The officers of the steamer Dalles City have been sending Christmas presents to The Dalles. The CHRONICLE was remembered with one, which will be used the next time any of the force goes to Portland.

The Masonic lodge held installation services last evening. The officers elect some time ago were installed and Dr.
Doane and M. Z. Donnell appointed senior and junior deacons. Thomas Haslam and Frank Chrisman were appointed stewards.

The portiers are being hung today in the social rooms of the commercial and athletic club. The furniture is expected to arrive on the Regulator tonight, and the carpets will be put down Monday. New Years day will see the club rooms thronged with members.

This morning the people along Second street were treated to a runaway. A horse had been hitched to a post in front of Willig's tailor shop, and becoming frightened, started to run. He took the post with him, and while going up the street the post struck a team and started it to running. The latter did not go very far, and soon the horse with the post was stopped without much damage being done.

It was thought that the epidemic of weddings had ceased, but another one will occur on New Years. At 10 o'clock Wednesday morning Mr. James C.
Benson and Miss Fannie Wilkerson will be united in marriage at the residence of J. M. Benson on 5-Mile. Both the contracting parties are well known in the vicinity.

The Columbia Hose company held a meeting in the council chambers last evening, at which the matter of changing the place of holding the dance from the Baldwin opera house to the armory was discussed. After an extended debate it was decided to hold the hall in the place originally decided upon, and so the event will occur in the Baldwin.

Mamie S., the celebrated running mare was sold at sheriff's sale today, Deputy W. H. Butts doing the auctioneering. One hundred dollars was the first offer, the bids running up to $150, at which figure the mare was sold to Frank Gable. The price is a low one, for Mamie S. is a good animal. Sheriff Driver purchased her colt for $87.50.

ing of the Young Peoples Society of The Chinaman, Gow Chow, who was charged with stealing some pants from H. Herbring's store, had his examination yesterday before Justice Davis.

Mr. Phelps appeared for the state and W. H. Wilson represented the defendant. No evidence was introduced in behalf of the Chinaman, so the justice bound him over to the grand jury in bail to the amount of $150. As money is scarce in Chinatown, Gow Chow went to the county jail, where he will spend his time in meditation till the grand jury meets.

THE CHRONICLE was shown the plans according to which the bowling alley, billiard rooms and gymnasium will be arranged. The rooms will be situated very conveniently, the bath room leading from the gymnasium, so that after exercising a bath can be easily obtained.
The elevator, which at present is in the building, will be removed, thus giving more room and light. The halls and passage ways are so arranged that each room can be reached without passing through any of the others. Mr. M. A.
Moody, who is the agent for the building, has acceded to every wish of the trustees, and worked with them for the interest of the club.

Many Improvements.

Some of the improvements worthy of note, which this year has brought to The Dalles, can be seen on the bluff near the head of Madison street, where several new houses have been built and others renovated. A CHRONICLE reporter happened up that way today and noticed some items of interest. The new cottage built by Mrs. Bolton is nearing completion and will make a very pretty residence. The design is one of the most modern, both inside and outside, and the materials and workmanship are of first-class quality. Next to Mrs. Bolton's new residence, one of the older houses has been renovated till it has an appearance of newness that is in keeping with its neighbor. The greatest improvement is that done by Mr. James Snipes. Where formerly was the bed of a lake, filled with water in winter and dry in summer, now stands the handsome new home of Mr. Snipes. The house is a modern two-story one, which can be seen from different parts of town and which itself commands a magnificent view. Inside it is handsomely finished and contains the most modern appliances for housekeeping. Mr.
Snipes' cellar is blasted out of solid rock, a way of building cellars that is not very common. A commodious barn adds to the appearance of the property. The streets on the side and in front of Mr.
Snipes' residence have been filled in and leveled, while many loads of rock and dirt were necessary to cause the old lake to disappear. From this site a most beautiful view can be obtained in all directions. It is such improvements as this of Mr. Snipes which add much to the worth and appearance of the town.
Several other new houses were noticed in this immediate locality, among them being the residences of Mr. Mann and Mr. Barzee, which are finished and that of Mr. Rowe now in process of construction.

Last night the armory was again the scene of life and merriment. The occasion was the regular quarterly inspection of Co. G and the hospital corps. The boys turned out in full force and were given a thorough inspection by Colonel Thompson and staff, who found everything in good condition. At the close of the review discipline gave way to enjoyment, and the boys were invited to partake of a "smoker" tendered them by the regimental and company officers.
Coffee, sandwiches, corn cob pipes and tobacco were provided in abundance and the members of the National Guard showed that they knew a good thing when they saw it. After some informalities of entertainment, some of those present feeling the stimulus of the coffee and sandwiches proceeded to make speeches, which were greatly enjoyed by the listeners. Col. Thompson, Lieut.- Col. Patterson, Major Booth and Lieut.
Riddell made neat speeches, as did others who were present, among them Dr. Dietrich, who spoke for the hospital corps. The occasion was a very pleasant one, and the wish was a common one, that the entertainment last night was but a forerunner of others to follow.

Death of Olivia Rowland.

The sad intelligence was conveyed last night of the death of Miss Olivia Rowland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
George W. Rowland. For nearly a month the young lady has been suffering from a complication of troubles, which about two weeks ago took a very serious turn. A consultation of physicians revealed the fact that medical aid could do nothing to save the sufferer's life, and steadily she grew worse, till last night at 8:30 the end came. Although death was not unexpected, the news caused a shock throughout the town and cast a gloom over the large group of friends which Olivia Rowland could call her own. The event is distressing to those who have known the dead girl from babyhood and seen her grow into a noble woman.

She was a few months passed 22 years old, and was born in this city, where the years of her life were spent. Her disposition was of a kind that drew to her as friends those who came in contact with her, and there will be genuine sorrow among the young people over the loss of a sweet companion.

The family will have the sincere sympathy of everyone in their deep affliction.

About twenty young ladies, members of Mr. Wm. Mitchell's Sunday school class, were entertained at his home, on Fourth street, last night, and a merry time was spent, the early part of the evening being passed in playing "Logoumchey," or the war of words. Miss Nettie Fredlen was successful in obtaining the highest number of words. Mrs.
Mitchell then served lunch, after which target shooting, charades, singing and other amusements were enjoyed until at a late hour reluctantly the guests bade their teacher and his family good night.
The members of the class present were:
Martha Wheelodon, Constance Wheel-odon, Mabel Cross, Vesta and Effie Bolton, Jessie and Carrie Butler, May Barnett, Eda Fisher, Nettie Fredlen, Jennie Young, Nellie Fox, Hilda Beck and Julia and Clara Nickel. Edith Randall, Lola Eubank and Lizzie Schooling, former members of the class, and Miss L. L. Rich also participated in the evening's pleasure.
