COST OF ENGLAND'S WAR.

Says the Walla Walla Statesman: In the wars of the present and of the previous century England has expended $5,000,000,000. Almost incessantly since 1700 England has been prosecuting war and paying the cost of it, either in alliance with other European nations or against barbarous or semi-civilized nations singly hanted.

The first of the wars in which England engaged in the eighteenth century was against the French, England having as its allies Holland, Prussia, Hanover and Portugal. It culminated in the treaty of Utrecht in 1713, after an expenditure (relatively much larger in those days) of $900,000,000.

The English war against the Canadian colonists, who were favorable to the French, but who were without adequate resources to withstand the power of the English, followed, at a cost of $300,000,000, and then followed the war against the American patriot colonists south of the Canadian border line—the Revolutionary war. The cost to England of the Revolutionary war is given in the official figures of the English war office at $600,000,000.

The closing years of the eighteenth century and the early years of the nineteenth were years of strife and war in which England took an active part, but never single handed. Her first alliance war with Russia, Prussia, Sardinia, Portugal, Italy, and the minor German states against France. That was in 1793. The next alliance, six years later, included the same countries, with Turkey, Naples, the Barbary states and Austria in addition as allies of England. The combination of European nations, of which England was a part in 1805, included England, Russia, Austria, Sweden and Naples. In 1809 England and Austria combined against France, and in 1813 all the great powers of Europe and most of the minor ones, combined against Napoleon in what was known afterwards as 'the seventh coalition.'

While these wars were in progress in Europe, England carried on other wars, particularly against the United States (the war of 1812), and in India, and during this period, beginning in 1793 and closing in 1815, the total sum expended by England for war and naval purposes was $4,000,000,000. Such was the debt of England at the close of the last war with the United States, but it has been greatly reduced since. The Crimean war, in which England engaged against Russia, with France, Turkey and Sardinia as its allies, cost England $350,000,000, and subsequent wars and encounters in India, in Southern Africa, where the Boers proved a sturdy foe, in Egypt and elsewhere have entailed considerable cost upon the English treasury, but very much less than the expense of fighting with civilized soldiers in well-equipped armies. The present debt of England, exclusive of the debt of English dependencies, which is $2,000,000,000, is $3,300,000,000.

The end of the century is bristling with questions for settlement. Although complications elsewhere have given Turkey a breathing spell, her dissolution is inevitable. The English, involved with Venezuela and courting trouble in Africa, are raising momentous issues. The Alaska boundary is unsettled, and is no mean affair. The end of the Japanese-Chinese war has not been reached, and various difficulties may arise over the division of the spoils. Besides these there are minor troubles, which are shadowed by greater complications. There is plenty to interest the student of affairs, and the geographies of the next decade will contain some radical changes.

Judge Morrow, in the United States court at San Francisco, has decided that every person born in this country is a citizen of the United States. The question is one that long has been in controversy, and which is not settled by this decision, as the collector of the port will appeal to the United States supreme court. With Indians and Chinese as citizens, the politician has new material to work upon.

The United States is not without friends in Europe. It is said Russia has offered to lend this country $400,000,000 as a token of friendship. It is hardly possible that such an offer will be made to England by any independent nation.

Degree of Honor Installation.

On Wednesday evening the following officers were duly installed for the ensuing term:

Mrs Maggie Herrin, past chief of honor; Mrs Ollie Stephens, chief of honor; Miss Mabel Sterling, chief of ceremonies; Miss Beulah Sterling, recorder; Miss Cora Joles, financier; Miss Lizzie Schooling, receiver; Mrs Chapman, usher; Miss Emma Jacobsen, outside watchman; Mr Chas Snipes, outside watchman; Misses Jennie Russell and Clara Sampson, maids of honor.

Fern Lodge D. of H. numbers now more than 100 strong, of which about sixty of the members were present at the installation ceremonies, which were followed by a social and general good time.

THE BUSINESS MAN'S LUNCH.

Hard Work and Indigestion go Hand in Hand.

Concentrated thought, continued in, robs the stomach of necessary blood, and this is also true of hard physical labor.

When a five horse-power engine is made to do ten horse-power work something is going to break. Very often the hard-working man coming from the field or the office will "bolt" his food in a few minutes which will take hours to digest. Then too, many foods are about as useful in the stomach as a keg of nails would be in a fire under a boiler. The ill-used stomach refuses to do its work without the proper stimulus which it gets from the blood and nerves. The nerves are weak and "ready to break," because they do not get the nourishment they require from the blood. Finally the ill-used brain is morbidly wide awake when the overworked man attempts to find rest in bed.

The application of common sense in the treatment of the stomach and the whole system brings to the busy man the full enjoyment of life and healthy digestion when he takes Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets to relieve a bilious stomach or after a too hearty meal, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify, enrich and vitalize the blood. The "Pellets" are tiny sugar-coated pills made of highly concentrated vegetable ingredients which relieve the stomach of all offending matters easily and thoroughly. They need only be taken for a short time to cure the biliousness, constipation and slothfulness or torpor of the liver; then the "Medical Discovery" should be taken in teaspoonful doses to increase the blood and enrich it. It has a peculiar effect upon the lining membrane of the stomach and bowels, toning up and strengthening them for all time. The whole system feels the effect of the pure blood coursing through the body and the nerves are vitalized and strengthened, not deadened, or put to sleep, as the so-called celery compounds and nerve mixtures do—but refreshed and fed on the food they need for health. If you suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia, nervousness, and any of the ills which come from impure blood and disordered stomach, you can cure yourself with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which can be obtained at any drug store in the country.

Science is "knowing how." The only secret about Scott's Emulsion is years of science. When made in large quantities and by improving methods, an emulsion must be more perfect than when made in the old-time way with mortar and pestle a few ounces at a time. This is why Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil never separates, keeps sweet for years, and why every spoonful is equal to every other spoonful. An even product throughout.

In other emulsions you are liable to get an uneven benefit—either an over or under dose. Get Scott's. Genuine has a salmon-colored wrapper.
