BRIEF MENTION.

Leaves From the Notebook of Chronicle Reporters.

Pease & Mays announce a change in their ad. for tomorrow.

Mr. H. H. Riddell went to Portland today on legal business.

Remember Col. Jackson's lecture at the Congregational church tomorrow evening.

The foundation of the new house of F. H. Rowe is completed and ready for the wood work to be begun.

The timber work for the Washington street approach to the new Regulator warehouse is completed. The flooring is yet to be laid.

The work of demolishing in the armory began at an early hour this morning, and by noon the contrast from its recent appearance was very severe.

Weather permitting, the Regulator will continue running until December 31st, when the boat will be tied up for a few weeks and undergo necessary repairs.

Conductor Glendening, who usually has the local train is taking Conductor Mitchell's passenger run temporarily, the former's place being filled by Mr. Graham.

Editor Armsworthy, of the Wasco News, went to Salem to visit the penitentiary, and as he hasn't returned, his friends are becoming anxious lest a mistake has been made.

Eleven cars of horses passed through The Dalles this morning bound for Linton. They were shipped from Umatilla, and it is said, will be the last shipment of the season.

There will be a grand exhibition give by Prof. Frazier, and pupils at Dufur, Dec. 28th, 1895, at the Odd Fellows hall. All are cordially invited. Admission 25 cts, children 15 cts.

The ground had a wintry aspect this morning. A heavy frost during the night left its mark. During the forenoon snow began to fall, and soon the ground was covered with a mantle of white.

Mrs. George W. Rowland received word today of the death of her brother John M. Taylor at Coronado Beach, Dec. 2. Mr. Taylor was a native of Illinois and aged 45 years. He was a brother also of Mr. Frank Taylor of The Dalles and is known to many residents here.

The young ladies of the M. E. church will serve supper New Year's night in the old Chronicle building. A good program is being prepared, and everything will be arranged for a good time in general. An admission of 25 cents will be charged, with supper included.

The friends of Herman Heppner will be glad to know that an improvement is noticeable in his condition. The doctor thinks the crisis is past, though there is always danger of a relapse. Mr. Heppner has been very sick from typhoid fever, and at several times his life was despaired of.

The lecture by Col. Jackson of the U. S. A. tomorrow evening at the Congregational church will be sure to interest all who attend. Those who heard Col. Jackson address the members of the militia at their annual inspection some time since, will know he is an interesting speaker. The subject is one that suits the man.

Francis Schlatter, New Mexico is a name that appears upon the Umatilla House register today. When the newspaper men discovered the fact there was a hurrying to get an interview with the "divine healer" of Colorado, but inquiry revealed no one who could give any information regarding the distinguished personage and the truth being revealed showed it was one of Judd Fish's joshes.

Invitations have just been issued for the grand military fete, to be given Christmas night by the officers of the Third Regiment, O. N. G. This, without a doubt, will be one of the grandest events in this line, ever held in this city. Announcement of the program, which is to be interspersed between dances, will be made later. The promenade concert will be something fine, indeed.

Business was good in the county clerk's office today. A deed was filed from Franklin Irvine to L. M. Irvine, conveying lot J in block 2, Fort Dalles military reservation. Another from E. M. Hopkins to O. R. & N. Co., conveying certain property near Hood River for $25. A deed from W. L. Ward and Henry Ward to W. N. Kelly was recorded, conveying the e h f of nw qr, sec 16, tp 2 s, r 11 e of w m, comprising 80 acres.

Last Saturday the city officers arrested a man suspected of being implicated in the robbery of W. Bolton & Co.'s store at Antelope. Investigation developed that the wrong man had been apprehended, and consequently he was discharged. In narrating his experience to one of the railroad boys, the man said: "I have been taken for a sucker many times, but this is the first time I have even been thought smart enough to be a sharper." He left for the East last night.

Who Wants Money?
 All county warrants registered prior to Mar. 1st, 1892, will be paid if presented at my office, corner 3d and Washington streets, The Dalles, Or. Interest ceases after Nov. 14, 1895.
 Wm. MICHELL,
 County Treasurer.

