WHY? have we taken hold of the VICTOR BI-CYCLE as our leading Wheel.

Because after thoroughly testing a dozen different makes, we have come to the conclusion that the VICTOR is the BEST.

Because it is mechanically perfect, and while not TOO LIGHT for our bad roads, yet it runs the easiest.

Because it has a tire that, while light, is almost PUNCTURE PROOF. (We will repair all punctures free for the season on 1896 Victor Tires.)

We have 1896 Bicycles that list at $100 that we will sell for $75, but they are not VICTORS. Our 1896 VICTORS sell for $100.

For medium grade bicycles, we have the Waverley and Crescents—$50 to $85. Good second hand wheels, $25 to $50.

Bicycles and Tandems for rent. Wheels repaired. We keep constantly on hand a good stock of compressed air, for inflating tires, and give it away. Get your tires inflated.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Forecast—Probably fair tonight; tomorrow warmer.

A large lot of doors came up on the Regulator last night for J. T. Peters & company.

Several "sure-thing" gamblers are in the city from Portland. They never play to lose.

The wind of Thursday was the highest this season, ranging from twenty-five to thirty miles an hour.

Mr. N. H. Gates has opened up a law office in the Gates block, across Union street from the court house.

There will be a drill of East End Hose Co., No. 3, this evening at 7 o'clock. All members are expected to attend.

Attention is called to the change of time for evening service at the Congregational church from 7:30 to 8 o'clock. Meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. at 7.

Mr. D. M. McKelvey came in from Antelope last night with seventeen loads of wool. He says the Harris grade is in the best shape he ever saw it, and E. K. Russell has also perfected his part of the road.

The first number of the Dufur Dispatch reaches our table. It is well filled with local and general news and has a good advertising patronage. We welcome it to our exchange list and wish it unqualified success.

Parties from the Cascade Locks say that Mr. V. C. Lewis, Democratic candidate for joint representative, will withdraw from the race. We have nothing authoritative to state as to the correctness of the report.

A rumor was current today that Hon. T. R. Coon will run independently for joint representative for Wasco and Sherman counties as a Mitchell Republican. There is no petition yet filed at the clerk's office for his candidacy.

Mr. A. J. Brigham will speak upon the political questions of the day at Union school house, Saturday May 9th, at 2 p. m.; Wanic May 11, at 7:30 p. m.; at Kingsley May 12th, at 7:30 p. m. Special invitation to all interested in the silver question.

All Oregon and Washington items in the river and harbor bill went through the senate without opposition yesterday, including the appropriation for the boat railway at The Dalles and the Seattle canal. There will be a fight on both items in the conference.

The Eastern quails, recently brought from Illinois by Ed Hinman and turned out above town, seem to take kindly to the change of climate, and their pleasant cry of "Bob White" makes our citizens from the East exclaim involuntarily, "Johnny get your gun."—Dufur Dispatch.

It is no secret in Portland that large booths are fitted up for hobos, who in return for two meals a day and lodging, sign a contract to stay in Portland until June 1st to vote a certain ticket. A system of pegging is enforced whereby the hobos cannot fraudulently eat a third meal in any one day. Politics in Portland smells to heaven.

Dr. Campbell and wife came up from Portland on the local train with the remains of their child, Josephine, aged 5 years and 4 months, who died in Portland. The family propose to locate here, and the child will be buried here, the funeral taking place from the Episcopal church tomorrow.

On Monday while Mr. A. Howle, accompanied by Miss Annie Heisler, was driving into The Dalles, when going down the Benson hill, the horses shied suddenly, throwing Miss Heisler out of the wagon. Fortunately no serious injuries resulted from the fall, but the lady was considerably frightened.—Dufur Dispatch.

The weather has been cool and cloudy, and the river is yet at a very low stage for this time of year. An unusually high water is certain, though few believe it will approach the height of 1894. Mr. DeHuff does not believe the road-bed is endangered, though looking for very high water. A sudden and continued spell of warm weather would precipitate a vast volume of water from the Snake and upper Columbia, and there is no telling what height the river would attain.

