THE SPANISH DEMONSTRATION.

Their hot Southern blood has caused the Spaniards to lose their heads over the Cuban resolutions passed by our senate. No sooner had the intelligence been made known to the people than outbreaks occurred, ending in the consulate at Barcelona being attacked, while the cries of "Long live Spain!" "Death to Uncle Sam!" rent the air. It is not surprising that the people of Spain should take unkindly to this action of the senate, since the adoption of the resolutions by both houses will do more for the insurgents than a dozen battles such as have been fought up to date; but that their anger should vent itself in such noisy demonstrations and expressions, only shows that the Spaniards are either woefully ignorant of the extent to which one nation can go in its expressions regarding another, or that the populace is a turbulent, restless mob, discontent with present conditions and eager for war, hoping that with it may come plunder and booty.

The United States is justified in its action by the precedent of Spain itself. The war of secession had not been waged three months before belligerency of the Confederacy was recognized by Spain, and as Senator Lodge points out, we have waited four times as long. The conditions which existed at the time of Spain's action, and which exist now, are widely different. Spain recognized a confederacy whose corner-stone was slavery and whose grievances against the national government were fancied rather than real.

By extending recognition to the Cubans our government is but giving justice to a people who are struggling for freedom—the gem which on the Western continent is the most treasured. The Cubans by their successes the past year, have won recognition, whether they are given it or not.

This government wants no war with Spain, and none is likely. The demonstrations of Sunday did not emanate from official quarters, but were the outbursts of mobs, inflamed by reckless speakers. Their action will be promptly disavowed by the Spanish government and due reparation made. Even with England's aid, Spain will not want a war with America, and England just now is not in a position to give that aid.

AN INTERESTING EXPERIMENT.

An interesting episode in the study of migrations is presented by the departure yesterday from Georgia of three hundred Negroes for Liberia. This is the second venture of this kind made within recent years under the management of a colonization society; a third will be made in the fall. But four times in the history of emigrations has occurred this eastward movement. Ever since history began the universal trend of migration has been toward the setting sun. When Abraham, with his flocks, journeyed from Mesopotamia, he set the example, which physical conditions have caused to be followed through the centuries. The cities of Greece and Italy, it is true, went eastward and founded colonies in Asia Minor, but such exceptions have been rare, and the settlement of new worlds has been made by people from the East.

Liberia will be watched with interest. Its result, if successful, may have a direct influence in settling the race problem which is ever present to trouble the South. The Negro has proved himself capable of governing, and it is not unlikely that the leaders of the race would rather its destiny should be worked out in Liberia, where the barriers that here exist between the races will be absent. It is not probable the movement will become a general one, but if it should, its influence upon the economic and social life of the United States would be very marked. As it is, we are but following Greece and Rome, who planted on foreign shores colonies of their own, where the manners and affection for the native land grew as the colonies prospered.

The Democrats and Populists in Polk county are talking of a fusion, with the hopes of carrying the next election. If the Republicans had the ordering of the actions of the Democrats and Populists, such a course is the one they would pick for them to take. Whatever men of intelligence the Democratic party contains would leave it whenever it associated itself with the principles the Populists are advocating. Fusion for the Democrats is as bad as their present advocacy of free wool.

The leaders in congress are seeking an early adjournment. As all hope of any tariff legislation is dead, this is about the most popular move congress can make. It will, however, work an hardship upon the Oregon delegation in their efforts to secure the extra appropriation for the locks. If the appropriation bills are to be passed by the last of March, some hard work must be done between now and then.

The recent accidents to shipping in New York harbor go to show that a port is not always the place of safety the poets sing about. The sinking of two big steamers and the grounding of a third is a record old ocean might envy. The absence of any loss to life makes the disasters seem trivial.

The only comfort Oregonians can take in this excess of weather, is the thought that they are having it worse in the East.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

In a recent editorial the Salem, Or., Independent says: "Time and again have we seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy tried and never without the most satisfactory results. Whenever we see a person afflicted with hoarseness, with a cough or cold, we invariably advise them to get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy; and when they do, they never regret it. It always does the work, and does it well." For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggist.

Geo. W. Jenkins, editor of the Santa Maria "Times," Cal., in speaking of the various ailments of children said: "When my children have croup there is only one patent medicine I ever use, and that is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It possesses some medicinal properties that relieve the little sufferers immediately. It is, in my opinion, the best croup medicine in the market." If this remedy is freely given as soon as the croup cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is also an ideal remedy for whooping cough. There is no danger in giving it to children, as it contains nothing injurious. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggist.

If there is any one thing that needs to be purified, it is politics, so the reformer says, and many agree thereto. But blood tells, and as a blood purifier and liver corrector Simmons Liver Regulator is the best medicine. "I use it in preference to any other."—So wrote Mr. S. H. Hysell, of Middleport, Ohio. And Dr. D. S. Russell, of Farmville, Va., writes, "It fulfills all you promise for it."
