

CANCER CURED

—AND A—
LIFE SAVED

By the Persistent Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore gave it a wide berth, and even when they do take it they have a disagreeable habit of going off to some secluded spot to make their last kick, and thus defrauding the honest worker of the fruits of his labor. To avoid this and make returns surer, Fred has lately been fishing for them. A good stout hook is fastened to a copper wire and an anchor of some description put at the other end of the wire; the anchor is not so heavy that it cannot be hauled around, but too heavy to run off with. The hook is baited with a very tempting morsel, completely covering it, and thus arranged the trap is left over night. Brer' Wolf comes along, examines the bait and finding no suspicion of strychnine, bolts it. Finding the wire in his mouth, he swallows all the harder, and being unable to disengage it or bite it through, he trots off and the anchor gets in its work by inaugurating a pull that fastens the barb or the hook in the interior department of Brer' Wolf, and there he is, and there he stays until Fred makes his morning call and at a safe distance drops his game with his Winchester. With several of these "trot lines" dispersed over a place where wolves and coyotes are in the habit of passing, a rich and safe harvest is reaped. The copper wire is used because if it gets kinked it does not break, which it is liable to do if the wolf struggles much.

On Saturday morning, Feb. 1st, the news was sorrowfully received by the friends of John T. Easton that he was suddenly called from our midst by death. On Wednesday evening he was, to all appearances, in good health until 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, when he was taken suddenly ill and in forty-eight hours had departed this life.

He being an honored member and consul commander of the Dufur Camp of Woodmen of the World, was buried by that order Monday, Feb. 3d. Mr. A. J. Brigham gave an address at the house, after which the burial services of the order were used.

Deceased was 34 years of age and leaves a wife and five children and innumerable friends to mourn his loss.

Dufur, Oregon, Feb. 4, 1896.

Antelope Items.

Babe Mays has just been having his residence re-painted, papered and calimined and furnished throughout, in anticipation of the happy event, announced to take place this month.

Born—Sunday, Feb. 2d, to the wife of Allen Grant, a daughter.

At a special school meeting of Antelope district, No. 50, held Jan. 27th, an eight-mill tax was levied for the support of the public school.

Alex. Kirchheimer went to The Dalles this week, accompanied by Mr. Riley, who is suffering with rheumatism.

Charley Wallace made a trip to Grass Valley Friday carrying dispatches.

Ed Miller has taken up insurance and real estate in connection with his law business, which is becoming quite extensive in the way of conveyancing, legal advice and justice practice.

At the geographical match, held in the public school Friday afternoon, Pearl Taylor and Leola Stocker proved themselves the champions.

Martin Murray was in town over Sunday shaking hands with his many friends. Martin is an Ohio boy, and a jolly good fellow.

Died—At his residence in Antelope, Feb. 3d, of droopy of the heart, Clarence V. Lane. Mr. Lane has resided in Antelope for twelve years past, and was in business here during that time. He was well and favorably known, and his death is a loss to the entire community, who sympathize with his wife in her sad bereavement. Mr. Lane was a man with a high education, great conversational ability and natural talent. He was a good neighbor, and one who could ill be spared. He has been sick for a long time, and his death was not unexpected, though his loss is none the less felt. He was an entered apprentice Mason. His remains were taken to Salem for burial.

The Ideal Panacea.
James L. Francis, Alderman, Chicago, says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as an Ideal Panacea for coughs, colds and Lung Complaints, having used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physician's prescriptions or other preparations."
Rev. John Burgess, Keokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have been a Minister of the Methodist Episcopal church for 50 years or more, and have never found anything so beneficial, or that gave me such speedy relief as Dr. King's New Discovery." Try this Ideal Cough Remedy now. Trial bottles free at Blakeley & Houghton's, Drug Store.

The popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the high esteem in which it is held leads us to believe it to be an article of great worth and merit. We have the pleasure of giving the experience of three prominent citizens of Redondo Beach, Cal., in the use of the remedy. Mr. A. V. Trudel says: "I have always received prompt relief when I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." Mr. James Orchard says: "I am satisfied that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured my cold." Mr. J. M. Hatcher says: "For three years I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family and its results have always been satisfactory." For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggist.

It May Do as Much for You.
Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so-called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began to use Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all Kidney and Liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price 50c and $1.00. At Blakeley & Houghton's Drug Store.

Geo. W. Jenkins, editor of the Santa Maria "Times," Cal., in speaking of the various ailments of children said: "When my children have croup there is only one patent medicine I ever use, and that is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It possesses some medicinal properties that relieve the little sufferers immediately. It is, in my opinion, the best cough medicine in the market." If this remedy is freely given as soon as the croup cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is also an ideal remedy for whooping cough. There is no danger in giving it to children, as it contains nothing injurious. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggist.
