A CHEERFUL (?) SITUATION.

We offer no apology for again discussing the subject which is uppermost in the minds of our citizens—the Cascade locks. The theme is as distasteful to us as to any one, yet new developments have arisen which require at least brief comment. Like the evidence constructed out of circumstances, which slowly weaves its net around the criminal in court, so the conviction is coming to many minds that the Oregon delegation cannot escape certain censure for the condition which exists regarding an open river.

A good deal has been said and written about the $179,000 appropriation contained in the sundry civil bill, and it was generally expected after the failure of the $20,000 resolution to be of any value, that the $179,000 item would complete the necessary work. With this thought in mind a good many people were surprised to read in Saturday's dispatches that Senator McBride had introduced a measure to be incorporated in the river and harbor bill appropriating $50,000, of which sum $20,000 is to build the oft-mentioned inner walls, the remainder to construct another lock, for what purpose the accommodating senator does not say; but presumably to give some one a job. These two conditions were at first irreconcilable, and are so yet, save on a hypothesis that a vast deal of chicanery and humbuggery has been going on.

The truth of the matter is, undoubtedly, that the $179,000 appropriation merely goes to reimburse the Days as money claimed to be earned. It will be remembered that by the terms of the contract ten per cent of the value of the work done was to be held back by the government till the contract was completed. The work provided for in the contract is now considered done. It will be remembered also that the engineers told members of the committee from The Dalles that some work had been done in advance by the contractors, for which they expected reimbursement from the government. In other words, a vast deal of excavation had been made, which was both unnecessary and aided in exhausting the funds, which if rightly managed, would have built two concerns like the one at Cascades. That the extra excavation could have been done without the connivance of the engineers is impossible.

With the $179,000 going to the Days, then, to reimburse them for work done and champagne drunk, upon what do the people depend for the completion of the locks? Simply upon the $50,000 measure introduced by Senator McBride, and how delusive such hopes may be can be seen when it is considered that the provision has yet to pass the senate; must then go to the house for passage or defeat, and worse yet, the money will not be available until a new contract will have been let, properly advertised, bonds given and approved—all of which will take the greater part of a year or more.

It is, moreover, a matter of hazard whether the $50,000 measure will run the gauntlet of congress. The senators and representatives may very justly say they are tired of passing measures for the Cascade locks. Someone may arise and ask "What is the matter with those people out there? One day they want $20,000 in the form of a resolution. We give it to them. Then they asked $179,000 in the sundry civil bill. We give it to them. Now they want $50,000 more. They must think congress hasn't anything else to do but vote money for the Cascade locks. They make me tired! Why didn't the Oregon delegation tack on the $50,000 to the $179,000 in the sundry civil bill, make it $229,000 and call it quits?" We wouldn't blame any congressman for uttering sentiments such as the above.

So then, we are entirely dependant upon McBride's $50,000 bill, and the chances of its passing are doubtful. If it should be successful, there is a deal of red tape yet to be gone through, and during the twelve months that may roll around, the locks will deteriorate and the $50,000 be needed to repair damages.

In the light of all this, how exquisitely ridiculous appear the telegrams that came flashing over the wire telling of the $20,000 resolution having passed and how the locks were rushing headlong to quick completion.

Juvenal could never pen satire stronger than that contained in the emanations from some of our delegation. Of what marvellous patience are the people composed? Most uncomplaining asses, we trudge along, taking every blow with a smile and kissing the hand that strikes us. Is there another nation on the face of the earth where such an outrage would be permitted? If there is, the Days and the engineers can kneel in their beds at night and thank God they are living in free and enlightened America, where the rights of the people are paramount to all things.

In the fall of 1893 a son of Mr. T. A. McFarland, a prominent merchant of Live Oak, Sutter county, Calif., was taken with a very heavy cold. The pains in his chest were so severe that he had spasms and was threatened with pneumonia. His father gave him several large doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which broke up the cough and cured him. Mr. McFarland says whenever his children have croup he invariably gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it always cures them. He considers it the best cough remedy in the market. None But Ayer's at the World's Fair. Ayer's Sarsaparilla enjoys the extraordinary distinction of having been the only blood purifier allowed on exhibit at the world's fair, Chicago. Manufacturers of other sarsaparillas sought by every means to obtain a showing of their goods, but they were all turned away under the application of the rule forbidding the entry of patent medicines and nostrums. The decision of the world's fair authorities in favor of Ayer's Sarsaparilla was in effect as follows: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine. It does not belong to the list of nostrums. It is here on its merits."

Sucklen's Arisac Salve. The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Blakeley and Houghton, druggists.

Blakeley & Houghton desire us to publish the following extract from a letter of Chas. M. Guileid of Reedley, Fresno county, Calif., as they handle the remedy referred to and want their customers to know what a splendid medicine it is: "It is with pleasure I tell you that by one day's use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy I was relieved of a very bad cold. My head was completely stopped up and I could not sleep at night. I can recommend this remedy." A cold nearly always starts in the head and afterwards extends to the throat and lungs. By using this remedy freely as soon as the cold has been contracted it will cure the cold at once and prevent it from extending to the lungs.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. Marvelous Results.
From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at River Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists. 1
