A good-sized audience again greeted the Brownies at the opera house last evening. The performance was much the same as on Saturday evening, except a change in music and recitations.

This is the last day for the payment of taxes before they become delinquent. The deputy sheriff and clerk, Mr. Butts, are consequently very busy, and they expect to collect a total of about $12,000 for the day.

Mr. Otto Peterson arrived from Independence, Kan., Sunday, and will locate permanently in The Dalles, engaging in the cigar-making trade. He is a very fine musician and cornet soloist, and will lead the Dalles City band.

Work on the Vogt building is progressing very fast. A force of fifty men are working at present, and this is soon to be increased. The walls have been finished above the base of the second story and are rapidly assuming shape.

Hon. John C. Leasure, a native Oregonian, and a worthy member of the order of Knights of Pythias, is prominently mentioned as the successor of Hon. Wilson T. Hume, says Pythias.

The city council today officially informed the electric light company of their proposition to pay $8 per light hereafter for the street lights, to be shut off at 2 o'clock. The company will probably file a counter proposition.

A boy named Roy Campbell, sixteen years of age, left his home in Walla Walla March 17th, and his whereabouts are unknown. Any information concerning him would be gladly received by Wm. Landon, Walla Walla, Wash.

The Commercial Club will meet at 8 o'clock this evening to take suitable action upon the Fossil road project, mention of which has been variously made in our columns heretofore. There will, doubtless, be a full attendance of the club.

The O. R. & N. has started the steam shovel and gravel train on the Washington division, where it is at work ballasting with gravel between forty and fifty miles of track through the wheat belt, in which considerable inconvenience has been caused on account of the dust.

Gen. J. B. Weaver, the Populist orator, has made an engagement to speak fifteen times in Oregon and Eastern Oregon. Dates will be: The Dalles, April 8; Grass Valley, Sherman county, April 9; Wasco, Sherman county, April 10; Pendleton, April 11; Milton, April 13, a day meeting; La Grande, April 14; Baker City, April 15.

All county officers who will be succeeded by others will be compelled to relinquish their offices the first Monday in July, with the single exception of assessor who holds until the first Monday in January following the election. This is in accordance with a recent act of the legislature, as the assessor is usually very busy in July making assessment, and his work cannot be profitably broken in upon.

We have received from the publishers, the Zeno Manvais Music Co., of 769 Market street, S. F., a copy of the new two-step march, "The New Bully," arranged from the popular song of that name. It is showy and brilliant, and not very difficult, the theme being distinctly brought out and embellished. It is being played everywhere by bands and orchestras, and has, though a new composition, already won a wide popularity. This march will be a welcome addition to the musical library, as it is not at all commonplace. Your dealer will supply it. Forty cents a copy.

The Dalles Commercial Club.
The Oregonian of yesterday thus speaks of The Dalles Commercial and Athletic Club:

The newly organized Commercial and Athletic Club at The Dalles has the best appointed and cosiest rooms of any club in the state outside of Portland. The bowling alley is built on the same plan as that of the Multnomah Club in this city, and the gymnasium is fully equipped with all the latest devices for muscular improvement. The club has a membership of over 200, with Mr. J. S. Schenck, president of the First National bank, as president, and Roger B. Sinnott, secretary. The reading-room is supplied with all the latest papers and periodicals, and furnishes a convenient place for the members to pass an hour in useful enjoyment. Following the example of other clubs, there is no bar attached to the clubrooms at The Dalles, which meets with general approbation of the citizens.

PASSED THE HOUSE.

The $20,000 Appropriation for the Locks Went Through Today.

A dispatch received today from Hon. W. R. Ellis says the senate resolution appropriating $20,000 for the immediate use at the Cascade Locks has just passed the house.

Having passed both houses of congress, all that now remains is to get the signature of the president, which in this case, is a mere matter of form. The whole amount will thus be at once available, and will be used to complete the middle lock. Work at the Locks has been temporarily stopped on account of the high water.