Stubling & Williams announce that they have opened a wholesale and retail liquor house in the building formerly occupied by J. O. Mack.

The End of the Bazaar.
 If possible, the bazaar Saturday night was more of a success than on Friday evening. The attendance was very large, and the same spirit of enjoyment was everywhere present. The program was well carried out. The first number, a duet by Miss Elizabeth Fitzgerald and Miss Alma Schanno, was played in good time and expression. Mrs. Truman Butler again demonstrated her ability as a pianist by a well-rendered selection. The song by a quartette, consisting of Mrs. Huntington, Mrs. Price, Mr. Orndall and Dr. Doane, was very pleasing. Mrs. Price delighted the audience with a solo, for which she was heartily encouraged. One of the prettiest numbers of the evening was a tableau representing Santa Claus and his satellites. Mr. Charles Clark made a capital Santa Claus. The tableau effects were very pretty.

The greatest interest of the evening was centered around the booth where the voting for the most popular young lady was being held. The contest was a very lively one, and the friends of each of the contestants were active in raising campaign funds. A coup d'etat near the close of the contest won the day. When the votes were counted Miss Clara Davis was found to have the most votes, and so she received the honor and the lamp. The contest was very friendly, and netted over $40 to the church.

The bazaar was a success financially and socially. The receipts have not yet been figured up, but they will be in the neighborhood of $300. The admissions alone came to $76. Over $100 was cleared at the voting and ice cream booths, while the flower stand brought in $35 and the candy booth $17. The others were unable to learn.

The ladies of the church feel greatly pleased over the success of the bazaar, and now that it is over, do not mind the time and trouble they have spent in preparation. They wish to thank the many friends who have so kindly assisted in every possible way. The spirit of friendliness that has been shown by those who are not connected with the church, has been very greatly appreciated, and their kindness will not be forgotten. To the loyal band of workers who have borne the brunt of the toil and responsibility, the result will be recompense enough.

Latest About the Robbery.
 Further details concerning the robbery at Antelope are received in a letter to a gentleman in The Dalles. The robbers opened the front door of the building with an iron bar. Some of the tools used came from Peter's shop. Both tills were broken open and the nickels were all taken. The knob on the safe was twisted off with a large wrench and the safe blown open. The money taken belonged to different parties—The Ladies Aid Society of Antelope, losing over $60. This loss is exceptionally unfortunate, as the ladies had worked hard to acquire this sum and intended applying it to charitable uses in the near future. Several private deposits were also included in the amount taken. Some notes, bills and warrants were also in the safe, but were untouched. The latest information says there is, as yet, no clue to the perpetrators of the deed.

Court Notes.
 Judge Bradshaw re-convened court today and transacted routine business. There was nothing done except to grant some confirmations and continue cases till next term. Following is a resume of the day's business:
 Elizabeth Wilson vs H P C Crockett; confirmation granted.
 Seufert-Condon Tel Co vs O T T Co; motion to dissolve injunction not allowed.
 Annie Grant Frasier vs Allen Grant; referred to D H Roberts for testimony.
 Friendship Lodge, K of P, vs S G Campbell; continued.
 Phil Brogan vs C W Murphy; settled.
 Florence Glenn vs J D Glenn; decree of divorce granted.
 Solicitors Loan & Trust Co vs S R Brooks; passed.
 W A Douglas vs F P Taylor; passed.

Stevenson, the new town situated opposite the Cascade Locks, is making steady improvements. Last spring the citizens at that place built a new dock at which the Regulator should land. The dock proved to be all right except at a low stage of water, when the boat was unable to land conveniently. A meeting of citizens has been called for December 19th, for the purpose of raising funds and securing pledges of work to carry the dock out to deeper water, so that the Regulator can use it for a landing place at all stages. When the dock was built it was thought it would do for a long while, but the extreme low water has taught differently. Plans are arranged for securing the requisite money and the citizens of the town and vicinity will contribute work. Although but young in years, Stevenson is the county seat of Skamania county and is the outlet for a rich country, though unsettled as yet.
