BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Crib blankets just in at A. M. Williams & Co.'s

The weather report for tomorrow says fair and stationary. Sunday is prophesied as warmer.

There will be a special meeting of the fire board this Friday evening, in the council room at 8:30 p. m.

The smoke is not so dense today and the cool weather we are having may mean rain in the mountains.

M. Z. Donnell has just received a large consignment of foreign and domestic cigars. All the best brands are represented.

A car loaded with pears and plums left The Dalles last night for Denver, Colo. Part of the cargo was shipped from Portland, but most of it went from this place.

Lutheran services will be held next Sunday at 10 o'clock a. m. in their chapel here and 3 p. m. in the Long Hollow schoolhouse. Also on Monday at 2:30 p. m. at Mr. L. Hauser's residence in Tygh valley. A cordial welcome extended to everyone.

Mrs. Helen R. Davenport of Hood River made final proof yesterday before the land office for the sw<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, sw<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, sec. 15, tp. 2 n. r. 9 e., W. M. The land was purchased under the timber and stone act. Marcus Davenport and Claud E. Copple appeared as witnesses.

The management of the boat company has concluded not to have an excursion Sunday to the locks. Those who wish to go can find accommodations by train, which will leave here some time in the morning, the exact hour not yet being announced. There will be something of interest to see.

Forty-two crates of melons and 200 boxes of peaches were shipped to Portland this morning. The Dalles is shipping more fruit than ever before and its reputation is being extended over a wide area of territory. Next season will see this place sending away still greater quantities of fruit.

A private letter, received this morning from Prof. Gavin, states that the professor and family left Kane, Ill., Aug. 12th. They will make brief stops at Slater, Missouri, Kansas City, Ogden, Salt Lake City and Huntington. They will arrive home the latter part of next week, after an enjoyable visit with eastern friends.

The two travellers from The Dalles to foreign lands, W. H. Moody and R. E. Saltmarsh left Portland yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. They will go east over the Canadian Pacific and take passage for England. Their time of absence will be about two months. The trip will include a visit to Paris and the continent.

The water has fallen sufficiently to show the damage done to the Regulator dock. The flooring of the level portion and many of the beams which support it are washed away and considerable work will be necessary to repair the damage. As soon as the river falls sufficiently to allow work to be commenced, the pile driver will start repairs.

Mr. George W. Fligg of Endersby made final proof yesterday before the land office. The land was taken under the homestead act, and comprised the ne<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, nw<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, n<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>, ne<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub> and se<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, ne<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>, sec. 14, tp. 1 s. r. 13 e., W. M. The witnesses before the register and receiver were Mr. L. Rice and E. M. Hariman. Mr. Fligg is the postmaster at Endersby.

The cash receipts of the county clerk's office amounted, during July, to $185.30. This applies to fees for filing deeds, mortgages, complaints and the like and is entirely exclusive of the business done for the county. County business is done without charge. There is little question but what the salary law will prove a great benefit to the different counties in the state.

Contest proceedings were held this morning before Register Moore and Receiver Biggs of the land office. The case was instituted by Henry Stoneman against Wm. Keeney to cancel homestead entry 3395 comprising sw<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub> of sec 22, tp 2 n., r 12 e. The entry was made March 14, 1890. As the defendant did not appear, judgment by default was given in favor of the plaintiff.

And still the wool comes in. Yesterday a clip from Dayville belonging to W. B. Donaldson and E. E. Laughlin was received at the Wasco warehouse. The amount was 25,000 pounds. Although the market can be said to be over, there will be little difficulty in disposing of the clip though it is doubtful if it will bring as large a price as if sold earlier in the season. Competition among buyers will be an absent factor.

The telephone line to Dufur rested last night on the hill about one mile this side of the town. The management expects to reach Dufur tonight and, if possible have telephone communication with the citizens of that prosperous village. The wire is being stretched upon the poles as fast as they are placed in position and when the last pole is set the wire will be ready and all that remains to be done is to adjust the instruments. This is the first step in an enterprise which will be of remarkable benefit to The Dalles and Wasco county. The people of Dufur will be glad to be placed in quick connection with the outside world.

Another new town in Wasco county has been platted. A survey has been made of Boyd, on the road between The Dalles and Dufur, a few miles this side of the latter place. The plat shows that the new townsite will contain thirteen blocks, each block having eight lots. Besides the original townsite, there is already an addition called Mountain View. One entire block is set aside for a schoolhouse and grounds. The names of the streets are Rann, Mann, Moad, Gilliam, Woods, Rice, Burford, McGaffen and Southern Avenue. The surveying was done by W. E. Campbell. Boyd has been a postoffice for a good many years, and is the trading point for a fertile section of country. The new town expects to have a substantial growth.

What came nearly being a fatal accident happened this morning to Mr. Fred Lemke. By mistake he swallowed some corrosive sublimate. Mr. Lemke had not been feeling well for some time, and this morning about 9 o'clock went to the shelf to get a bottle of medicine, according to his usual custom. The medicine and the poison were in two bottles standing near one another, and by mistake Mr. Lemke took the wrong one. Without examining the label, he took out the cork and drank about a tablespoonful. The instant pain was excruciating. Mrs. Lemke hastened to the telephone and summoned Dr. Hollister, who administered antidotes. It was some time before the poisoned man could regain his speech. He had taken about seven grains, when one-twentieth of a grain is considered a fair amount. This afternoon Mr. Lemke is considered out of danger, though still suffering severe pain. It is safe to say that after this he will closely examine every bottle before tasting of its contents.

Word From Mr. C. W. Rice.

Mr. Horace Rice has just received an interesting letter from his son, Wesley, at Phoenix, Arizona. Wesley Rice left The Dalles several weeks ago and went to Arizona in hopes of bettering his weakened health. The weather has been extremely warm ever since his arrival, the thermometer ranging from 106 to 110 degrees. Phoenix is described as being a well built place with good business houses. The merchants seem to be doing well, but the farmers are in a bad condition. Mr. Rice took a drive out in the country and saw that about half the farms had "for sale" notices upon them. The soil is very sandy and when wet makes the stickiest of mud. There are a great many people in Phoenix who have come from different portions of the country to seek benefit for lung troubles. The extreme hot weather has been very hard upon them. Tropical fruits grow in profusion, but the more northern varieties, such as peaches, strawberries and the like, do not grow to the same proportions or attain the delicious flavor as with us. Mr. and Mrs. Rice live about three-quarters of a mile from the town and pleasantly situated. As soon as cooler weather comes Mr. Rice expects to be greatly benefited, but intends remaining till thoroughly restored. He gives June 1st as the time for returning to The Dalles. His friends will be glad to hear of encouraging reports from him.