THE MAN WAS KILLED.

A Fatal Ending of the Accident the Other Day.

A few days ago THE CHRONICLE spoke of a man who had lain next to the track, with his head on the rail, and escaped without injury. Today the Oregonian reports the finding of his body. His injuries must have escaped the hasty examination made by the trainmen, and his apparent stupor from drunkenness would have been the same from the blow received by the train.

The name of the man was M. M. Brummet, evidently of St. Paul, Marion county.

The body was not discovered until yesterday morning, when the engineer of No. 1, coming west, about 7 o'clock, saw what he thought was a man lying asleep alongside the track. He reported the fact at Troutdale, and the section boss, on going to the place, found the man dead, and also cold and stiff, showing that he had been dead many hours. The remains were taken on a handcar to Troutdale, and Coroner Cornelius telegraphed for.

An examination of the body showed the face cut open from the nose up diagonally across the left eye, and the skull crushed, the result of a blow from the sharp edge of the cow catcher on the locomotive. The rest of the body was intact, without even a bruise, and the jury's and coroner's conclusions were that Brummet, who was under the influence of liquor, had lain down outside of the track, which sloped off, with his head resting on the track, in which position, and being drunk, he fell into a deep sleep, and was a ready victim for the engine when thundering along in the night at a 45-mile gait.

Dr. De Kennet's Lecture.

The illustrated lecture on Russia last night was very entertaining and instructive, as previously promised. "The Heart of Russia" is Moscow and the views were principally taken from that city. The chief buildings of interest were the Kremlin and church of St. Basil, the latter the most fantastic and gaudy-colored in existence. The architect was an Italian whose eyes were put out by Ivan the Terrible for fear he would design a handsomer one. The Kremlin was the former palace of the emperor, surrounded by sixteen miles of walls of masonry, twenty feet high and nineteen feet thick. The great need of Russia is railroads. The lecturer drew a contrast between the politics of Russia and the United States. Towns and communities select their own mayor and other officers by ballot, and not by appointment as generally supposed. Dr. De Kennet said that while in America a man would spend $10,000 to secure a $3,000 office, in Russia it was hard to induce a man to take an office, and had to be coaxed and flattered a good deal before he would accept the nomination. The cause of this is there is no salary attached to Russian municipal offices. In like manner there are higher assemblies of the people who select judges and attend to governmental affairs much like our state legislatures.

The religion of Russia is the Greek church, resembling the Roman Catholic in some respects, but there are four principal points of difference. The Russian church does not admit nor recognize the temporal power of the pope; the priests must be married men instead of celibates; the churches have no seats; and the choirs are all composed of men. Over the principal door which leads to the kremlin is a statue of Jesus, and no living man on this earth may go through that door without removing his hat, be he monarch or plebeian. A very good likeness of the present emperor, Nickolaus II, and the empress was shown. Nickolaus was described by the lecturer as being the best of emperors, the least autocratic, enterprising, and well loved by his 120,000,000 subjects.

Leaving Russia, Dr. De Kennet produced an excellent likeness of the Midwinter fair, which he treated with marvelous mechanical effects in lighting, coloring, etc., the whole dissolving into a patch of magnificent clouds, colored with all the accuracy of nature. There were also some excellent Columbia river views, which drew forth the admiration of the audience. The entertainment concluded with a magnificent allegorical picture of Columbia bearing the flag of our country, prefaced by the remark, "I will now show you a flag which never saw defeat."

Burglars at Hood River.

The stores of A. S. Blowers & Co. and R. Rand & Son were burglarized last Saturday night. Blowers' store was broken into by prying off the outside lock with a pick. Nothing was taken from this store, so far as could be noticed. The cash drawer was found to be empty, and it is presumed money was what they wanted. At Rand's store they carried off the cash register, and taking it over to E. L. Smith's barn, bursted it open and secured $1.85. The tools used by the burglars were secured by first breaking into John R. Nickel-son's blacksmith shop.