The contractors have sent for a 40-foot dipper and will start the dredger again as soon as it arrives.

A SUIT FOR $25,000 DAMAGES.

Badly Injured in an Accident at Cascade Locks.

Henry Smith yesterday filed suit for $25,000 damages in the state circuit court at Portland against J. G. and I. N. Day, and The Dalles, Portland & Astoria Navigation Company.

Smith states, says the Oregonian, that on December 10, 1895, he engaged passage on the steamer Dalles City, which was then lying at a floating wharf at Cascade Locks, and was on board of the boat with other passengers, and that at the time J. G. and I. N. Day were engaged in blasting rocks. Smith complained that they well knew that the passengers on the boat were in danger of being struck with flying pieces of rock, and, by their negligence and carelessness, he says, he was hit by a piece of flying rock, occasioned by a blast from giant powder, producing rupture of the drum of the right ear, and causing paralysis of the muscles of both eyes and destroying the use of both eyes, and causing great and irreparable damage to his head, ears and brain, and which injuries he believes are of a permanent character.

Smith further alleges that he was taken by the defendants, after the accident, to St. Vincent's hospital, and that he has expended otherwise $50 in medical treatment. He charges The Dalles, Portland & Astoria Navigation Company with imprudence in permitting the steamer Dalles City to be moored in proximity and within reach of the blasting.

Smith in conclusion says he was formerly a robust man, and is now incapacitated from performing his accustomed business and labor.

It is thought in The Dalles that while the D. P. & A. N. Co. is a party to the suit it is very doubtful if the charges of carelessness made by the defendant can be successfully maintained.

Died.

John Austin Gilliam died suddenly at his home at Lyle, Wash., yesterday.

No premonition of his death was given. He had eaten a hearty breakfast and gone to the barn to saddle his horse. An hour later, about 11 o'clock, he was found across the manger, dead, the horse having been bridled and saddled. He had been subject to epilepsy, and there is no doubt that this was the cause of his death. He was aged 36 years. Funeral services will be held at Lyle tomorrow at 10 o'clock, Rev. Wood officiating.

Mr. Gilliam was well known in The Dalles, and was the son of the late Porter Gilliam. His brother, Mr. S. R. Gilliam, his mother, Mrs. S. C. Gilliam, O. W. Cook and wife and two children, and Mrs. Emery Campbell took the Regulator this morning and will attend the funeral.

DIED.

Peter Gremund died at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon from apoplexy at his place on Mill creek, about eight miles from the city.

He was in his usual health until 8 o'clock, when he suffered the stroke which resulted in his death. He leaves a wife, but no children, and was a well-to-do rancher and an old resident of Wasco county.

"The Confederate Spy."

"The Confederate Spy" is to be produced at the Baldwin opera house April 9th by local talent, assisted by Prof. Rasmus, the well-known actor of Portland. It is a play of thrilling interest and contains many pleasing musical specialties. A synopsis of the play will be published later. The following is the cast:

- Geo. Waterman (a young Unionist) N. J. Sinnott
- Philip Bradley (a Confederate spy) R. H. Lonsdale
- Fred Atzaley (a rebel) F. W. Wilson
- Major-General Banks (U. S. A.) D. C. Herrin
- Colonel Willard (U. S. A.) J. B. McAvoy
- Officer Mulgarry (one of the finest when out of danger) John Hampshire
- Clay (a gemman of color what knows what the chickens roost) John Hirtnett
- Sockery Schneidlebecker (the drafted Dutchman) Wm. Rasmus
- Rasmus (the unknown) Lonsdale-Hampshire
- Mrs. Waterman (mother of George and widow of Capt. Waterman) Mrs. G. C. Blakeley
- Maud Bradley (a Southern belle and sister of 1895) Rose Mitchell
- Nora McLaggan (down on the "haythen Chinner") Lillian Snell
- Rose Southwick (lady presenting flag) Lena Snell
