IS SUING FOR PEACE

Italy Has Opened Negotiations With Menelek.

MATTERS PROCEEDING SMOOTHLY

It is Expected That Peace Will Be Concluded Soon—King Humbert Not Friendless.

Rome, March 13.—Negotiations with King Menelek have been opened. It is anticipated that peace will be concluded before long, and the war office has countermanded the instructions sent to various points for hurrying forward reinforcements to Africa.

It is admitted that King Humbert at one time was face to face with the possibility of outbreaks serious enough to develop into almost anything. This enabled the socialists to obtain concessions they could not otherwise have commanded.

To cap the peaceful climax comes the pleasant report that Emperor William of Germany, Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria and King Humbert will meet at Genoa in a few days, and a series of brilliant fetes will be held to demonstrate to all whom it may concern that Italy, instead of being friendless, upon the verge of bankruptcy and encumbered by a tottering throne, is strong in the earnest support of Germany and Austria, and will be backed by Great Britain in any great emergency.

A FRESH SENSATION.

Governor Bradley Denounced By the Kentuckian Democrats.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 13.—At 11:30 a. m., Sheriff Armstrong arrived, who claimed to have received instructions from Governor Bradley to clear the senate cloak-room, in which were Senator Blackburn and his friends, including Jack Chinn. The Blackburn leaders at once drew up a resolution rebuking the governor.

Betrie, a republican, asked that a committee be appointed to confer with the governor and see if such an order had been issued.

Bronston bitterly scored the governor, and Goebel said the governor had no right to interfere with the rights of the senate. "I, for one," he shouted, "am ready to protect my own rights and privileges."

Saller said it was the duty of the senate out of respect to the governor, to send a committee to find out if he had issued such an order.

Bronston said: "Never will a committee go to the governor with my consent, or with my vote. I would denounce the act of the governor, if it were with the last drop of my blood. It is an outrageous, unlawful, treacherous act," he screamed, above the pounding of the gavel and the suppressed hum of many voices. "Let the governor leave us alone. Let us pass resolutions to condemn the man who is governor by accident. I denounce his actions as a Kentuckian and as a man."

Senator Deboe denounced the reflection of the governor as untrue. "I say it to his face," he said, glaring at Bronston. Then he sat down.

Bronston jumped up and commenced to unbutton his vest, but before he could act the presiding officer succeeded in restoring order.

Saller said he was not willing to insult the governor, and moved to refer the motion offered by Bronston to the committee on rules. This was done, and Bronston, Goebel, and the leaders of the Blackburn faction, seeing they had been outvoted, subsided.

The governor later denied having given the sheriff any such orders as stated, and Senator Bronston begged the governor's pardon.

MARSHAL NYE'S EXECUTION.

A North Carolinian Believes That It Did Not Occur.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Rev. J. P. Weston, rector of the church of the Ascension, at Hickory, N. C., who recently wrote a volume entitled "Historic Doubts as to the execution of Marshal Ney," has informed his publisher, Thomas Whittaker, of this city, that the theory that Ney was not killed on December 7, 1815, has been further confirmed by recent researches.

According to the argument advanced in the book Ney was not hit by the bullets aimed at him on the field of execution, and was afterward taken to a hospital by his friends, whence he fled in disguise to America, where he lived as Peter Stuart Ney, a schoolmaster, in North and South Carolina till 1846, when he died.

Mr. Weston had learned that a son of Marshal Ney called upon Peter Stuart Ney about 17 years after his arrival in America. A few days ago Weston found that this son was living in a little town near Louisville, Ky. He is 83 years old. He admitted his identity to Weston. He said that he came to this country in 1837, and his father gave him $1600. He entered Jefferson medical college in Philadelphia, where he was graduated. During his whole life in the United States, however, he has lived under an assumed name. He said that in the evening after the supposed execution his father visited the house of his mother in Paris and remained a few minutes. He has written a history of his father, which he has placed in Mr. Weston's hands. His identity will not be divulged until after his death, when the book is to be published.

W. J. Moore, the leading candy maker, is still alive and doing well and wishes to announce that he will now introduce many different kinds of candies. His specialties are many, and he proposes to give the people the purest of confectionery, and remember that the marshmallow taffy is the favorite of all taffies ever introduced. Let the people judge for themselves. Give him a call and be convinced.

Blakeley & Houghton desire us to publish the following extract from a letter of Chas. M. Gutfield of Reedley, Fresno county, Calif., as they handle the remedy referred to and want their customers to know what a splendid medicine it is: "It is with pleasure I tell you that by one day's use of Chamberlain's Cough remedy I was relieved of a very bad cold. My head was completely stopped up and I could not sleep at night. I can recommend this remedy." A cold nearly always starts in the head and afterwards extends to the throat and lungs. By using this remedy freely as soon as the cold has been contracted it will cure the cold at once and prevent it from extending to the lungs.

None But Ayer's at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla enjoys the extraordinary distinction of having been the only blood purifier allowed on exhibit at the world's fair, Chicago. Manufacturers of other sarsaparillas sought by every means to obtain a showing of their goods, but they were all turned away under the application of the rule forbidding the entry of patent medicines and nostrums. The decision of the world's fair authorities in favor of Ayer's Sarsaparilla was in effect as follows: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine. It does not belong to the list of nostrums. It is here on its merits."

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City Ill. was told by her doctors she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St. San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and colds. If there is any one thing that needs to be purified, it is politics, so the reformer says, and many agree thereto. But blood tells, and as a blood purifier and liver corrector Simmons Liver Regulator is the best medicine. "I use it in preference to any other."—So wrote Mr. S. H. Hysell, of Middleport, Ohio. And Dr. D. S. Russell, of Farmville, Va., writes, "It fulfills all you promise for it."
