WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Forecast—Tonight and tomorrow occasional rain.

Gen. J. B. Weaver speaks tonight on Populist issues at the Baldwin opera house.

The remains of Mrs. Bennett were taken to Tygh early this morning. The funeral will occur tomorrow.

Dr. Eshelman has commenced treating a patient with the aseptolin remedy, discovered by Dr. Cyrus Edson.

The first wool of the season was received at the Wasco warehouse today from the Baldwin Sheep and Land Co.

The Columbia hose company monthly meeting occurs tomorrow night. The Jackson Engine company met last night.

New today and fresh from the city, twenty novelty shapes and designs in spring sailors at "The Leader."—Mrs. M. E. Briggs. apr8-2t

Rev. Dora Barber, announced to speak in the Congregational church Thursday evening, will be unable to meet her engagement on account of illness.

Articles of incorporation have been filed for Hood River Lodge No. 105, A. F. & A. M. The incorporators are E. L. Smith, W. M.; W. M. Yates, S. W.; F. H. Botton, J. W.

The Democratic delegates to the county convention amused themselves yesterday evening at the Commercial Club by bowling and various other diversions the club affords.

The rates quoted on wheat hauled by the Regulator company in our statement Monday applied to last year, which resulted in a loss to the company. The present rate is $2 per ton, or about 6 cents per bushel.

The fishing season commences on April 10th, which is Friday. There is considerable trouble among fishermen around Astoria caused by strikes, extending even to the destruction of property. A good catch is expected this year all along the river.

Cobbett and Fitzsimmons are looking to Portland as the possible location for their coming mill. They have heard of the Carey-Simon scrap in the late Republican convention at Portland, and judge that the law against public encounters in the ring is inoperative.

A tramp, who was attempting to steal a ride on the train from Portland, was killed near Arlington at an early hour yesterday morning. The tramp had been put off the train once or twice, and the report states that he lost his hold and fell under the cars and was literally cut into pieces.

Mr. A. Anderson yesterday sold the Inland Star to A. Watt. It will now enter the river as a sailing yacht, and masts are being fitted to it today. It is also being ballasted. It is capable of comfortably seating 30 persons. The boat so far has had the reputation of being a Jonah.

At the annual parish meeting of St. Paul's Episcopal church, held last evening, the following persons were elected as wardens and vestrymen for the ensuing year. Wardens—L. S. Davis and C. N. Clark. Vestrymen—Joseph T. Peters, W. E. Walthers, F. Bronson, D. W. Vanuse and T. A. Hudson.

Maier & Benton have now removed into their new quarters recently vacated by I. C. Nickelsen, and have a very attractive store. The grocery establishment is on the east side, while the west side is devoted to hardware. With a large basement and a newly built workshop in the rear, which is commodious and well-lighted, the establishment has plenty of room for their increasing business.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. J. R. Bone went to Hood River today.

Mr. Horace Patterson went to Mosier this morning.

Mr. A. S. Mac Allister went to Portland on the boat.

Mr. Fred Wilson went to Portland on the early morning train.

Mr. J. A. Douthit went to Portland this morning to attend the Democratic state convention.

Mr. Will Lawrence of Portland returned this morning.

Messrs. W. N. Wiley, Harry Liebe, J. C. O'Leary and E. B. Dufur took the noon train today for Portland.

Mrs. E. L. Grimes arrived in the city yesterday from Portland, and is visiting her son, Mr. Monroe Grimes of this city.

Hon. Polk Mays of Wallawa stopped over at The Dalles on his way to the state convention, where he goes as a delegate.

Capt. Lewis has so far recovered from his late sickness as to be around again, and was noticed on the street this morning.

Mr. C. D. O'Leary took the afternoon train for Portland. He is a Democratic delegate to the state convention from Rutledge, Sherman county.

Miss Bell Reitz, Miss Emma Crossfield and Miss Laura Woodbury, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. O. McCoy, returned home this morning on the Regulator.

Messrs. E. B. Dufur, J. C. Johnson, T. W. Glavey and I. D. Driver went to Portland today to attend the Democratic state convention, which occurs tomorrow.

Mrs. George P. Morgan was up from the Locks yesterday and returned this morning. Mr. Morgan has rented the Craig property and the family will shortly remove to this city.

