TIME TO TEACH A LESSON.

Oregon Republicans are not far behind those of Texas when it comes to holding interesting conventions. The scenes which marked the session of the county convention in Portland Saturday are without parallel in the history of the state. Without assuming to judge of the right or wrong of the matter, since the data from which an opinion may be formed is entirely insufficient, we feel free to say that Portland's ways of conducting politics do not meet the approval of the rest of the state. The result is not surprising. Multnomah county has suffered from bossism during many years, and a revolt has come from the domination of a particular boss, which revolt threatens the disruption of the party organization.

Whether the charge, if it comes, will be for the better we cannot say, but this much we do believe, that if the delegates to the state and congressional conventions from counties outside of Multnomah wish to render a service to the Republican party no better method can they adopt than to refuse to recognize either of the contesting Multnomah delegations. Let Multnomah county be told that until she learns to behave herself she cannot be allowed the influence in the party councils to which, under ordinary circumstances, she is entitled. It would be a wholesome lesson to Portland politicians if the congressional and state conventions would refuse to sanction the actions of either faction.

The Republican party is greater than any one man in it. It existed without Joseph Simon; it can do so again. Hume, Minto and Frank are not necessary to the party's welfare. "There were kings before Agamemnon," and there will be newspapers after the Oregonian has ceased its one-sided representation. The Oregonian is a great newspaper when it discusses large issues, but when it lends its power to the building up of Joe Simon and his friends, its influence becomes weakened.

If the delegates from Eastern Oregon and the Columbia river counties, outside of Multnomah, will go into the congressional convention determined that Portland politics shall not be the directing force of the Republican party, a great good will be done to the loyal voters throughout the state who care not for the personal aggrandizement of any one man, but desire the success of the party and the principles for which the party stands. Otherwise defeat and consequent disaster are imminent.

SECRETARY CARLISLE AND THE PRESIDENCY.

Secretary Carlisle has written a letter which might be taken as a refusal to accept the presidential nomination from the Democrats. It is, however, more of a declination to take part in any contest at the national convention. Mr. Carlisle expresses himself as concerned more about the principles for which the party shall declare than for the man whom it shall nominate. Between the lines of Mr. Carlisle's letter can be read the sentiment that if the Democratic platform declare against the free coinage of silver, he would not refuse the nomination.

This action of Secretary Carlisle in making his position known is praiseworthy. There is none too much frankness on the part of our public men, and the people read with approval the statements of one who is not afraid to have his position known. If Grover Cleveland would make a similar declaration of his belief regarding a third term, he would increase the estimation in which individually he is held by the "American people."

Honesty of position, as well as of action, is what is needed in public life.

 The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address:
