BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Weather for today and tomorrow is fair and stationary.

Don't forget the excursion to be given by the Orchestra Union next Sunday.

Six prisoners are now confined in the county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury.

Sixty-five subpoenas were made out by Deputy Sheriff Kelly today. They are all to be served upon witnesses in criminal cases.

A new hat, wrapped up in paper, was found upon the street last night, and brought to this office, where it awaits the owner.

The frame for the remaining part of the Regulator warehouse is being put up today. About half of the building is under cover and ready for the storage of wheat.

The ferry boat was busy today transferring sheep from across the river. The band numbered 4500, and were taken to 5-Mile. They were in fine condition from their summer pasturage.

The new residence of James Snipes, on the bluff, is rapidly nearing completion. It is a handsome two-story house and will be among the most attractive residences in the city.

Mr. Faris objects to going on record as promising to vote the Republican ticket in the next elections, and so has registered again at the Umatilla House, adding after his name, that he voted for Andrew Jackson and never changed.

Owing to the lack of wind several scows with wood for The Dalles have become becalmed. Last night the Regulator after landing its passengers here went down the river two miles to tow up the Interstate.

The pile driver, which has been at work on the new incline, was taken to Bonneville yesterday to do some bridge repairing. The incline at this place is completed, though work will be continued in strengthening other parts of the bridge.

Mr. S. W. DeWitt of Washington, D. C., arrived in The Dalles last night. Mr. DeWitt is connected with the department of justice at Washington, and is here to consider claims of Indian depredations which may come before him. Mr. DeWitt has been expected to arrive for several days.

The Regulator was delayed over a half an hour on leaving this morning, owing to the necessity of persuading 230 hogs to go aboard. The sentiment of the hogs was against travelling and they kept the crew busy for nearly an hour before they were safely on board the boat.

Woodman's day at the Portland Exposition has attracted quite a number of visitors from The Dalles. This morning's boat had on board a delegation from this lodge, who will visit the exposition. Among the number were noticed Cal. Wigle, John Cooper, John Taylor, James Taylor and Ed Hill. This party will probably return Monday.

The wheat market has taken a sudden jump, and the Wasco warehouse is paying 42 cents a bushel this morning. As the amount of wheat being brought to town has considerably decreased, this rise in price will probably cause another spurt. A good deal of wheat is being shipped, a daily average of eight cars leaving for Portland.

Miss Dorothea Eliot, whose rich contralto voice left such pleasant memories with our music lovers at the late concert in the Congregational church, is to give a ballad and song recital in the same place Thanksgiving evening. This will be a rich treat for all who heard her at that time, and for their friends who have heard their good report. The program will be published later.

Quite a number of our local horsemen are attending the Heppner races. Several of the horses which participated in The Dalles races are entered at Heppner. The 1/4 dash yesterday was won by Pinear, with Steamboat Bill second. It had been reported that Black Prince had smashed a record, but the Heppner correspondent to the Oregonian says the distance run was 86 feet short, so the time was not so fast after all. The 1000 yard dash was won by Tampa, with Coxey 2nd. Black Alder sold the favorite in the pools.

The Dalles is the best place in the Northwest for investment of capital. This city has never had a boom, nor wants one, but has had a steady growth which in the last year has quickened its pace. The attention of outside capitalists looking for an investment is turned to this city, and any day the announcement may be made that The Dalles has been settled upon as the place for starting some new enterprise. The cheap rates to and from the seaboard give The Dalles a great advantage over interior cities.

The Cascade locks are the great object of interest to the people of The Dalles. The Orchestra Union will give an opportunity for the people to visit this great work next Sunday. The weather promises to be propitious, and the trip is known to be a delightful one. The entire brass band will be in attendance and entertain the excursionists with the best of music. The price of tickets is put extremely low, only 50 cents being charged for the round trip. Remember that the capacity of the steamer is limited, and only a certain number of tickets can be sold. Those who neglect to buy may get left.

Just received a choice lot of Dry Oak Wood. MAIER & BENTON.

The County's Finances.

The clerk, sheriff and treasurer of Wasco county have filed their semi-annual statements, which show the condition of the county's finances on September 30th. The total liability of the county is $87,964.28, consisting of warrants drawn on the county treasurer, outstanding and unpaid, $77,964.28, and estimated interest $10,000. As compared with the statement published last March, a decrease of $26,649.56 in the county's outstanding indebtedness is shown. The total resources now applicable to the payment of county warrants are $23,991.76. Last March they were $63,236.82. There is now a cash balance in the treasurer's hands of $3,391.76; estimated delinquent taxes applicable to the payment of county warrants for 1894, $12,000. Estimated amount of real estate bid in by the county at tax sales on rolls of '90, '91, '92, '93, $8,000. Estimated amount due from the state for care of non-resident paupers, $600. The value of the county courthouse and grounds is estimated at $30,000. The salaries of county officials since April 1st amount to $7,932.81. April was the best month for the collection of taxes, $50,476.12 being received by the sheriff. To get Wasco county out of debt at the earliest practicable moment should be the aim of every person elected to office. A good beginning has been made, and from now on every year should see Wasco county making good progress in reducing the outstanding claims.

Pendleton is being much talked about throughout the state because of the woolen mill, the construction of which is now assured. To the extent of a scouring mill, which has had a successful season, and the projected woolen mill, Pendleton is ahead of The Dalles. A little outside capital invested here will regain the lost ground and with the natural advantages which we undoubtedly possess, place us first in the race. The money put in the D. P. & A. N. Co. proved the best investment this community ever made and history of the boat line should be a stimulus to a further reaching out to help ourselves. The Dalles should have had the woolen mill that Pendleton is to receive. A pay roll makes a lively town. The establishment of a few factories which would give employment to labor would make The Dalles the second city in the state. Salem has a woolen mill and other factories, which have played the great part in that city's growth. We hope before another year is past to see this city boast of some enterprises with pay rolls.

Word has been received from the Elk's lodge at the Cascades that the Sadie B will leave about 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and will bring the members of the lodge to The Dalles. The steamer has been kindly placed at the disposal of the Elks by the owners, Messrs. J. G. and I. N. Day, who are both prominent members of the order. Upon the arrival of the Sadie B at The Dalles, the visiting Elks will be met by the Dalles Elks and entertained in the hospitable manner for which the order is famous. The initiatory exercises will be held early in the evening, after which a banquet will be given. More applications have been received than probably can be acted upon at Saturday's meeting. The event promises to be a very pleasing one to all concerned.
