CONTINUE THE GOOD WORK.

As spring opens, among the topics that will be brought up for the consideration of the people of Wasco and Sherman counties will be the matter of the Rattlesnake road. Through the efforts of one or two residents of Sherman county, aided by enterprising business men of The Dalles, this project was put under way and funds subscribed to insure its completion. Most of the grade up the east bank of the Deschutes has been completed, and the work done gives promise that the grade, when finished, will fill every need which caused its construction.

From the top of the hill direct to the Grant and Cross Hollow road the route lies through an uneven country, over which, it is said, teams loaded with wool could not pass without difficulty. From the summit of Rattlesnake hill, extending in a southeasterly direction, lies Gordon ridge, a well-known landmark in Sherman county, upon the summit of which a road of light grade could be built, intersecting the Grant-Cross Hollow road immediately west of Moro, and providing a direct route to the Deschutes river for teams from Prineville and places far to the south. Traffic from these points, which crosses the Deschutes, is now compelled to travel the toll road, to obviate which condition the construction of the new grade was agitated.

At the time the Rattlesnake project was discussed it was understood, and the matter so represented to the business men of The Dalles, that this road along the Gordon ridge would be built and the full benefits from the construction of the Rattlesnake road be obtained. The opening of the road mentioned would enable the wool and freight wagons from Crook and Grant counties to reach the Deschutes over a smooth road of gradual descent, with no toll to be exacted. We are informed that only by the building of the Gordon ridge road will the full benefit of the Rattlesnake route be reaped. For this reason we trust the matter will be urged with all possible speed. Sherman county is interested in securing every possible means of communication with this city.

The opening of the locks means that The Dalles will be more than ever the wholesale supply point for the country south and east, and good roads mean less freight rates, and as a result better prices for the products of the farmer and stock-raiser, while their necessary supplies will be furnished them at cheaper rates.

The rise in wheat and its continuance at a satisfactory figure has caused plowing to be begun with expectations of good returns. While the conditions justify a belief that the harvest next season will be large and the price better than it has been since the slump of two years ago, yet the farmers should remember that it is not wise to put all their eggs in one basket. Wasco county can raise other things beside wheat. Diversified farming represents progress and offers better inducements for prosperity.

The defeat of Morrill's motion to take up the tariff bill in the senate Thursday will still further reduce that body in the public estimation. The republicans, with few exceptions, supported the motion. Indignation will be turned, not so much against the democrats who opposed the motion through principle, as against renegade republican senators like Duboise, Teller, Jones of Nevada, Carter and Power of Montana, and others of their ilk. These men, by placing selfish interests above consideration for the nation, have prostituted the high and honorable position of United States senators and made it a term almost of reproach. Never in our history was statesmanship in the senate needed more than now, and never, seemingly, was there such a lack of it. By contrast the house of representatives is surrounded with a halo of excellence.

By all means let the Fitzsimmons-Maher fight take place in London. England can have the disgrace and America will regain some of the gold she has lost during the period of export.

THE CHURCHES.

The Lutheran church, Rev. L. Grey, pastor, will hold services in this house at 2 and 7:30 p. m.

Sunday school immediately after the morning service. Meeting of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. Topic, Loyalty to our church; Psalm lxxiv-1-12.
