WHY? have we taken hold of the VICTOR BICYCLE as our leading Wheel.

Because after thoroughly testing a dozen different makes, we have come to the conclusion that the VICTOR is the BEST.

Because it is mechanically perfect, and while not TOO LIGHT for our bad roads, yet it runs the easiest.

Because it has a tire that, while light, is almost PUNCTURE PROOF. (We will repair all punctures free for the season on 1896 Victor Tires.)

We have 1896 Ribcycles that list at $100 that we will sell for $75, but they are not VICTORS. Our 1896 VICTORS sell for $100.

For medium grade bicycles, we have the Waverley and Crescents—$50 to $85. Good second hand wheels, $25 to $50.

Bicycles and Tandems for rent. Wheels repaired. We keep constantly on hand a good stock of compressed air, for inflating tires, and give it away. Get your tires inflated.

The Wasco warehouse received a large consignment of wool this afternoon.

The river this morning stood at 19.3, a rise of over a foot since yesterday.

A complaint was filed today at the clerk's office in case of C. M. Woods vs. H. P. Woods.

In the circuit court today, Judge Bradshaw appointed Sinnott & Sinnott to defend J. R. Chapman, charged with larceny from a dwelling.

Milton and Dollie Nobles are booked for The Dalles on the 3d and 4th inst. This company has attained wide popularity all over the United States.

Messrs. Otto and Peter Yaisli, of Cross Keos, are in the city. These gentlemen are extensive wool raisers of Crook county, and have come to The Dalles with a portion of their clip.

The grand jury has considered the criminal cases before this term of circuit court, rendering a true bill in the case of State vs. Chapman, and not a true bill in the case of State vs. Carl Thomas and State vs. Wm. Landis.

Hon. Wilson T. Hume of Portland will deliver a Republican address in this city Thursday night at the courthouse. On the evening following, in the same place, Mr. S. C. Spencer, a Portland attorney, will deliver an address. Thursday Hume, Friday Spencer.

The funeral of Mrs. Travis took place today from the Catholic church. The remains were brought down from Grant on the morning train. The deceased was the mother-in-law of Mr. Gaylord, the O. R. & N. agent at the station named.

Mr. S. Price who came to Oregon in '52, brought with him at the time a $1 bill, which he exhibited to a CHRONICLE reporter this morning. It was issued by the state from the Miami county bank at Troy, and at the time was good in Indiana, Ohio and a portion of Kentucky.

Among the many beautiful floral tributes given to members of the High School graduating class was one prepared by the Velarde family. This was a ship—the hull covered with white flowers—surrounded by a ring of yellow Austrian roses, and the rigging trimmed with smilax. The piece was one of the most artistic we have ever seen.

One of the strongest attractions at the Crittenton meetings is the singing of Mr. Wallace and his direction of the vocal music. Possessing a good voice of great depth, of which he has a complete mastery and wonderful expression, many are led to the meetings who love to hear the beauties of the human voice. As a leader of congregational singing he was never before equalled in The Dalles.

The Florence Mission rescue work is the title of one of the most interesting subjects handled by the Crittenton evangelists. This is a work which appealed to Mr. Crittenton's efforts and fortune and for the success of which he is devoting the best labor of his life. It is a labor of redeeming the fallen from the damning criticism of an uncharitable world, to rescue their bodies from destruction and their souls from spiritual death. Tomorrow night at armory hall at 7:30.

A comprehensive picture of childhood was presented this afternoon at the Crittenton meeting at armory hall. A sea of bright little faces, aptly named to listen to the story of Jesus' love for them was one of the most inspiring and elevating sights that mortal may wish to see. Very handsome they looked in their variously-colored array, each little face wearing an expression of earnestness and innocence, and an inspiration must have been to the evangelists and Christian ministers who are trying to show them the way, the truth and the life thus early in their career.

Judge A. S. Bennett, Democratic nominee for congress, speaks at the court house this evening. Political speaking is a new departure for Judge Bennett, but if we may believe the Astorian, a Republican newspaper, he is as interesting and logical on the stump as before a judge on the bench. The Astorian says that as a political speaker Judge Bennett far excels the best efforts of Col. Weaver and the leading lights of Populism. This may be equivocal praise, and we would much rather the Astorian had compared him with notable Republican speakers, but then Judge Bennett may be safely put down as a powerful speaker, from his record before our courts in this and neighboring counties.

