BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Tonight "Pearl of Savoy" At the Baldwin.
The Denton trial is now in progress.
The Commercial Club is not a luxury; it is a necessity.
The weather forecast for tomorrow is fair and stationary.
M. J. Hensel, the merchant at Lyle Landing, is in the city.
Notice the large advertisement of A. M. Williams & Co. on the front page. They are selling shoes at great bargains.
John C. Hertz has just received a fine line of neckties. The very latest. Look at his show window and you will see the fashionable styles.
The Knights of Pythias will give a social and entertainment in their hall next Monday evening. All visiting members invited.
Pease & Mays announce that Monday will be marking day in their establishment, and as a consequence the large store will be closed.
Twelve cars of horses from Umatilla went through this morning. They were bound for Linnton, where they will be made into fertilizer.
Just received at the Wasco Warehouse a carload of "Byers Best" Pendleton flour. This flour has no superior on the Pacific coast. Try it. d7-tf
To the list of witnesses, who testified for the defense in the Lewis trial should be added the names of T. G. Condon, G. H. Dunn and Boyd Ashby, residents of Antelope.
The matinee of the Chase Stock Company was largely attended this afternoon. The play given was "M'liss" which was put on in a very satisfactory manner.
The subject for the morning discourse at the Christian church will be "One of Life's Battles." In the evening the pastor will preach upon the theme "Coming Out of the Dark Ages."
Don't forget the meeting tonight at the council chambers. The "Commercial Club" will be set going in a manner which will show that The Dalles is just as lively as any town to be found in the Northwest.
After being out an hour and fifteen minutes the jury in the case of the State vs. Tom Lewis charged with setting fire to the hay belonging to Phillip Brogan, brought in a verdict of guilty. The verdict was returned much sooner than had been anticipated, as it was thought the jury would be out several hours. Lewis made no comment at the outcome of the case.

It is expected by the management of the D. P. & A. N. Co. that today will be the last trip of the Sarah Dixon on the Portland-Cascades route. The Dalles City will probably resume her customary run Monday.

The pastor, Rev. O. D. Taylor, will conduct the regular service at the First Baptist church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. For the next few Sundays Pastor Taylor's sermons will have reference to the present labor and financial conditions. There will be no evening service.

Six cars of flour from Rockford, Washington, passed through town this morning for Portland, where the flour will be loaded aboard the Mount Lebanon and taken to China. The establishing of the O. R. & N. line of steamers has done a great deal to develop trade between the Northwest and the orient. We would like to see The Dalles mills well represented in the flour shipments to China.

The Congregational church, corner Court and Fifth streets—Sunday services as usual. At 11 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m., worship, and a sermon by the pastor, W. C. Curtis. Sunday school immediately after the morning service. Meeting of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m.; topic, God's triumph in the mission field; Ps lxxvii:1-7. All persons not worshipping elsewhere are cordially invited.

The bazaar to be held next Friday and Saturday evenings will be something well worth attending. For a lengthy period the ladies of the Congregational church have been laboring hard preparing the articles of fancy work, etc., for the different booths. The program arranged for both nights is very attractive and contains some of the best musical and literary ability to be found in town. A nominal admission fee of ten cents will be charged. The features of the bazaar will be very unique and entertaining.

Bad news was received in a private letter this morning from Mitchell. It is stated that 600 sheep belonging to Mr. Conroy have been poisoned and are dead and more are dying. It is possible the whole band of 2300 will perish. Some one with a heart in him like a devil has done the deed, having no clue or trace of the perpetrator. It is likely that the same hands laid the poison for the sheep that set fire to the hay of Mr. Conroy a few weeks since. Stock owners in the Mitchell region are becoming thoroughly alarmed and if this sort of thing keeps up and no one is caught at it, many sheep owners will be compelled to go out of business. Mr. Conroy, who is a new comer to the Mitchell country, has suffered greatly from some one's devilishness and should the offender be apprehended there is liable to be no necessity to trouble a court of justice with trying the man.

The Commercial Club.

With the men that are at the head of the movement for the organization that shall combine the merits of a Commercial, Athletic and Social Club, the project could be nothing else but successful. The hearty reception with which the proposal is met shows that the desire for the club has long been dormant in the hearts of our citizens and all that was needed was for some one to take the lead. Yesterday the gentlemen who were chosen as trustees spent a portion of the day securing members and the result exceeded the hopes of the most sanguine. Bankers, merchants, capitalists, doctors, lawyers, young men and old men were eager to sign the lists and promise aid in every possible way for the enterprise. The committee have been unceasing in their efforts to place the club on a firm basis. Mr. Vogt has consented to erect a building which in every way will be suitable for the purposes of the club. While the committee has made no definite arrangements, it is more than likely Mr. Vogt's proposal will be accepted. Till this building could be erected the club will occupy temporary quarters somewhere. The enthusiasm which has been shown over the formation of the club is remarkable. It is to be hoped it is of the kind which will continue. A prominent capitalist stated in the hearing of the writer that he would rather give $50 than see the project fall through. Tonight all those who have expressed a willingness to become members are requested to be present at the council chambers, when the organization will be completed. Let every business and professional man be present and by his counsel, aid in starting the enterprise aright. Of its value to the town there is no question. It will be a nucleus around which the citizens may rally and a means of causing other institutions to come, which will benefit our growing city. Following is a complete list of those who have promised to join the club:

At the Baldwin Theater.

The largest house of the week greeted the Chase Stock Company at the Baldwin last night. The reserve seats were generally taken all over the house, while in the rear of the theater many people were standing up. The piece put on was "American Born," a strong drama of American life. The plot was one of the most serious which the company has attempted, but the acting last night showed that the members of the Chase troupe excelled in other lines than comedy. The first act was a scene in New York, in which the villain first makes his appearance. In the second act the scene is transferred to Bolivia, and the third and fourth acts were in Bolivia. The different characters were well sustained, and the actors recited their lines in a manner that showed they were perfectly at home in them. The music of the Orchestra Union was up to its usual high standard. Tonight will be presented the popular "Pearl of Savoy."

Lee Git Sentenced.

"For the term of your natural life" were the closing words of Lee Git's sentence this morning. When the convicted Chinaman was brought into court and asked if he had anything to say he shook his head, and in a few words Judge Bradshaw sentenced him to the penitentiary for life. Sheriff Driver will take the prisoner to Salem tomorrow. When Lee Git was taken back to the Sheriff's office, he announced that he had only one request to make and that was that he be given a drink of whiskey. One of the county officials standing near said: "Let him have it, for he will find it a long time between drinks." Lee Ching, who was convicted of manslaughter, will be sentenced Tuesday.
