and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The Wheat Situation.

The first of the year finds the wheat situation not meeting expectations. The expected high prices have not come nor can it be said that the indications are bright, at the present, of any immediate rise. While it is true that both buyers and sellers are disappointed at the way things are going, yet it's early in the fight and a month or two may see a difference. A European war, while it would mean misery on the other side of the Atlantic, would be a blessing to the American farmer. The following, taken from the Commercial Review, gives an intelligent view of the situation in Portland:

Five months of the present cereal year have passed and exporters have dispatched forty-three vessels, containing 3,533,721 bushels of wheat and 100,968 barrels of flour to European ports, and there is still one-half of the present crop in the country. This does not include China and San Francisco shipments. The obstinacy of holders has been clearly shown when wheat was selling at 54c per bushel, a great many unloaded their holdings, the majority held on for higher prices; at that time we stated that the exporters here were paying all the stuff was worth, and we were accused of standing in with them. Now Walla Walla wheat is worth about 50c, and possibly some could get as much as 51c for good round lots, and the prospect for higher prices seems dim. From the present outlook of the situation we would not be surprised to see prices go still lower. There is nothing as yet to make the same advance, though earlier in the season we had hopes that prices would be firmer by the first of the year. The outlook then was better, and we find ourselves mistaken with many others. As formerly stated in these columns, exporters had all the wheat for loading requirements to Jan. 1, they saw no necessity to increase their bids for wheat, and that by the turn of the year this port would be fully cleaned up with engaged ships, our predictions have proved true: the ships now in port are all finishing, and exporters are not in need of any wheat for the present, and what ships are likely to arrive will have their wants quickly filled. Tonnage due is very small, and what should arrive in January and February will receive prompt dispatch.

The markets here during the week have been in the same condition as the eastern markets, dull and lifeless, with very little doing, and no prospect for betterment in the near future. Shippers are quoting Walla Walla at 49c@50, valley 53c per bushel. Millers are paying 51 and 54c respectively for the same.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Dr. Logan returned today from Portland. Ex-Governor Moody went to Portland on the afternoon's train. Mr. A. S. Bennett came up on the local today from the metropolis. Miss Waffle of Pendleton, who has been visiting Mrs. L. E. Crowe, left for home last evening. Prof. M. N. Stratton returned today from Portland, where he attended the teachers' institute. Rev. J. N. T. Goss arrived from Milton this morning, and is registered at the Umatilla. He will preach tomorrow in St. Paul's Episcopal church. Mr. D. McKay, the well-known capitalist of Portland, is in the city. Mr. McKay has valuable property interests in The Dalles, which he is looking after.

A Surprise Party to Miss Deming.

A merry crowd of young people assembled last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Biggs to give Miss Ethel Deming a genuine surprise. The young ladies and gentlemen met at the home of Miss Nellie Sylvester, and then repaired to the Biggs residence, where the young lady, in whose honor the party had been arranged, was taken completely by surprise. The evening was spent in playing "Progressive Logomachy"—a game which is coming into much favor as a diversion for social gatherings. Dr. Frazier was successful in obtaining the head prize, while Frank Wood won the booby. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening. At a late hour the guests departed, wishing that these pleasant surprises would come oftener. Those present were: Misses Ethel Deming, Lorene Lee, Nellie Sylvester, Edith Randall, Mabel Riddell, Lizzie Schooling, Lola Eubank; Dr. Frazier, Dr. Sturdevant, Chester Starr, George Campbell, Charles Campbell, Ed. Michell, Edward Hill and Frank Wood.

Last night was an eventful one at the whist club. The early part of the evening was spent as the evenings generally are, with playing whist, and when the points were counted it was found that Mrs. Glenn had won the head prize and Mr. Hostetter the booby. During the counting of the votes, several ladies left the room and some inquiry was made where they had gone. Soon, however, a knock was heard and in came the ladies carrying baskets full of good things. The tables were set, lots drawn for partners and all partook of the unexpected banquet. The feast was sumptuous and occasioned a good supply of wit and mirth. At its close, the room was cleared for dancing and the fun was fast and furious. The members of the whist club are noted for their ability for enjoyment, and last night they had a full measure. The gentlemen of the club were so pleased with the ladies' surprise that they are willing it should be done again. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Croesen were the entertainers.