A little the warmest locality in the present campaign will be Weston next Friday. There is to be a great Pioneers' gathering there on that date, and ten thousand people are expected to be gathered together from all over the country. The three parties have consequently made a great effort to influence voters, and will send their best speakers. The Republicans have selected Hon. T. T. Gear, Republican candidate for supreme judge. The Democrats have pinned their faith to Judge A. S. Bennett, while the Populists are preparing to sweep away both Republican and Democratic opposition, and incidentally everything, before the oncoming, resistless "Cyclone" Davis.

POOR OLD SALLY AGAIN.

From Cold and Hunger Her Child is Passing Away.

Some time since mention was made in the CHRONICLE of "Sally," an Indian woman who works hard all day at the washtub for 25 cents, and who does not earn money enough to maintain life and care for her sick daughter. In consequence that daughter is today dying—dying from cold, hunger and neglect. In trembling and uncouth language she informed a patron last week that she would not be able to wash the coming week, for her girl would not live long and she must be at her bedside waiting for the end. She begged for a pair of stockings to furnish warmth to the one being on this earth she most dearly loves, who, unattended by a doctor, her frame emaciated by disease and insufficient food, and her body so scantily clad that she is constantly chilled, is dying.

This week she again appeared with a new and terrible trouble. While at Seuffer's cannery a Chinaman accidentally cut her on the wrist with a huge knife while chopping salmon. The wound is a serious one. The two sides of a triangular space, about two inches in length, are depressed, showing the presence of a deep wound. She suffers great pain constantly, but has no "chickamin" (money) to purchase either medicine or medical attendance.

Poor old Sally's troubles will soon be over. She will shortly stand at the brink of a grave, where her great maternal love will be buried with her child; the heavy earth pressing over the loved form will communicate its weight to her be-reaved heart. With crushing sadness, but savage fortitude, she will return to her desolate hearthstone, and with heart sick and body racked with pain, she will endure as best she may the short span of life that yet remains to her before her spirit takes its flight to that realm where cold cannot pierce, where hunger cannot gnaw, and where let us hope, there will be no lack of comforts that a fond mother may not bestow on her child. May that love be eternal, unthwarted and measureless.

The Evangelists.

The subject of the Bible reading yesterday afternoon was "Assurance," at which time a fair-sized audience greeted Mr. Crittenton.

It was 8 o'clock last evening before the leaders announced the first hymn, and a short praise and prayer service was held, at the close of which the solo by Mr. Wallace, "My Old Country Home," was finely rendered, he being assisted by a refrain, which seemed to come from the sides of the stage. After the solo Mr. Crittenton made the announcements and distributed a large number of cards of invitation, to be given out to induce all the children in the town to attend the children's meeting this afternoon at the armory. Also cards of invitation were distributed to those present to give to their friends and neighbors inviting them to attend the lecture on Wednesday evening on the subject of the "Florence Mission Rescue Work."

Eight forty-five had been reached before the regular services began, and Mr. Carpenter in commencing urged that as many as could attend the meeting at the Congregational church tomorrow afternoon, led by Mr. Crittenton, on the subject of "Consecration."

MR. CARPENTER.

Mr. Carpenter took for his text Jeremiah xii:5, "If thou hast run with the footmen and they have wearied thee, then how canst thou contend with the horses? And if in the land of peace, wherein thou trustest, they weary thee, then how wilt thou do in the swelling of the Jordan?" The speaker said life was full of mile-stones, and every moment we were nearing the last mile-stone of life, and we should be prepared for that last mile-stone, the swelling of the Jordan, and then the end would be glorious. He spoke very touchingly of never having seen his mother, but believed he should know her in the world to come, when life's race is run.

After the address an invitation was given and cards distributed to those wishing for prayers and who were willing now to start on the Christian life. The beautiful hymn "We Are Passing Away" was very affecting, and the audience showed how deeply it was moved by the solemn quiet that came over it.

The meeting closed by Mr. Crittenton asking the Christians present to refrain from talking of other subjects than those of a serious nature, especially with those unconverted, after which the benediction was pronounced.
