BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

The weather for today and tomorrow is fair and warmer.

Sunday Excursion To the Cascades.

Remember the excursion given next Sunday by the Orchestra Union. The entire brass band will be in attendance.

The friends of Miss Grace Sharp, who has been seriously ill in Portland for several months, will be glad to know the young lady is improving in health.

A meeting of the Elks of this city is called for 7 o'clock this evening, in the parlors of the Umatilla House. Matters of importance relating to the meeting Saturday night will be discussed.

This good weather will not last much longer and next Sunday will probably be the last excursion to Cascade Locks for the year. Don't fail to take this pleasant opportunity of seeing this great work.

Two victims greeted City Recorder Phelps this morning and were found to be guilty of overestimating their capacity for liquor. One of them paid a $5 fine and the other being fined twice that amount and lacking the wherewith went to jail.

The receipts of wheat at the warehouses were much larger today than yesterday. The Klickitat teams were in the majority. At 7 o'clock this morning ten wagons were in line on the ferry hill across the river waiting to reach this side.

Ninety hogs from Klickitat county were brought to the stockyards today for shipment to Port Townsend. They were purchased by Chas. Butler. A band of cattle also came in to be taken to the sound. It is probable they will be driven overland.

The ladies of the Methodist church will give a Tom Thumb and Chrysanthemum show at some date early in November. The ladies are making great preparations for the event and some unique exhibitions may be expected. The exact date will be announced later.

The passenger train going west this morning was composed of thirteen coaches. On board was a large excursion from Eastern Oregon cities some coming from as great a distance as Huntington. The Portland Exposition is drawing immense crowds and the financial success of the fair seems to be assured. Everyone who attends brings back the same good report of the excellence of the exposition.

The coming season promises to be a very lively one socially. Besides the recital to be given Thanksgiving evening, which was announced yesterday, the Home Dramatic Club will play for the benefit of charity, Thanksgiving eve. The club held a meeting last evening to consider a request to play and decided to acquiesce. The piece put on will be "A Night Off," a comedy of great humor which will undoubtedly draw a large house. The parts have been assigned and the club will begin practicing at once.

The first shipment of this season's wheat from Rockland went this morning by the Regulator. Between six and seven hundred sacks were on the dock waiting to be taken aboard. It is expected another lot will be ready in a short time. The freight business done by the Regulator this week is one of the greatest for any week since the flood time of '94. Three boat loads of sheep, one of hogs and today's shipment of wheat make a big record which will be followed tomorrow by a large miscellaneous cargo, which has been waiting several days for a chance to go.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church are proposing large things for the entertainment of this community in the coming December. Their entertainment will be called the "Festival of Times and Seasons," and if old Father Time himself, who is expected, should fail to come on account of age and infirmities, he has promised to send his twelve children who will faithfully represent his interests in the year's doings, assisted each by four of the next generation, making sixty-two in all. The society expects this festival to occupy two evenings in Armory hall.

Congressman Ellis will arrive in the Dalles tomorrow morning from Heppner and spend the day in this city. This will be the last opportunity Mr. Ellis will have of meeting his constituents, as he leaves almost immediately for Washington to begin his congressional labors. There are several questions of vital importance to the people of Eastern Oregon concerning which it would be well to consult informally with Mr. Ellis. The necessity of allowing sheepmen to pasture their flocks in the accustomed places is one of them and the matter of river improvements another. If a meeting of business men and citizens could be called and Mr. Ellis invited to address them on these important questions, it would be both a benefit to our people and a deserved compliment to our congressman.

Portland Exposition.

The Dalles Portland & Astoria Nav. Co. will sell round trip tickets during the Exposition at $2.00. Tickets good ten days from date of sale.

Almost a Sensation.

Last night a stranger registered at one of our leading hotels, and handed the proprietor, who, by the way, is one of the oldest and best known hotel men in the state, $13.50, the stranger saying at the same time that in all probability he would be drunk by morning, and in case he should ask the hotel proprietor for the money, it was not to be given him until sober. This morning the stranger, who had made his word good by getting gloriously inebriated, came around and wanted the money, which the proprietor, seeing his condition, refused to give up, telling him to come around when sober. So the man went out declaring he would see a lawyer and raise thunder generally. The first attorneys' office he struck happened to be the firm of Sinnott & Sinnott, to whom he stated his grievances. Marshal Blakeney was called into action, and, armed with various papers, went to the hotel and asked which one of the proprietors he should take into custody. The junior partner insisted that the marshal should take the senior partner to jail, while the latter, who by this time was wondering what sort of a mess he had got into, tried to get the younger one, who is well known as an irresistible joshier, to explain the matter. After considerable fun, the $13.50 were dug up, and the attorneys deducting their fee, the man proceeded to get still further glorious on what was left.

Proposed Lecture Course.

The ladies of the Congregational church have been busy for some time arranging a lecture course for the coming winter. It is the intention to secure some of the best foreign talent to be found in the state. Although the list is not yet complete, a perusal of the following names of people who will deliver lectures upon different topics, will give some idea of the treats in store for the people of The Dalles:

From Portland will come Ex-Atty General Geo. H. Williams, Judge L. L. McArthur, Hon. Thomas N. Strong, Hon. D. P. Thompson, Col. James Jackson, U. S. A.; from Salem Rev. P. S. Knight and Rev. W. C. Kantner; from Forest Grove Prof. Lloyd, of Pacific University. Hon. John Michell of this city, who is known as a speaker of ability, is also one of the lecturers. It is expected Mrs. E. W. Allen of Portland will give a lecture, aided by stereopticon views. Several other distinguished gentlemen are being written to, some of whom will probably accept.

A winter lecture course is needed in every town and it is hoped our citizens will take hold of the matter heartily and encourage the ladies of the church in their laudable efforts.

County Surveyor Sharp returned today from surveying the Rattlesnake canyon. In company with J. D. Gibson, John McGrath and James McMillan, Mr. Sharp went over the proposed route and carefully surveyed it. The road can be easily built this fall if work is commenced at once. The grade begins a quarter of a mile south of the free bridge and terminates at James Walker's place, at the head of Rattlesnake canyon. It will run through about one-half dirt and one-half rock. The stakes have been set at a distance of one chain apart. The incline for one mile is eighteen inches to the rod, and for two miles fifteen inches. The surveyor and viewers spent three days on the work.

The chronic grumbler still lives, but there are less cases of chronic indigestion and dyspepsia than formerly. The fact is so many people in the past have taken Simmons Liver Regulator that they are now cured of these ills. And a great multitude are now taking Simmons Liver Regulator for the same troubles and they'll soon be cured. "It is the best medicine."—Mrs. E. Raine, Baltimore, Md.
