WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Forecast—Tonight and Saturday, continued rain.

Forty-five cases of salmon were packed at Herrick's cannery yesterday.

Mr. Wm. Michell, present county treasurer, has filed notice of his intention to run independently for that office for the coming term.

D. J. Cooper, who has superintended the department of farming at the penitentiary since October last, was relieved of his position yesterday, and John H. Porter was installed as his successor today.

Elmer Hemenway plucked near Springfield, in Lane county, last Wednesday, a cluster of wild strawberries that must have found a warm spot somewhere in nature's breast to be so far along.

A public installation and photograph social will be given tomorrow (Saturday) evening at 8 o'clock in K. of P. hall by The Dalles Lodge No 2, I. O. G. T. An open invitation is extended to all. Admission free.

The ladies of the Christian church will serve a chicken dinner, Friday, May 1, 1896, from 5 to 8 o'clock p. m., at the store formerly occupied by Maier & Benton on Second street, between Washington and Court streets.

Judge Bradshaw's record has been the highest at bowling until today, when it was broken by Mr. Lewis Porter, who raised it one point. The best records are now C. E. Stephens 48, Judge Bradshaw 52, Lewis Porter 53.

The water commission has collected in the last two months about $1,700. After paying current expenses there will be $1,600 to deposit in the bank who bids the highest rate of interest. The water commission is one of the best paying investments the city ever made. It will pay off our entire city debt yet.

A letter was received today by the land office officials from S. W. Lamoreaux, commissioner of the general land office, reversing its decision in favor of King in the case of the Eastern Oregon Land Co. vs. Rufus H. King. This decision gives unqualified possession to the company, and means the evacuation of 100 homesteaders more or less who have not yet obtained patents to the forfeited land grants of the Northern Pacific Ry. Co.

The committee on manufactures of the Commercial Club considered the proposition last night of boring a shaft for coal near Buchler's. The experiment is to cost $500, under the direction of Mr. E. B. Burns, who volunteers to charge nothing for his time if the experiment fails of result. The temper of the citizens on the proposition will be ascertained before a decided step is taken, as the amount must be raised by private subscription.

There will be an aiming and sighting drill at the armory tonight. Mr. Ad. Keller has volunteered to give the proper preliminary instruction, and will be present tonight. Every member of the militia should attend, as the drill is important. Besides, the law provides that every member of the National Guard must practice. The present season the instructions will be at 100 and 500 yard ranges, as per order from brigade headquarters. Visitors are welcome.

The 3-Mile Road.

At the invitation of Judge Blakeley, representatives of THE CHRONICLE and the Times-Mountaineer were driven over the new 3-Mile road yesterday afternoon. Its excellence as a fine road either for draft horses or driving teams, as told by many who have traversed it, was fully corroborated by the inspection of the newspaper men. There is nearly two miles of new road, beginning at 3-Mile bridge and extending this way, which is practically level, and after a winter's rains and snows have hardened it under use, it will be as nearly perfect as is possible to make it. The former road was rocky and full of ups and downs, and the hill descending to 3-Mile was very steep. As it is now it resembles a boulevard, the grade at no place being more than six inches to the rod, and has long level stretches, free of rock, the depressions filled, the elevations cut down, broad and straight, and will invite many a turnout the coming summer to traverse it. No less will the wool and wheat teamsters appreciate this excellent stretch of road, and though it is yet un-packed they already drive over it in preference to the old route. Several wagons loaded with wool were met on the new road, as was Mr. Schenck's roadster, which that gentleman was driving. It is extremely probable that the road from 3-Mile is used more than any other road in Oregon. The business of the whole country east, west and south converges to it. Mr. Williams, the supervisor, counted in one day last summer 700 teams either going or coming, which justifies all expenses incurred on our roads thus far, and points the excellence of the same vigorous policy for the future. There is no better way to quickly populate a section of country with a thrifty, industrious people than to furnish it with perfect means of egress and ingress by good public roads. This policy THE CHRONICLE has ever advocated in the past and will continue to encourage and advocate for the future.

These Must Go at Once.

A home with lot, worth $900; $750 takes it. Owner leaving city, and must sell. Three lots only five blocks from Court house. Lay in fair shape; $150 for the three. One fine business lot in heart of city; $800. Among a multitude of offerings, these three are the very best. Match them if you can.

SHERMAN COUNTY JURIES.

A Defendant Wins a Case, but Acknowledges It Is Unjust.

It is rare indeed that a successful defendant in a lawsuit voluntarily comes to the vanquished plaintiff and tells him he does not agree with the jury which gave him a verdict, and offers restitution in the fullest manner possible, but the experience of Mr. T. A. Hudson in Sherman county several weeks ago was just such a one.

He had leased a farm to a tenant in Sherman county for three years, drawing up a contract, which was signed, that he was to receive a certain share of the crop. The tenant failed to tender Mr. Hudson anything for two years, claiming, and perhaps truthfully, that he saw no way to spare to Mr. Hudson his share of the wheat, although truthfully due him. Hudson then asked him to draw up a note of $75 for the first year's crop, and allowed the conditions to stand regarding the second year. The farmer again failed to pay anything, either the note or the second year's share. Then Mr. Hudson began suit to abrogate the lease, for the recovery of the note and the share due him for the second year's crop. The jury, after listening to the case, allowed Mr. Hudson judgment of $1 on the note, nothing for the crop, and even considered the advisability of forcing Hudson out of the use of his land for another year, but for the instructions of the judge, who positively stated they could not take his land from him.

Mr. Hudson was disgusted, as well he might have been, but was much surprised when the defendant, his tenant, came to him and said he knew the jury had done him an injustice, that he didn't repudiate the just debt even if the jury did, and if Mr. Hudson would give him the use of the land another year, he would pay the share agreed upon for the entire three years. This was acceptable to Mr. Hudson, and he has just received from his tenant a signed contract that he is to be hired for wages this year, Hudson to sell the wheat, take his due for the three years and give his tenant what is left.

Mr. Hudson insists that he will have a change of venue in any Sherman county case after this.

Portland's Time to Help.

Lenman Blum, formerly of Pendleton, is in the city today soliciting subscribers to the new periodical entitled the "Pacific Northwest," issued by the Pacific Northwest Immigration Board of Portland. The recognized object of the board is to place in the hands of as many people in the west as the funds will permit a true statement of the resources and conditions of the various sections of the state that all who are looking to better their condition, may know where to locate. This is a worthy object, and should be encouraged. But would it not be well for Portland, before going into an enterprise of this kind and asking Eastern Oregon to assist her in this matter, to bring their powerful influence to bear upon our delegation in congress toward the speedy opening of the Columbia river to navigation, that their people whom they wish to attract to this great country may have some inducement to labor, with the prospect of reaching the great metropolis without paying excessive tribute to a railroad monopoly.

The Bowling Score.

The bowling contest between the married and the unmarried forces is developing much interest in Commercial and Athletic Club circles. The contest is spirited, and for the time the club rooms are the chief center of attraction. A "strike" is greeted with a great deal of satisfaction by the adherents of the side making it, and a corresponding depression is observed on the part of their opponents. The trials going on just now, the first of which occurred last night, are preliminary to the selection of the final teams, which are to determine the momentous question whether marriage is or is not advantageous from a sporting point of view. The trial last night would seem to indicate that it is not; however, there is yet plenty of time for the married to recuperate, and a new set of players may indicate the opposite. The following is the score in detail made last night:

MARRIED.		UNMARRIED.
W H Wilson	24 26	F W Wilson	29 24
Bradshaw	25 20	N J Sienott	39 19
