

CANCER CURED -AND A- LIFE SAVED By the Persistent Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. FIELDS, Bloomfield, Ia.

TRICKY SHOPPERS.

Ladies Who Rob the Millinery Stores of Designs.

"That lady didn't come here to buy her 'maid' is a small dressmaker, and she's after designs; I know her."

This was the remark of a saleslady in one of the large shopping stores, says the Cincinnati Enquirer, and, on being asked for an explanation, she said:

"It is quite a customary thing for so-called ladies to go shopping with their maids, not with the remotest intention of buying anything, but with the purpose of seeing the latest fashions and copying them at home afterward. Ladies will sometimes get these 'small dressmakers' to accompany them on these thieving expeditions; then, with their heads crammed of the most delicious notions, he straight to some cheap mart, buy silks, velvets and other materials needed, and 'dish up' exact counterparts of the models they have seen.

"When it is considered that for Paris models leading firms often pay a big price for each gown, it will be seen that a direct infringement of the copyright, so to speak, is most disastrous to them. It is the custom of firms who have been taken in in this way to keep what they call their 'exclusive models' strictly secret. These are never shown in the windows, and are only brought forward to customers who are well known and trusted."

IN THE STREET CAR.

Some Observing Individual Notes a Womanly Eccentricity.

"Have you ever noticed," said a man-about-town to a reporter for the Philadelphia Record, "that nine women out of ten when they enter a street car invariably take a seat on the right-hand side of the car? I have frequently wondered at it, and a solution of the mystery did not occur to me until a few nights ago. I boarded a Girard avenue car which was entirely empty, and sat down in the forward left-hand corner. At the next crossing a woman got aboard and sat down opposite me. At the next street two more women got in and took seats alongside of the first. After a time there were seven women in the car, all sitting in a row, leaving me to enjoy alone the comforts of the left-hand seats. Then three men jumped aboard and sat down on my side. Finally another woman joined us, and instead of taking a vacant seat near the door on the 'ladies' side' she walked the entire length of the car and sat down alongside of me. This eccentricity on her part impelled me to watch her more closely than good manners possibly warranted, but I solved the mystery to my satisfaction. She paid the conductor with her left hand! She was left-handed; see? And all the women on the other side were right-handed, of course. Fact!"

INDIAN TREACHERY.

A Red Man's Cold-Blooded Villainy Meets with Speedy Punishment.

A sergeant in the Second cavalry recalls an incident in his life in the Milk river country, Montana. He was then a private, and was carrying the mail between the camp and Fort Assiniboine. One day he met an Indian, and, riding along together, the soldier proffered him a pipe, which the red man smoked peacefully. After traveling thus all the morning, they came to a creek, and the Indian reined up, saying that he was going down the stream, whereas the mail route led upward. So they separated, and, when the soldier had gone about 50 yards, he turned in his saddle to wave another farewell. To his horror, he saw the Indian in the act of drawing a bead on him. Quick as a flash he tumbled off his horse, unslung his carbine, and returned the fire of the treacherous savage. The Indian then fled, with the soldier in pursuit, when suddenly the Indian and his horse disappeared from sight. The soldier followed up carefully, until he stood on the brink of a precipice, 200 feet in depth. At the bottom lay the Indian and his pony, both dead. The faithless Indian, in his hurried attack, forgot about this cliff, and in his flight went to destruction.

None But Ayer's at the World's Fair.
Ayer's Sarsaparilla enjoys the extraordinary distinction of having been the only blood purifier allowed on exhibit at the world's fair, Chicago. Manufacturers of other sarsaparillas sought by every means to obtain a showing of their goods, but they were all turned away under the application of the rule forbidding the entry of patent medicines and nostrums. The decision of the world's fair authorities in favor of Ayer's Sarsaparilla was in effect as follows: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine. It does not belong to the list of nostrums. It is here on its merits."

In the fall of 1893 a son of Mr. T. A. McFarland, a prominent merchant of Live Oak, Sutter county, Calif., was taken with a very heavy cold. The pains in his chest were so severe that he had spasms and was threatened with pneumonia. His father gave him several large doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which broke up the cough and cured him. Mr. McFarland says whenever his children have croup he invariably gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it always cures them. He considers it the best cough remedy in the market. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton's Drug store.