Mr. Warner M. Gilliam, who came down from Baker City to attend his brother's (the late J. A. Gilliam) funeral, left on the midnight train for his home, accompanied by his niece, Miss Nettie Cook of 3-Mile. Nettie will spend some time visiting relatives in that place.

MARRIED.

In this city at the residence of C. P. Driver, April 7th, 1896, by Justice Davis, John H. Chapman and Effie C. Williamson, both of Sherman county.

AN ARLINGTON TRAGEDY.

Philip Heppner Committed Suicide at the Warehouse Office.

News came by telephone this morning that Philip Heppner committed suicide by shooting himself with a pistol at the warehouse in Arlington about 9 o'clock this morning.

He had locked the door of the office, pulled down the curtains, and standing in front of the glass, placed the muzzle of the pistol just below his eye and fired the shot, which resulted in almost instant death. The report of the pistol was heard by Mr. L. C. Edwards, a druggist whose place of business is across the street, who rushed over and found Mr. Heppner breathing his last. No cause has yet been ascertained for the suicide.

Philip Heppner has owned the warehouse and been a business man of Arlington for years, and is well known. Henry Blackman, collector of customs at Portland, is his brother-in-law, and the town of Heppner is named for his brother, Henry Heppner. He has a sister in Boise City and one in San Francisco. He was unmarried, and was between 40 and 45 years of age.

"The Confederate Spy."

"The Confederate Spy" is a very thrilling play which is to be ably presented by home talent on April 14th. The following is the synopsis:

Act 1.—Pleasure grounds near the home of the Watermans. The interview. Maud's devotion to her Southern home. A mother's tears. Colonel Willard and his company. Sockery and his troubles. Drafted. George enlists. Off for the war.

Act 2.—Camp by moonlight. The blind planter. A letter from home. "The very ring." Sockery and his hams. Tableau: "The Soldier's Dream." Long roll. Fall in. Who stole those hams? The spy and rebel, Ainsley. Sockery in a bad fix. The tables turned. The spy captured and condemned to die. Ainsley's escape. Sockery and his booty gun.

Act 3.—Home of Maud Bradley. Sockery on guard. Maud and George. The Spy's anger. Friends. The plan of escape. Good-bye. Dot dear soldier. Taken prisoners. "I'll give you just one minute." Maud's heroism. Surrender. Glory mit der Shtary and Shtripes.

Act 4.—The secret out. George in danger. "My God, general, would you shoot me?" Banks wounded. A noble act. "Drop that sword."

Act 5.—Home again. Norah on the Chinese question. Mulgarry gets a black eye. The fatal telegram. News from the war. "My God! my boy is wounded." On track of the Spy. The deaf old man. "Great Heavens, what am I?" Discovered. Maud's alarm. Sockery. A sister's devotion. Hopeless and helpless. The reprieve. Happy denouement.

Weaver in The Dalles.

"J. B. Weaver, Colfax, Iowa."

This was the signature by Gen. Weaver which was made on the register at the Columbia hotel when The Dalles-Portland local pulled into town today. He was met by A. L. Reese and a CHRONICLE reporter, who upon being introduced, headed the reporter off, by saying he never permitted himself to be interviewed. When asked his reason he replied that he was frequently misquoted, or else the reporter couldn't understand what he said. He stated, however, that the state would be thoroughly canvassed this year by Populist speakers.

Gen. Weaver, who was the Populist candidate for president of the United States four years ago, has a very venerable appearance, his hair and mustache having become silvered during the many campaigns in which he has variously figured. He dresses faultlessly in a well-fitting suit of black, his carriage is erect and his walk sprightly. After speaking tonight on Populist issues at the Baldwin, he will proceed to Rufus on the 10:55 train.

Skin Grafting at Lost Valley.

Fossil Journal.

Dr. Howard was called twice to Lost Valley this week to dress the wounds of little Banna Knox, who was severely burnt through her clothes taking fire from a burning pile of rubbish two weeks ago. He found the little girl in a bad state, great pieces of flesh coming off her body with the bandages. Ever since the accident, the child has had to be nursed incessantly, night and day, her sufferings being intense. The doctor advised the parents to bring their daughter to town, so that he could perform the operation of skin grafting, by means of which he thinks he can save the child, and it is expected a relay of men will arrive in a day or two with the little sufferer on a litter.
