The railroad is beginning to carry large amounts of wheat from the interior to the seaboard. The wheat movement has been unusually delayed because of the producers holding for a higher price, but the prospect of bad weather has caused the farmers to begin to get rid of their surplus. Several extra trains passed through The Dalles yesterday loaded with wheat from the upper country, while nearly a train load leaves this place every day. Business on the railroad will be livelier from now till the wheat shipments are over and the railroad boys will draw larger checks on pay day.

The Denton case will go to the jury today. The state rested at 11:15, and at 2 o'clock all the evidence for the defense was in. The closing arguments are being made as we go to press.

Last evening about 5:30 persons on the street noticed a bright light in the direction of Dry Hollow. It could be told that some house or barn was afire, but just where was not learned till this morning. The scene of the conflagration was about three miles from town, where a house belonging to Marshall Hill was burned. The building was occupied by a family named Walker, new comers to Wasco county from the Willamette valley. The origin of the fire is a mystery, as when the family left home at noon to do some visiting, everything was all right and the fire did not occur till several hours later. The loss to the Walkers is complete, as everything they had was burned. All their furniture, clothing, bedding, etc., was destroyed, so the family is without shelter or suitable provision for the winter.

More About the Elks.

The Elks at the Cascades have decided to give a very elaborate entertainment to their friends on New Year's eve, Dec. 31st. The program will be as varied as ingenuity can make it, consisting of a musical entertainment, olio of music and specialties—living pictures—a social session, with slight variation from the regular social session of the lodge. The evening program will conclude with dancing. The entertainment will be for the Elks and their invited guests, and as Mr. I. N. Day has promised to make the social session and its attendant features something good, the event will prove a most enjoyable one. A cordial invitation has been sent to The Dalles Elks to be present and participate in the festivities.

In Honor of Mrs. Patterson.

Mrs. Gertrude Lowndsale, of Salem, gave a dinner Friday evening in honor of her sister and guest, Mrs. J. M. Patterson, of The Dalles. The spread was a triumph of the caterer's art. Eight covers were laid, and favors were awarded, in the way of a celluloid package of bonbons or other novelty, with each. Those present were: Mrs. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Moores, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Hodkin, Miss Nora Chamberlain, Mrs. Lowndsale.—Oregonian.

An Enthusiastic Meeting.

The council chamber was filled Saturday with an enthusiastic assemblage which had gathered to complete the organization of a club whose objects just at present are better known than its name. The meeting was called to order by the president, J. S. Schenck, and the results of the trustees' labors were announced. Propositions concerning a building were received from the Michaelbach estate and from The Dalles Lumbering Company. After much discussion it was decided that the second story of the building occupied by the Lumbering Company should be leased under a temporary arrangement and fitted up to suit the purposes of the club.

When it came to selecting a name for the organization an amusing debate was carried on between some of the members. Three names were proposed—"Commercial," "Quinette" and "Dalwasco," the latter being a combination made from the first three letters of the words Dalles, Wasco and Oregon. As the matter of choosing a name was considered to be a very important one, it was finally decided to postpone further action upon the subject till Tuesday evening, until which time the meeting adjourned.

The attendance was very satisfactory, the number of business men represented being very large. Much interest and enthusiasm was shown throughout all the proceedings, and it can be safely said that the establishment of the club upon a basis that will prove successful is assured. During the interval till Tuesday night it is expected that the bright minds of the club will be busy evolving a name that will prove pleasing to everyone. As soon as this matter is decided upon the articles of incorporation will be forwarded to Salem, and it is expected that work will immediately be begun upon the fitting up of the club's quarters.

A Pleasant Occasion.

Mrs. S. L. Brooks entertained the members of her Sunday school class last Saturday at her hospitable home. The afternoon was spent in playing games, after which a bounteous luncheon was served and each one received a handsome memento for the occasion. Mrs. Brooks' class is one of the largest in the Congregational Sunday school, and the different members take a great interest in the instruction of their teacher. The class is composed of the following members: Susie Chase, Emily Crossen, Helen Hudson, Jessie Gibbons, Pearl Ward, Hannah Schwabe, Hannah Krause, Lulu Rowe, Martha Baldwin, Mable Allen, Bessie Supes, Lucile Crate, Katie Barrell, Katie Phelps, Bertha Keller, Dora Nielson, Addie Payne, Lena Zimmermann, Eva Bagley. All were present but two, and these were reported by two of the members.

At the Churches Yesterday.

Rev. W. C. Curtis preached to a large audience at the Congregational church yesterday morning. While the speaker did not announce any text the discourse was upon the theme "The Power of God Unto Salvation." The cross was a stumbling block unto the Jews and a piece of foolishness to the Greeks. The old Jewish religion while containing many good things was lacking in the one essential to supply which Christ was sent into the world. The God of the Hebrews was a God of authority, reverence and law more than of love. The test of a business man is the interest and devotion which he puts into his work while the ardor with which a student pursues the subject of his investigation shows his love for it. The same test shows whether or not the Christian is devoted heart and soul to the belief he has declared. The sermon was an able one and listened to with great interest by all who heard it. The singing by the choir was very fine.

The attendance at the other churches morning and evening is reported very good. In the afternoon Prof. Riddell delivered a free lecture at the Methodist church which was largely attended.

Merry Marriage Balls.

At half past eleven this morning Balfe DeVoro Johnson and Grace Elizabeth Michell were united in marriage. The ceremony, which took place at the residence of Mr. S. L. Young, was performed by Rev. Wm. Michell, the uncle of the bride. The house was beautifully decorated with evergreens and white chrysanthemums, making a very pleasing effect. The ceremony was simple, but lost nothing in impressiveness. At its conclusion the happy couple and the invited guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding lunch, where over and over again expressions of good will and best wishes for the bride and groom were made. Only immediate relatives of the bride were present.

Both the young people are well known in The Dalles, where for many years they have lived and enjoyed the friendship of a large circle of acquaintances. Mr. Johnson is a son of Hon. W. C. Johnson of Oregon City, one of the best known men in the state, and came to The Dalles as a student in the Wasco Independent Academy. Later he attended Leland Stanford, Jr., University, and returning to The Dalles, accepted a position in the Western Union Telegraph office here, where he continued till he was promoted to the management of the office in Astoria, a position of trust and much responsibility. He is a bright, popular young man, with excellent prospects for further advancement.

Miss Michell, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Michell of Columbus, has lived the most of her life in this city, where she is known and liked for her many excellent qualities. Her departure from The Dalles will cause much regret, but the good wishes of all who know her will follow her. Many of her friends assembled at the depot to bid her good bye.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left on the local train for their bridal tour, after which they will be "at home" in Astoria.
