ANTI-TRAMP MEASURE

Resolutions Recently Adopted in Wisconsin.

MCKINLEY REPUBLICANS OF OHIO

One Hundred Thousand Personal Letters to be Written by People of a County.

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Feb. 26.—At the anti-tramp convention, the following report of the ways and means committee was adopted. The experience of various localities under the present conditions, shows that while some tramps would be honest laboring men if they had the opportunity, the larger portion of them are determined to live on the public without work; that tramps as a whole are a nuisance and a danger to private families, a needless expense to the public and a means of corruption to public officers. Experience shows that comparatively little has been done to remedy the tramp evil by private individuals or organizations; that the enormous and unnecessary bills against the counties rolled up by officers in tramp cases, by means of the fee system, can be largely prevented by courageous county boards, and that the proper use of the workhouse will drive away tramps from that locality. As the result of this experience and our discussions, we have not settled all parts of the tramp question, but we have agreed on the following resolution:

Resolved, That the system of remunerating public officers for public services by fees should be abolished.

Resolved, That the workhouse or some other judicious system of labor for prisoners, including tramps, should be universally adopted.

Resolved, That other methods of meeting the tramp evil, including methods of prevention as well as of correction deserve the careful consideration of this conference at future meetings, and we urge all city and county authorities and philanthropic individuals to carefully investigate the many interesting experiments which have been made with the tramp problem in various places, among which we especially name the Brown county workhouse, the Dane county jail and the Rescue mission in Milwaukee; also the Provident wood yards in many cities, and the work of the anti-tramp society of Ann Arbor, Mich. And we recommend the methods of the latter society for adoption in all cities of moderate size.

Lost the End of His Nose.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26.—William Hannigan met with a peculiar accident yesterday which cost him the end of his nose. He has attended all the masquerade balls held recently and consequently lost a great deal of sleep. When he entered a barber shop at Sixteenth and Valencia streets, he was drowsy. He dropped into the barber's chair and called for a shave. The barber proceeded with all good grace, but observed while lathering Hannigan's face that William had fallen asleep. Being an industrious barber he concluded the situation did not demand cessation of work, and being a gentle barber, he did not care to disturb the slumbers of his customer. Everything went along pleasantly until the razor began operations on Hannigan's lips. Suddenly Hannigan's fists shot out right and left striking an imaginary foe. The barber tried to jump out of the way, but Hannigan hit the razor and drove its keen edge through the top of his nose. Then William awoke with a start and looked at the dismayed barber, and when he felt the blood dripping down his face realized what had happened. There was a hasty explanation and then Hannigan picked up the piece of his nose and ran for the hospital. The surgeon stitched it on. In the afternoon Hannigan explained that he had some trouble with a man the night before and that the trouble bobbed up in dreamland.

WORKING FOR MCKINLEY.

The Plan That Ohio Republicans May Adopt.

CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—A special from Massillon, O., says: There is a movement on foot here to induce every intelligent person in Stark county to write at least five letters to that number of friends in outside states urging them to go to the primaries and work for McKinley delegates. It is reckoned that 20,000 people should send 100,000 letters within 10 days, and as each correspondent will ask his other friends to write similar letters to other friends, the scheme will be seen to be another manifestation of the endless chain idea.

Alabama for McKinley.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 26.—Seventeen counties out of twenty heard from throughout Alabama has instructed for McKinley, who will get 18 out of the 22 delegates.

MORE ARMENIAN OUTRAGES.

The People of Marsovan Forced to Accept Islam. LONDON, Feb. 26.—The Daily News will tomorrow publish a dispatch from Constantinople which says it is reported there that, February 14, the first day of the Ramadan festival, the Turks surrounded the Armenian quarter in Marsovan and ordered the Armenians to accept Islam. Five hundred of them agreed to do so, but 150 recalcitrants were killed.

The Chronicle has a dispatch from Constantinople which says a fresh series of massacres is reported in the Sivas and Kharpoot districts.

The Refugees at Zeitoun.

BOSTON, Feb. 26.—The New England Armenian relief committee has received the following telegram from the treasurer of the Anglo-American relief committee, in Constantinople:

"The British ambassador hears there is great misery and sickness among the refugees at Zeitoun, especially on account of the bitter cold. The sick by hundreds lie near the corpses of dead women and girls, without a rag to cover them. Many sent off have died on the road from exhaustion."

The Italians in Abyssinia.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—A dispatch to the Herald from Rome says: The Journal Don Marzio, the organ of Signor Crispi, states that the dervishes are about to repeat the invasion of Erythra of 1894, advancing against Keren, Adingri, Godeffassi, Amacking, Italy's weak garrisons, intending them to join their ally, King Menelek. The new reinforcements, in face of this new threatened calamity, are insufficient.

The Fanulla announces the sending of 16 battalions of troops.

King Humbert in accord with Signor Crispi, is resolved to obtain victory without loss of time. He will tomorrow decide who shall succeed General Barateri.

The fact that Menelek is threatening Adiquala causes new anxiety. It is feared that he will entirely surround Barateri and then join the revolting tribes at Oculucsal.

A WOMAN TRAVELER.

Miss Kingsley Accomplished Much During Her Journey in Africa.

Miss Kingsley has explored the Cameroons region, West Africa, and her adventures proved both interesting and exciting. During a canoe journey up the Ogowe river the canoe was upset nearly a dozen times and the intrepid lady explorer and her party of natives were thrown into the water.

But perhaps the most disagreeable experience was encountered in the Fangwe country. The Fangwes are cannibals, and are one of the few tribes in Africa which eat their own dead. The people were friendly toward Miss Kingsley, but she had great trouble in preventing them from killing and eating some of her servants. She did not come across one burial place in the Fangwe country; but she found that in most of the native mud huts pieces of human beings were being kept, just as civilized people keep fresh meat and other eatables in their larders. On one occasion when Miss Kingsley was turning out the contents of a sack to try and find out the origin of a sickening smell, hands, feet, eyes and other human remains tumbled out on the ground.

Although this remarkable lady slept often in the open air, was drenched with rain many times, and experienced almost every variety of temperature, she enjoyed excellent health, and intends to return to West Africa in a few weeks' time.

Associates of the Shark.

A small fish called the pilot is nearly always found with the man-eating shark. Each shark is accompanied by from five to seven (always by an odd number, it is claimed) of these little vassals, and while his sharkship seems to be incessantly looking for something wherewith to satisfy his voracious appetite he never eats these little pilots, though they keep very close to him. Another frequent associate of the shark is the remora, or sucker fish. Nature has provided it with a large, circular disk on the top of its head. By means of this "sucker" it attaches itself to the under surface of the shark and is carried by it wherever it goes.
