Immense bargains in ladies' and misses' cloaks and dress goods. Trimmed hats, hat ornaments and ribbons at half price. M. Honeywill.

John Crate, who started for Trout Lake to get some cattle, was compelled to return, as the snow was so deep that it was impossible to reach the desired destination.

The snow is so deep at the Locks that all out door work has been suspended and the contractors are taking precautions to keep the engines and machinery from being damaged.

Parties in from Bakeoven say it is raining in that locality. A chinook seems to have swept south of here and the results of the storm are confined to the region near the river.

A land slide was reported last night at Shell Rock, but it proved to be a mistake. The snow plow found nothing on the track but huge banks of snow, through which it easily cut its way.

The Orchestra Union have been practicing some new selections, which they will play at the Gesang Verein dance tomorrow evening. No one could wish for better music than that furnished by the Orchestra Union. It is a delight to dance to it.

The tickets for the drawing of the picture painted by Mrs. John Filloon, now on exhibition at the Snipes-Kinersly drug store have been sold, and the drawing will take place tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the drug store. Holders of tickets are requested to be present.

The citizens of The Dalles have organized a commercial and athletic club. A club of this kind will be a great help to The Dalles, as it will bring her business men together, and the young members (of which there are a good many) will have a good place to spend their evenings.—Wasco News.

A wood war is on in The Dalles, which promises to be a brisk one. Through competition of local dealers, the price of wood has been reduced to a lower figure than for previous winters, and for this the consumer is glad. An unusual large amount of wood has been brought up the river during the fall and the beach is covered now with a good supply.

Preaching services will be held in the Lutheran church next Sunday evening under the auspices of the United Brethren Society. This is the first move towards establishing a church of that denomination in The Dalles. Rev. Mr. Meeker will preach a sermon. Arrangements have been made with the Lutherans so that the church will be occupied at some hour every Sunday by the United Brethren.

Marshal Blakeney gives notice to those people who have not cleared off their sidewalks to do so without further delay. The ordinance provides that the sidewalks shall be cleaned within ten hours from the time of the fall and a penalty is attached to meet this requirement. So in order to save trouble and costs, the sidewalks had better be cleaned. Pedestrians have a way of judging people by the way they clean their sidewalks.

Mr. F. H. Rowe, who came up from Collins Landing last evening, says the flume at that place is in operation and a large amount of lumber is being floated to the river. When asked as to when he would begin work on his planing mill and other projected industries in The Dalles, Mr. Rowe said next spring would see them started. The lumber for his new house on the bluff will be here in a short time. Mr. Rowe has extensive interests at Lyle Landing and at Collins, and intends making The Dalles his headquarters. He returned down the river this morning.

The board of school directors has decided to make pay day earlier than usual and instead of receiving their salaries on the first Monday in January, the teachers will receive them today. School Clerk Jacobsen has been busy making out the warrants and has them ready for the teachers. The amount figures up to over $1000, so quite an amount of money will be added the fund in circulation for the holidays, as school teachers like to buy presents as does every other well-ordered person. There are fifteen teachers employed in The Dalles public schools. This act of the school board is a considerate one and should be imitated by employers wherever possible.

The country has reason to rejoice at the bountiful fall of snow which it has received. Before it fell the ground had not frozen, and so when the snow methe ground will get a good moistening and be in splendid condition for plowing in the early spring. The late fall or winter plowing has been interfered with, but the result will prove good. Reports from the stockmen go to show that they all have feed to stand a good siege, and the winter loss will not be more than the average. Stock raising is conducted on a different plan in this country than in former years, and the close of each fall sees the stockmen well provided with winter feed. A freeze without the snow would have been unwelcome, but as it is, everyone, except the chronic grumbler, is satisfied.

The snow-plow arrived from Portland at 1:10 this morning, and fifteen minutes later the passenger train rolled into town. No great difficulty was experienced by the snow-plow from Portland to The Dalles, though three large drifts were encountered. The freight train which left here yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, was at Hood River at 2 this morning, having spent the most of the interim in a drift between Mosier and Hood River, where it was rescued by the rotary. The work-trains between here and Portland have been abandoned for the winter, as any further improvement to the roadway is impossible till spring. A few freight trains will be run today, but the railroad officials intend that the track shall be kept cleared for passenger traffic. Very little inconvenience to the traveling public has been caused thus far by the snow.

A Pleasant Event.

The following communication was received too late for publication yesterday and is printed today:

THE DALLES, Ore., Dec. 18, 1895.
DEAR SISTERS AND BROTHERS:—Columbia chapter, No. 33, O. E. S. of The Dalles, Oregon, held their annual election in Masonic hall Tuesday, Dec. 17, and elected the following officers.
Mrs. Mary Scott Myers, Worthy Matron; Mr. J. B. Crossen, Worthy Patron; Mrs. Ella Garretson, Associate Matron; Mrs. Emilie Sanders, Conductress; Mrs. Mary Bigge, Associate Conductress; Mrs. Sallie Clark, Treasurer; Miss Lena E. Snell, Secretary.

We have a membership of fifty and feel that this chapter is on the high road to prosperity. The members are very much enthused over the work, and are particularly anxious to have everything done to the letter. Brother H. A. Baker, our present Worthy Patron, and Sister Cora Miller, both have been untiring in their efforts for the upbuilding of our chapter, and we feel very sorry that they can be with us no longer.

They have moved this week to Portland, where they will reside. A banquet was given in their honor, and while all were present at the table, our Worthy Matron presented to Mr. Baker and Mrs. Miller each a golden souvenir spoon, in behalf of the chapter, as a token of respect and affection. It was after 11 o'clock when all dispersed to their homes, feeling that a pleasant evening had been profitably spent.

Respectfully,
L. E. S., Sec.

August Buchler has come into possession of an elk's head and antlers, which cause much admiration from a beholders. They are undoubtedly as fine a specimen as most of the people ever see. Mr. Buchler secured them from an Indian several days ago, who was loath to part with them and only did so because the "epandulics" were a necessity, and the head and antlers but a luxury. The Indian said he killed the elk a few miles south of Mt. Hood and that the event was of recent date, can be seen by the appearance of the trophy. Pieces of the flesh clinging to the skin show that the animal is but a short while dead. The head and antlers have caused a desire among the members of the Elk order to obtain them and it is probable that they will secure the prize and have it sent to a Portland taxidermist for mounting. Mr. Buchler has received several tempting offers for his acquisition. Elk, of this description, are not so common in this region but that so fine a specimen is a thing of curiosity.
