A Big Job

It would be a big job to tell one hundred people every day anything that would interest them in your goods.

It's Dead Easy

If done the right way. This paper will tell several thousand at once.

FEDERAL BANK SUPERVISION.

Says the Globe Democrat: The stockholders of the collapsed First National Bank of Sedalia have raised a new legal question in their attempt to evade the assessment made upon them for the payment of the outstanding liabilities. They hold that they should not be required thus to make good the losses that ensued in spite of the supervision of the government through its bank examiner. In other words, they claim that they were released from liability when the government permitted the bank to run along in a bad condition. The plea is a plausible one, but it is hardly to be expected that any court will consent to help stockholders out of a bad place by such means. There is nothing in the laws pertaining to the national banking system which can be interpreted as making the government a guarantor of the absolute correctness of the investigations of its bank examiners. The fact is notorious that such investigations are rarely, if ever, thorough and reliable. Even when the examiner is competent and anxious to perform good service, he can be deceived more or less by the officers of the bank, and his report may represent a condition existing during his presence only, to be changed as soon as his back is turned. Deceptions of this kind have occurred so often that when a new one happens it does not cause any surprise.

As a matter of fact, all forms of bank supervision are defective in some respects, and it will not do to depend upon them except in a general way and under favorable conditions. It is only occasionally that a federal bank examiner discovers that a bank is in a shaky condition, or that some of its officers or employees are stealing its assets. As a rule, such discoveries are made by accident, or by the confession of guilty parties, and the persons most surprised are those who should have found out the facts long before by reason of their relation to the business of the institution. There is a constant tendency on the part of the best banks and other concerns handling large amounts of money to impose closer restrictions upon their employees, and to introduce more effective plans of supervision. The directors of all kinds of corporations are taking more interest in their duties and acting upon a higher sense of responsibility. Much of this improvement is due to the guarantee indemnity companies, which have so much at stake in the integrity of their patrons; but there is reason to believe, also, that the necessity of self-protection has led to the adoption of better methods of surveillance and detection by private firms and companies. In due course of time, federal bank supervision will probably be made adequate and satisfactory; and until then, stockholders will be obliged to pay the losses which it does not prevent.

The South Carolina Constitutional Convention has adopted an article requiring all state officers to make oath that they also swear that they have not taken part in any lynching was lost.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS FROM THE NORTHWEST PRESS.

Moro Observer: Congressman Ellis declined to talk politics in Pendleton a few days since. He observed, however, that he is watching the republican stock market and is pleased with what in his opinion, is a decidedly bullish movement.

Pendleton Tribune: It has only taken the United States government twenty years to build the Monadnock, which is to be given a trial trip at Mare Island the latter part of this week, and yet there are people who deny the fact that this government is bestirring itself in preparing for war in time of peace.

Goldendale Sentinel: Wherever Klickitat goes with her fruits, wheat, vegetables, flour, lumber, fine stock, and racing horses she takes the persimmon. There is no place on God's footstool more favored; but one thing we lack—connection by rail with the outside world, and that we must have sooner or later.

From Far Away Ceylon.

I have received direct from the Island of Ceylon a large consignment of its justly celebrated teas. The extraordinary success which has attended the growing of the tea plant in Ceylon is phenomenal. Ten or twelve years ago a few planters experimented growing tea, (the coffee crop, for which the island was formerly famous, being entirely destroyed by a blight) with the result that Great Britain alone consumes annually 190,000,000 pounds of these teas which would be a small matter to what would be consumed in our country, when Americans realize the splendid qualities of Ceylon. These teas are prepared by modern machinery and picked by the natives with gloved hands and are incomparable in their strength, purity and flavor.

Economy is also a most important factor in the use of these teas; one pound being equal in strength to two pounds of China, it is only necessary to use half the quantity you would of any other. To make good tea is a very simple matter. Use an earthenware teapot and pour on the water as soon as it boils, allowing five minutes to draw. Water which has been previously boiled should never be used. W. A. JOHNSTON, Up-to-Date Grocerman.

Mr. J. K. Fowler, secretary and treasurer of the Corinne Mill, Canal and Stock Co., of Corinne, Utah, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy says: "I consider it the best in the market. I have used many kinds but find Chamberlain's the most prompt and effectual in giving relief, and now keep no other in my home." When troubled with a cough or cold give this remedy a trial and we assure you that you will be more than pleased with the results. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists.

Wanted, Cash.

If?

If you want to preserve apples, don't cause a break in the skin. The germs of decay thrive rapidly there. So the germs of consumption find good soil for work when the lining of the throat and lungs is bruised, made raw, or injured by colds and coughs. Scott's Emulsion, with hypophosphites, will heal inflamed mucus membranes. The time to take it is before serious damage has been done. A 50-cent bottle is enough for an ordinary cold.
