BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Harry Liebe has recovered sufficiently to be on the streets again.

Mr. Ketchum shipped three carloads of sheep for Troutdale last night.

The weather for Thursday, fair and cooler; for Friday, fair, stationary.

The regular monthly meeting of Columbia Hose Co. will be held this evening.

Several prairie schooners passed through the city today on their way to Eastern Oregon.

The remains of Mrs. Tackman will be shipped to Bellevue this evening, where they will be interred in a cemetery on the banks of the Mississippi.

The committee that has the racing cart in charge says that everything is arranged satisfactorily and that the cart will arrive about a week from next Monday.

Fred Newton, a boy from the Orphan Home at Salem, was sent here in charge of Judge Blakeley. From here he will be sent to Antelope, where he expects to find a home.

The four men who were seen hanging on a capsized boat opposite Hood River are supposed to have been some fishermen who left Wyeth last week to look for seining grounds.

Mr. A. P. Bradbury, a traveling man from Portland, is authority for the statement that in one of the towns up in Idaho during the late hot spell the thermometer registered as high as 122° in the shade. Yet in spite of this extremely hot weather there was no report of any one being sun struck.

A party of ten or twelve persons from Missouri arrived on the morning train from the east. They are looking for a place to locate. In speaking with one of the party this morning our reporter was informed that if satisfactory arrangements can be made, a large colony will come west and settle in our vicinity.

About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the farm of Joseph Southwell, the 12-year-old son of Mr. Southwell was kicked in the head by a horse, causing an ugly flesh wound. The boy was working around the horse, when the animal, without any apparent cause, struck at the young fellow, causing the wound.

Pendleton Tribune: It was rather a singular coincidence that the Portland Sun should die on the very day that, an advance of three cents per bushel in the price of wheat was noted. The people do not take kindly to a publication which teaches that the world is going to hades in the face of overwhelming evidence of a heavenly ascent.

This season seems to be particularly favorable to figs in Southern Oregon. A tree in General J. W. McCall's lot in Ashland has a fair crop of ripe and green fruit, the ripe ones being as perfectly matured as if grown in Samatra, says the Tidings.

The latest bear story is from Wilderville. A large black bear came to the farm of James Grimes, when the men took were away, and jumped into the pigpen and killed two good-sized fat hogs, weighing about 100 pounds each, one of which the bear carried away.

Mrs. Frederick Tackman, aged 67, of Bellevue, Iowa, died yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Tackman was the mother of Mrs. C. S. Schmidt and Mrs. Theodore Prinz, and Dr. Wm. Tackman. This was Mrs. Tackman's fifth trip across the continent to visit her children, and while here she was in the best of health until a few days ago, when she was taken with cholera morbus. Everything that medical skill and kind treatment could do was done; but it seemed unavailing. She died very peacefully surrounded by her children.

Mr. Mozart and a companion left Cascade Locks about a week ago for Mt. Adams. Last Sunday morning while one of the men was fixing a pistol it was accidentally discharged and Mr. Mozart was shot in the arm; his companion, who was holding the horse, left them and ran to the assistance of Mozart. As the horses were left alone they started off on a run, leaving the men seventy miles from the locks with no means of returning except on foot. Mozart and his companion started on their return home, where they arrived last night. In the meantime blood-poisoning had attacked the wound and by the time they reached the locks Mr. Mozart was nearly worn out. He is now resting very easily. Mr. Mozart is a nephew of the Day Bros.

Several Iowa people happened to meet by accident in front of the postoffice today. They immediately began talking about their state, when the conversation turned on Gen. U. S. Grant, who at one time was a large buyer of hides in Galena. Mr. C. L. Schmidt related an interesting story about the campaign of '72. Grant was in Bellevue, which is across the river from Galena, when Joe Kelson, a well-known banker, slipped up to Grant and said: "Hello, Grant." Grant replied, "Do you know me?" Kelson answered, "Yes, I knew you when you used to buy hides and wore a big, grey overcoat." Grant looked at him for a short while and finally said: "You may be right about buying hides, but I never wear a grey overcoat—always a blue." And the cheering of the boys was immense.

A few young men were out on the street last night practicing for the racing team which is to be sent to Vancouver next month to compete in the tournament to be held in that city. The boys did very well in their first practice, but we expected to see a larger number out. The team will not be chosen for a week or so, and it is absolutely necessary that a large number of men should be out training every evening. Every one of the thirty-five men, who competed in races here on the 4th, should try for a position on the team. It is only by competition between the different men that the team will be chosen. We hope to see every man in the fire department, who has any sprinting qualities, out training this evening.

Fire at Pendleton.

Pendleton was visited by a large fire this morning. The fire started a little after 12 o'clock and several business blocks were burnt. It is reported that five persons were consumed in the fire. Pendleton has undoubtedly been very cautious in regard to fire protection, as the following clipping from the East Oregonian of yesterday will show:

On account of the heavy wind which blew Tuesday afternoon and evening, the city authorities kept the reservoir full for use in case of fire. The water used during this time was pumped directly into the mains, and to many it seemed that the water had given out. In case fire had broken out, an enormous quantity of water would have been required, and the precaution of retaining the reservoir full was a wise one.

His Clothes Were Too Good.

Chicago Chronicle: When J. C. McPherson returned to his residence Saturday afternoon he found that someone had forced an entrance through a rear window, taken a bath, changed his clothes for a complete outfit of Mr. McPherson's clothing, ransacked the house for valuables, and gone away, leaving his old clothes in the bathroom, taking $71. Mr. McPherson went to the police station to report his loss. He had hardly reached the station when two officers brought in William Swift, who was attired in a new suit, patent leather shoes and new hat. The clothing did not fit Swift and his appearance had attracted the attention of the officers. Mr. McPherson identified the clothing as his and a charge of burglary was placed against Swift.

Hose Company Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of Mt. Hood Hose company, No. 4, will be held at the hose house on Saturday next, (10th inst) at 8 o'clock p. m. As business of importance will come before the meeting a full attendance is expected.

Mr. W. J. Baker, a prominent fruit-grower of Hood River, is in the city.

Mr. J. Roth, a prominent farmer from Kingsley was seen on the streets today.

Mrs. O. Funk, accompanied by Mrs. L. Funk, left for Ocean Park this morning.

Mr. Chas. Phillips has gone to Moffit Springs where he will spend a few days.

Rev. W. C. Cartis and his son, Win, left this morning by the Regulator for the Locks.

Mr. Henry Bills and Mrs. Britton left on the west bound train this morning for Newport.

Mr. Gus. Bonn left on the local this afternoon for a few days' sojourn at North Beach.

Mr. J. D. Rother, a capitalist is in the city looking over the ground pursuant to investment.

Miss Rose Michell, who has been spending three weeks at the coast, returned home last night.

Mr. John Wingle returned from Moffit Springs last night. He reports every one having a glorious time.

Mr. Frank Summers and Mr. Branner returned yesterday evening from High Prairie, where they have been on a hunting expedition. They report that game is very plentiful in that vicinity. The result of their hunt was about fifty birds.

Pains in the small of the back indicate a diseased condition of the kidneys. Owing to the dangerous nature of the diseases which attack those organs it is important that measures should be taken to remove the trouble before it has become too firmly fixed. Prudence would suggest the prompt use of Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm which has specific action on the liver and kidneys and will cause an early restoration to healthy conditions. Price $1.00 per bottle.

School Superintendent's Notice.
