work and Indigestion go Hand in Hand.

Concentrated thought, continued in, robs the stomach of necessary blood, and this is also true of hard physical labor.

When a five horse-power engine is made to do ten horse-power work something is going to break. Very often the hard-worked man coming from the field or the office will "bolt" his food in a few minutes which will take hours to digest. Then too, many foods are about as useful in the stomach as a keg of nails would be in a fire under a boiler. The ill-used stomach refuses to do its work without the proper stimulus which it gets from the blood and nerves. The nerves are weak and "ready to break" because they do not get the nourishment they require from the blood, finally the ill-used brain is morbidly wide awake when the overworked man attempts to find rest in bed.

The application of common sense in the treatment of the stomach and the whole system brings to the busy man the full enjoyment of life and healthy digestion when he takes Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets to relieve a bilious stomach, or after a too hearty meal, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify, enrich and vitalize the blood. The "Pellets" are tiny sugar-coated pills made of highly concentrated vegetable ingredients which relieve the stomach of all offending matters easily and thoroughly. They need only be taken for a short time to cure the biliousness, constipation and slowness, or torpor, of the liver; then the "Medical Discovery" should be taken in teaspoonful doses to increase the blood and enrich it. It has a peculiar effect upon the lining membranes of the stomach and bowels, toning up and strengthening them for all time. The whole system feels the effect of the pure blood coursing through the body and the nerves are vitalized and strengthened, not deadened, or put to sleep, as the so-called celery compounds and nerve mixtures do—but refreshed and fed on the food they need for health. If you suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia, nervousness, and any of the ills which come from impure blood and disordered stomach, you can cure yourself with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which can be obtained at any drug store in the country.
