Forecast—Tonight and tomorrow fair and warmer.

A killing frost occurred yesterday morning throughout the Sacramento valley, doing great injury to fruit.

C. D. Moore of White Salmon, has just completed setting strawberry plants for A. P. Bateham on the Coe place at Hood River. He used a machine for doing the work that he learned to use in setting sweet potato plants in New Jersey. He set 15,000 plants a day for Mr. Bateham, and says he has set as high as 20,000 a day. Mr. Bateham says the work was well done.

Tuesday night several of the young ladies of the city were awakened from their slumbers by some very sweet strains of music, which it was concluded, from the familiarity of the voices, was furnished by members of the Artisan Club. Music never sounds so sweet as when heard in the stillness of the night, and judging from the pleasure the singing of these young gentlemen always affords, the ladies must have had a treat.

The lectures of Prof. F. A. Powell are listened to by large and appreciative audiences. Profound and rich, presented in his own manner, they have a telling effect on the hearers. Beside the excellent matter presented in his words, there is a strong speech in his appearance. Tonight his subject is "Jesuitism." The lectures will continue over Friday and Saturday evenings, and on Sunday morning he will deliver a sermon at the Christian church. Admittance to each lecture free. Time, 8 p. m.

On Tuesday evening the Methodist church was packed full, with a large number on the outside, to hear the temperance lecture by Mrs. Narcissa White Kinney. This talented lady meets with a cordial reception from all classes everywhere. She has a pleasing address, is temperate in her utterances, finds no place or necessity for abuse of anyone in her lectures, is always accorded a respectful hearing everywhere. In short, the lecture was one of the most masterly and eloquent ever delivered here on that subject.—Palouse Gazette. Mrs. Kinney will lecture here Tuesday, the 21st.

Wm. Landis and Ida Walters were arraigned at 10 o'clock this morning before Justice of the Peace L. S. Davis. The plaintiff, Walters, makes the charge of adultery. A plea was entered of not guilty. Testimony for the state was concluded before dinner. Mrs. Walters testified to having occupied a room with Landis two nights at the Cosmopolitan. The case was continued at 1 o'clock, resulting in the defendant's being bound over to await the action of the grand jury under $250 bonds. The case against Ida Walters was discharged.

Portland is just now exercised over a magnetic healer, styled "Hermann, the Healer," who is drawing large audiences. The Oregonian has the following, though it reads much like an advertisement: "The healer treated a great number of sufferers upon the stage, and, by his wonderful life-giving magnetism, restored paralyzed and rheumatic limbs to usefulness, and made the deaf hear and the blind see. Fully twenty cases were treated in all, and in every instance the patients demonstrated by their actions and testified by words the immediate and great benefit they derived from the simple touch of his wonderful magnetic hands."

Tammany Day.

A call has been issued by the great council of the United States Improved Order of Red Men for the proper celebration of Tammany Day, which anniversary falls on May 12th. Wasco Tribe No. 16 will make preparation throughout their hunting grounds to comply with the request. At the council fire last night a committee of arrangements was appointed who will see that the event is fittingly celebrated. There will be speeches, including an outline of the history of the order, good music, singing, and the usual entertainment fitting so important an event. Each member has the privilege of inviting a friend.

An Error About Cats.

An error about cats, and a truly vulgar one, is that they lie on young children's breasts and suck their breath or suffocate them. Cats like to lie on the breast of the person they love, and are apt to show their happiness by now and then lifting their heads for a kiss or gently touching the face or neck above them with their paw; this sort of patting or stroking a beloved cheek or throat is one of the more human habits which dogs have not. Seeing one of our cats lying on her master's chest when he was asleep on the sofa, I understood how the notion had taken root; then, too, cats are luxurious and fond of warmth, and may sometimes share a baby's crib or cradle for that reason, as dogs certainly do.—Temple Bar.

Australian Dogs.

A litter of puppies is at the clerk's office about three days old. They are very cute little animals, all marked alike. They know just enough to scramble over each other, apparently seeking something which their eyes, that have not emerged from the closed lids, forbid them attaining. They are kept in a large pasteboard box which is placed over the radiator to give warmth. The clerk informed a reporter that they were Australian dogs, and had been left by a party who took the train and consequently could not care for them. The mother had died. Of their characteristics he stated they were medium in size when grown, of a uniform brown color, very swift of foot and a splendid watch dog. The puppies are cared for very tenderly by the clerk, who feeds them from a bottle. There are seven. He desires to keep but one, and has already given two away, one to Mr. McArthur and one to Mrs. Frazier. Mrs. Hostetler and Mrs. D. M. French have spoken for two others. There are two left.

Tramp's Bluff Didn't Work.

A burly-appearing tramp appeared at the residence of Mrs. Verne Koontz this morning and, Mrs. M. D. L. French coming to the door, he asked for something to eat in an insolent tone. She is one of those kind of women who won't stand a bluff and she refused point blank. He then demanded some food, and was met with an equally determined front not to give it to him. He then said he would go away, but would come back "heeled" and she would be glad to give him something. She said she would be heeled too. She sent for the marshal, but there was a little trouble in finding him, and he did not appear soon enough to make the arrest. In the meantime the fellow had hung around the block and came back twice afterward, renewing his demands. Mrs. French maintained her position at the door until he finally went away and was lost to sight.

Driver and Glenn.

Sheriff Driver is frequently taken for Mr. Glenn by parties who imperfectly know them, and the first chance he found to benefit by the mistake was in Portland the other day when he went to arrest Wm. Landis and Ida Walters on a charge of adultery. Knocking at the door of the house Mrs. Walters opened it and promptly addressed him, "How do you do, Mr. Glenn." It was a very bright as well as a very sudden thought which occurred to Mr. Driver to permit the delusion to continue. He asked where Mr. Landis was, and when told he was away, told Mrs. Walters to tell him when he came home that Mr. Glenn wanted to see him at the Perkins for the purpose of hiring a cook on the Regulator. It was not long before Landis appeared at the room in the hotel, but he knowing both Glenn and Driver very well, appeared crestfallen to see the latter gentlemen instead of the one he sought. Landis was immediately arrested and locked up, and the sheriff got the other at his leisure. "I have often been mistaken for Glenn," said the sheriff, "but that is the first time it ever did me any good."

Squirrels Killed By the Thousands.

Squirrels do more damage in Wasco county annually than frosts or cold weather. A feasible plan of ridding the country of them would be gladly welcomed. In this connection the Spokesman-Review of Tuesday said:

Fourteen thousand, five hundred and twenty squirrel tails were received yesterday at the offices of the Spokane board of county commissioners. Of this number John L. Mullinix, of Graves precinct, brought in 6,654, all having been killed with poison.

Allen Gore, of Graves precinct, presented 4,894, and told an interesting story of his campaign. He started after "varmints" in dead earnest with strychnine and a Marlin rifle, capturing this entire army in eleven days. He expended $5 for ammunition and poison and in one day destroyed 1,020. For the 11 days he cleared over $4 a day and had all sorts of sport.

With one ounce of strychnine he got about 1,000 squirrels' tails, besides having the satisfaction of knowing that he had killed a great many more of the destructive pests.

His plan was to mix an ounce of strychnine with a coffee cupful of hot syrup. Having moistened a 10-pound bucketful of wheat with water, until the substance was soft, he poured the poisoned syrup over it and thoroughly stirred the whole mass. By adding a handful of flour, just enough to coat it nicely, he made an enticing and palatable, as well as effective dose.

The Spokane commissioners are convinced that the one-cent bounty plan is the most successful remedy for the squirrel pest that has ever been adopted in that county.
