BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Tomorrow will be fair and warmer, so says the weather bulletin.

The Regulator had a shipment of horses on her downward trip this morning.

Seventy-six boxes of peaches were shipped from Seufert's to Portland this morning.

A valuable horse belonging to Robt. Teague, the expressman, died yesterday afternoon.

A house belonging to Mr. Skibbe is being moved down Second street today. It will be placed next to the brick hotel.

Seven cars of cattle, purchased by Monroe Grimes for the meat packing establishment at Troutdale, were shipped from The Dalles this morning.

Last Tuesday, at the farm of Mr. Southwell, there were united in marriage, Miss Anna Southwell and Mr. Henry Hook of Lyle, Wash. Rev. A. Horn performed the ceremony.

The favorite lounging place for those not very industriously inclined is along the incline leading to the Regulator dock. The pile driver and workmen building the foundation for the new warehouse provide objects of interest.

Fifty-three hundred pounds of fruit were shipped from The Dalles to Portland on a freight train this morning. The shipment comprised different varieties of small and large fruits. Fifty-two crates of cantaloupes were in the consignment.

Mrs. Fawcett, who is awaiting the grand jury and at present out on bonds, was arrested yesterday at Cascade Locks and brought to The Dalles by Constable Trana. Mrs. Fawcett's bonds are only $50, but her bondsmen feared lest she was thinking of leaving them and for this reason had her brought back.

Mr. A. McCully, engineer of the Regulator, has received a specimen of some hops grown on his farm in the Willamette valley. The hops are of fine growth and clean, being free from any annoying insects. If the remainder of the hop crops in Willamette valley is on a par with this specimen, the yield this year will be a fruitful one.

Some Chinamen in the city believing that the murder of Tuesday was due to a highbinder feud, have given the officers the names of four celestials who are charged with being highbinders and of having no regular livelihood, other than what they obtain by bull-dozing and nefarious methods. The officers have given them notice to leave the town.

Hon. E. O. McCoy and family of Grants will remove to The Dalles after the first of September and make their future residence here. Mr. McCoy has rented a house on the hill, and will place his children in school. The educational advantages of The Dalles are becoming widely known, and are accountable for drawing many people to become residents of the city.

Balfe Johnson, who for several years has been the Western Union operator in The Dalles, has been promoted and given the telegraph office in Astoria. Mr. Johnson is now absent on his vacation, but will return Sunday and make preparations for leaving permanently. He has made many friends by his courteous behavior while in The Dalles, and their best wishes will follow him for success in his new position.

Mr. R. H. Lonsdale has retired from the position he has occupied for many years in the mercantile house of A. M. Williams & Co. Mr. Lonsdale is an unusually good book-keeper and a very popular young man. His friends, and they include all who know him, hope that he will remain in The Dalles, where he has made his home for the last eight years. He will be succeeded in his position by Mr. H. W. French, who is very favorably known in The Dalles.

The racing cart, which arrived yesterday, causes much admiration in firemen's circles. The cart is built very strong and gaily painted, so it cannot help attracting much attention in the Vancouver tournament. From the inspection the boys have made, they are well satisfied with the purchase, and consider the money well spent. The team was practicing last night on Second street in the presence of many witnesses. They covered the ground in very quick time, and showed great facility in making the proper connections.

The warehouses are gradually being filled with wheat. The receipts are growing larger every day. The Wasco warehouse now contains 1500 sacks, 500 of which have already been sold. The other 1000 are held till the market begins after the first of next month. The nominal price of wheat is now 45 cents, but unless all signs fail it will be advanced in a short time. Forty-five sacks of new wheat were received from Sherman county at Moody's warehouse today. The berry this year is very plump and the results of the acreage planted is better proportionally than usual.

A very important deed was sent to the county clerk this morning to be recorded. The grantors are S. T. Bryant, C. A. Bryant, W. L. Bryant and Walter L. Bryant and the grantee is the Stachys Mining Co. The deed conveys the property, near Mosier, upon which is situated the silica mines, mention of which was made in THE CHRONICLE some time ago. The consideration amounts to nearly $500, but the cost of developing will be large. This enterprise means a great deal to the people of Mosier as well as Wasco county and shows how varied are our resources and that their development is but begun.

