THE TRUE POSITION TO TAKE.

It comes to us from Democratic sources that Hon. B. S. Huntington in a speech at Wasco stated that if elected to the legislature he would "vote for no man for United States senator who is not a Republican.

Whether or not Mr. Huntington made this statement at Wasco, we are not certain; but he certainly did at other places, and we honor him for it. Mr. Huntington is a candidate for the legislature upon the Republican ticket, and it is safe to assume he is a believer in Republican principles. If so, how could he possibly, as long as a glimmer of conscience remained to him, vote for a Democrat for United States senator? If Mr. Huntington is elected to the legislature it will be because of his personal worth and the added consideration that he will vote for a Republican for United States senator.

Mr. Huntington has many warm friends who are enthusiastic in his support, but if it were deemed possible, which it is not, that he would vote for a Democrat for United States senator, those friends could not support him.

Let it be understood, and unequivocally so, that not only Mr. Huntington, but Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Moore and Mr. Jones, will work and vote for a Republican for United States senator, and in case a deadlock ensues, they will refuse to vote for a Democrat.

It is better that Oregon be unrepresented in the senate than that a Democrat be chosen from this state. Have we not had enough of Democrats? Has not the country suffered enough from this un-American, free-trade, bond-selling, debt-creating, prosperity-destroying administration, without a Republican being criticised because, like an honorable man, he comes out and says he will not vote for a Democratic United States senator? Well we think so, rather.

THE END OF IT.

An issue has arisen between the Times-Mountaineer and THE CHRONICLE relative to the price of Wasco county warrants in 1892. The matter was considered settled until an editorial appeared in last night's Mountaineer which gave the understanding that our contemporary was not fully satisfied with the truth of our statements. The editorial is as follows:

The controversy regarding the price of Wasco county warrants in 1892 has been made almost as clear as mud by the explanation offered in The Chronicle. It mentions 1892 warrants bought by Dr. Logan at par, but those warrants were bought in 1893, as the cancelled checks the doctor holds show. What we have said, and still maintain, is that warrants of Wasco county, issued for small amounts, the payment of services rendered for the county by individuals, jurors, witnesses, etc., were not at par in 1892.

The issue is a plain one. Either county warrants were at par in 1892 or they were not. If purchasers of warrants paid for them 100 cents upon the dollar, then the contention made by THE CHRONICLE that warrants were at par is proved.

The fact of the matter is, county warrants in 1892 sold at par; that is all there is to the question.

The editor of the Mountaineer, who is an honorable gentleman, and one for whom we entertain the highest possible regard, has lived in this community but a few months, and has relied upon the statements of friends. We do not think Mr. Douthett would intentionally deceive any one, and are fully convinced that when the facts are placed before him he will view the question in its proper light.

On Nov. 23, 1892, a warrant drawn in favor of J. H. Fisk for $200 was presented to the county treasurer for payment. It is number 233 in series 35. The warrant came into the possession of J. H. Phirman and by him was sold to Dr. H. Logan, the price paid being $200, which is as near par as anything can conveniently get. Dr. Logan's check was drawn and paid November 26, 1892, and can now be seen at this office.

But the Mountaineer maintains that warrants for small amounts did not sell at par. Here is one that did: A warrant drawn in favor of J. H. Mullan for $6, Series 34, No. 505, was sold to Dr. Logan for $6. This one was purchased July 23, 1892. There wasn't much discount in that instance. But there were smaller ones yet. A warrant presented to the treasurer July 11, 1892, for $3 was sold July 19, 1892, for $3. The redeemed checks in all these instances are at this office. Besides we have in our possession many other checks which were issued in payment for county warrants bought in 1892 AT PAR.

It is possible that in some isolated cases warrants for small amounts were sold at a discount. This would be but natural in the ordinary course of business when circumstances might compel the seller to dispose of his scrip hurriedly without an opportunity to look over the market. But the exceptions prove the rule.

THE CHRONICLE does not blame Judge Blakeley because county warrants took a slump during his term of office. It was due to other causes than his administration; but we certainly refuse to give him credit for performing something he did not perform.

It is furthermore true that the checks referred to in the Mountaineer as being drawn in 1893 were drawn during January of that year so that our contemporary has been doing some special pleading.

In fine the conclusion of the whole matter is that county warrants in 1892 sold at par. If the statements of THE CHRONICLE are doubted, let the doubter inquire of French & Co., the First National Bank, The Dalles National or Dr. Logan and see how completely our contention is sustained.
