"Dagon and Pythias," etc. She is conceded to be the best lady banjoist on the stage today. She is a graceful dancer and a sweet singer. In fact Hettie Bernard Chase is a "whole show" by herself. That she will become a great favorite goes without saying. In her support will be found some of the best artists ever seen in this city, both ladies and gentlemen. They have a large and versatile repertoire. In fact the Chase Stock Company and its charming star will be a treat for our theater goers.

The trial of Lee Git is the absorbing topic of interest today. The courtroom is crowded with spectators, who listen attentively to the testimony. The jury was secured late yesterday afternoon and opening statements were made. Mr. Sears stated the line of proof for the state, and was followed by Mr. Huntington for the defendant. The first witness for the state was E. I. Birch, who was among the first persons upon the scene after the killing. Dan Maloney and Ralph Gibbons testified to having seen the knife with which it is alleged the killing was done and connected it with the possession of the defendant. W. H. Lochhead told about seeing the men cross the street and also of the dying man's declaration. Drs. Sutherland and Doane told of the wound and of the identification by the dying man of his assailant. J. H. Blakeney and F. G. Connelly testified as to the arrest of Harry, the defendant. At 1:50 the state rested, and the defendants, called Lee Jock and Dock Sing, whose testimony was contradictory of Mr. Maloney's. F. W. L. Skibbe was upon the stand as the reporter left the courtroom. In all probability the case will go to the jury this evening.

The lecture of Prof. Riddell at the Methodist church last evening was very largely attended. The audience was much pleased with the lecturer and his theme and listened with close attention to all that was said. The subject of the evening was "Blunders" and the speaker handled it in a novel and forcible manner. There's no question but what Prof. Riddell is an unusually good speaker and those who did not hear him last night missed something they would have enjoyed.

Lee Chu, a Chinaman who has lived in The Dalles for eighteen years, started this afternoon for China, intending to bid farewell to the shores of America forever. In talking to a group of men just before the train left, Lee Chu said he had worked hard ever since he had been here, but had been unable to make any money, and so when a letter came from his mother in China asking him to come home, he was willing to go. He refused to take out a certificate, as he had determined to stay in the Flowery Kingdom as long as life and the Japs would let him.

One week from next Wednesday evening the Home Dramatic Club will appear at the Baldwin theater in the laughable comedy "A Night Off." The members have been practicing assiduously for nearly a month and have thoroughly mastered the intricacies of the play. The performance will be given for one of the charitable organizations of the city and for this reason as well as a desire to see the members of the club in this style of a piece, the opera house will doubtless be well filled.

One of the old time residents of The Dalles, Mr. James M. Smith, now of Seattle, has been a visitor to the city this week. Mr. Smith is well-known to the residents of The Dalles who were here ten years ago. Along in the early '70s Mr. Smith was appointed master mechanic at The Dalles railroad shops, at that time under the ownership of the Oregon Steam Navigation Company. He held that position for over ten years, leaving the company's employ just before the O. S. N. Co. was merged into the O. R. & N. Mr. Smith afterwards was engaged in the milling business here till a few years ago, when he moved his family to Seattle.

The announcement that the celebrated Chase Stock Company would visit this city, is received with delight by our theater goers. They will open their engagement at the Baldwin theater on Monday, Dec. 21. They will open in "Uncle's Darling," a most sensational drama in four acts, a play which cannot fail to please all tastes. It was written by Charles W. Chase, author of "Little Coquette," "Miss Bloomer," "Fabio Romani," etc. It possesses a strong plot, charmingly developed and is cleverly written. In "Uncle's Darling" there are many thrilling scenes; the lighthouse, the wreck and rescue, the arctic storm and the wonderful flashing aurora borealis, etc., will delight the lovers of realism on the stage. Hattie Bernard Chase, who heads the company, is a most charming and versatile actress. While one of the saniciest, gayest of soubrettes, she is equally at home in "Juliet," "Calanthe" in
