BREAK IN THE CLOUDS

England Hopes to Settle Direct With Venezuela.

DUE TO BRAZIL'S GOOD OFFICES

President Kruger Will Take Extreme Measures Against Leaders of the Uprising—Several Americans Under Arrest.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—It was learned this afternoon that the cabinet council Saturday considered the question of re-establishing diplomatic relations with Venezuela, but no definite conclusion was arrived at.

The Westminster Gazette this afternoon, touching upon the misunderstanding between Great Britain and the United States, says it sees a distinct break in the clouds, and hopes a settlement satisfactory to Great Britain and the United States will be effected with Venezuela direct, and intimates that the Brazilian minister is closely identified with the latest proposed solution of this controversy.

AN IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

It Shows That England Has Recognized the Monroe Doctrine.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Public opinion in Great Britain has changed in the most wonderful manner since the Monroe doctrine was first promulgated. An unexpected discovery in the old files in the house of representatives has given to the state department a valuable state paper, with which Lord Salisbury's claim that the Monroe doctrine has never been recognized by England, will be completely upset.

In going over the old records Walter H. French, the file clerk of the house, discovered a collection of clippings from English papers, all bearing on the message of President Monroe, in which he gave to the world the famous document which bears his name. The message was sent on the opening of congress, the first Monday in December, 1823. The British papers without exception, commented on the message in the most favorable terms. France was then contemplating conquest in South America and Great Britain was prompt to seize on the Monroe message as a notice to continental nations that conquest in America meant war with the United States.

Mr. French's discovery has been copied and sent to Secretary Olney. Members of the foreign affairs committee say that Mr. French's discovery is the most important made in the matter, as it presents contemporary evidence of the fact, which Great Britain has since forgotten, that at the time President Monroe's message was delivered it was accepted, and even welcomed as sound doctrine by the people of England. More than that, the newspapers then distinctly pledged Great Britain to aid in the enforcement of the Monroe doctrine.

LEADERS REFUSE BAIL.

Others Under Arrest at Pretoria Have Been Liberated.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—A dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Cape Town, published today, says the latest advices from Pretoria states that bail has been refused the ringleaders of the recent disturbance at Johannesburg, and other people arrested for the same connection have been liberated, each on $5,000 bail. The dispatch adds it is expected severe measures will be taken against the leaders of the uprising, in spite of the fact that it is apparent they were deceived and taken by surprise by Dr. Jameson's incursion.

Sir Hercules Robinson, governor of Cape Colony, it appears, made every effort to secure leniency for the prisoners, but an extreme section of the Boers are much incensed and very difficult to control. The new ministry for Cape Colony is regarded as a device to shield ex-Premier Cecil Rhodes and Sir Hercules Robinson. Rhodes, it is also said, is in very bad health.

Advices from Johannesburg say the Uitlanders are expecting the Boers to make a house-to-house search for arms, and it is stated the Germans have been holding meetings and passing resolutions telling Emperor William to mind his business.

Dr. Jamieson and his lieutenants, as far as known, are still at Pretoria. The Times says officials of the British South Africa Company deny that Jameson was deposed from the post of administrator of their territory on the recommendation of the company.

Pendleton Postmaster Held Up.

PENDLETON, Or. Jan. 13.—Postmaster Johnson was held up by a masked robber at 7:15 o'clock tonight, and, at the point of a revolver, compelled to hand out about $600 of postal and money-order funds. The robbery was evidently committed by a man who was well acquainted with the postoffice, its surroundings and the habits of the employees. Postmaster Johnson's story of the affair is as follows:

"At 7:15 o'clock, after my clerks had gone home and when I was alone in the office counting money, I heard a rap on the office door and some one called out, 'Johnson, give me my mail; I am in an awful hurry.' I opened the door and, was confronted by a man, who, thrusting a revolver in my face, said: 'I want your money.' He compelled me to walk to my desk, on which about $250 was stacked up. He made me take the government money sack and put the coin into it. 'That is all I have,' I said. 'Well, then, we will look in the safe,' he responded. Telling me to hurry up, he flourished the gun in my face and made me empty the postal and money order funds into the sack. When he was satisfied there was no more money, he said, 'I will go out the back door.' He compelled me to lead the way and open the door, I noticed his revolver was pointed towards the ground, and I at once seized it with my left hand and grabbed him with my right. While we were struggling the gun went off, and the ball passed through my left hand. I then tripped over a mail sack and he ran out of the door."

Johnson describes the man as of medium height and built, and about 150 pounds in weight. He wore a full black beard, evidently false. Over his face was a handkerchief, with eyeholes in it. His voice was peculiar and Johnson says he would recognize him by his manner of talking. Tonight the sheriff and several possees are scouring the country for the robber. Johnson's wound is not serious, although very painful. The ball passed through the fleshy part of the hand.