An important real estate transaction was consummated yesterday. Mr. Samuel Wilkerson bought from Mr. Dietzel the lot on Washington street, opposite the Joles residence. The price paid was $950. The lot is a very slightly one, and will make a splendid building spot. Mr. Wilkerson intends building a handsome residence in the immediate future. This summer has been one of the most active in building The Dalles has ever known. New residences and buildings have been erected in every portion of town, and uniformly have been great additions to the city. The immediate future of The Dalles is as bright as the very brightest, and the best era in its history is just beginning.

The people of Hood River have decided to hold a fair at Hood River, Oct. 4th and 5th, 1895. Suitable premiums will be given for meritorious exhibits. Competition and comparisons are invited from all sections of the country. Low excursion rates will be given by the steamboat company and on the railroad. The fair will be especially an exhibit of the fruits, flowers and other products of the soil of the middle Columbia district. At the recent election of promoters, E. L. Smith was elected superintendent and H. C. Bateham, secretary. W. J. Baker is chairman of the executive committee. Hood River is famous the world over as a garden spot and an exhibition of her native fruits and flowers, with those from surrounding places, will make a splendid showing and attract many visitors to the town.

Four casks of catfish, addressed to E. R. Cary, Prineville, passed through the Pacific Express office today. They were from the F. C. Barnes fish establishment, Portland. The fish were in common butter casks, filled with water and an opening at the top, covered with wire gauze, to allow air to reach the occupants inside. It is said the owner intends stocking some of the Crook county creeks with this variety, but the wisdom of such procedure was doubted by the group of scientific fishermen which stood around looking at the fish this morning. Catfish are very repulsive looking and are apt to drive away the better kinds of fish when placed in the same streams. The propagation of the German carp is considered a mistake by many people, and it is thought the planting of the catfish will have the same result.

A Good Time Coming.

The neighbors of The Dalles have uniformly a kind word to say of this city. The following from the Arlington Record says The Dalles has promising indications of a good time coming. What helps one portion of Eastern Oregon will benefit the remainder.

"The Dalles has now in force a Sunday closing law, which is obeyed by every saloon keeper in the city, and the recorder's office receipts show a decided falling off since the new law went into effect. By the papers we see also that the whole city is about to follow Arlington's example and have new sidewalks. This is regarded as a promising indication of the near proximity of the good time coming, but so long delayed, which will follow the opening of the Columbia."

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. A. B. Craft of Rufus was in the city today.

Mr. J. B. Crossen left on the afternoon train for the seashore.

Mrs. F. S. Gunning was a passenger on the Regulator this morning.

Mr. J. Folco was a passenger on the Regulator this morning towards Trout Lake.

Miss Lila Johnson passed through The Dalles last night on her way to Idaho.

Mr. J. A. Soesbe, justice of the peace at Hood River, came up on the boat last night.

Mrs. C. W. Phelps and family came home last night from camping at Moffit Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. French returned last night from spending several weeks at Catsop beach.

Mr. J. N. Burgess of Bakeoven is in the city, having aided in driving to town a large band of cattle.

Mr. W. C. Alloway left this morning for Ocean Park to bring his family home from their summer's outing.

Mr. Frank Fulton was in the city this morning on his way home from Crook county. He left for Fultonville this afternoon.

Mr. Charles Butler and wife from Port Townsend arrived in The Dalles last night on the steamer. Mrs. Richard Booten accompanied them.

Mr. Douglas Dufur has returned from a month's absence in the country, during which time he has ridden on a bicycle through many portions of the country.

Mr. Charles A. Wintermier left on the Regulator this morning for Eugene, where he will enter the University of Oregon. Mr. Wintermier is a member of the senior class, and will take his bachelor's degree next June.

Mr. M. A. Moody has returned from his visit to Chicago. Everywhere the indications for republican success seem to be very promising, but no definite signs point to any particular republican who will lead the party.
