THE NICHE THAT REED FILLS.

A few months ago the name of Thomas B. Reed was mentioned as frequently and as earnestly for the presidency as was that of William McKinley. The storm of McKinleyism which has swept over the country, carrying every candidate before it, has left Reed far to one side, till the question "Will he accept the vice-presidency?" is asked more frequently than "Can he be nominated for the first place?"

Conceding that the latter is impossible, which now seems very likely, we do not think Mr. Reed would view with pleasure the situation of being an associate in a secondary capacity, with McKinley on the national ticket. Reed's boom started with too many flying colors to come to such an end. It would be considered that the sacrifice would not be one of dignity.

With the one exception of profiting by the untimely death of the president, the vice-presidency has little to offer to a man of Reed's calibre, and the exception mentioned is not one that appeals to men of fine feelings. The duties of the office do not call for the exercise of great administrative nor executive ability. Even the choice of appointing the various senate committees rests in the leaders of the dominant political party, with concessions made to the minorities. If the vice-president be sufficiently versed in parliamentary law as not to make embarrassing blunders, he will finish his term with having added or detracted nothing from his previous fame as a statesman.

Mr. Reed's character is not of a kind to suffer such restraint. His position in the public eye is unique. He is known as the man who has broken the idols of antiquity in the house of representatives and transformed that body into one capable of work. As speaker of the house he has a controlling share in legislation far more than he would as presiding officer of the senate. He has the direct appointment of committees and can reward political friends and avenge his enemies.

Reed has made his record as speaker of the house. The country wants him there, and so long as a Republican majority predominate and the "man from Maine" be a representative in congress, there will be but one name mentioned for the speakership.

He will not succeed in his presidential aspiration this time. He may never be successful; but his fame will be greater and more lasting if it be made as Webster, Clay and Blaine made theirs—not by being president nor vice-president, but being leaders of their party and statesmen in the fullest sense. And is not such fame as worthy as any?

St. Louis has disgraced herself in the eyes of all good American citizens. The country thought better of her than to think that the prejudices of ante bellum days would last through all these years. The negroes who are delegates to the Republican National Convention are men of ability and character, else they would not occupy the positions they do. Undoubtedly they are far superior in every way to the men who are giving them this churlish treatment. There are two things the Republican National Committees could do with perfect propriety—either pass a vote of censure upon St. Louis and her citizens or decide peremptorily to move the convention to Chicago or some other city. If no better accommodations could be found let the meeting be held in a circus tent. The Republican party has done too much for the colored man to allow him to be spat upon in this manner.

FEED UPON SALT WATER.

Countless Living Things That Exist in the Depths of the Ocean.

The salts of the sea have fed throughout all time countless things which have thronged its waters and whose remains now form the rocks of the continents or lie spread in beds of unknown thickness over 66,000,000 square miles of the 143,000,000 square miles of the ocean's floor; they have lent the substance to build the fringing reefs of the land and all the coral islands of the sea, and there are at present, on the basis of an average salinity of 3 1/2 per cent, in the 290,700,000 cubic miles of water which makes up the oceans, 90,000,000,000,000,000 tons, or 10,173,000 cubic miles of salt. This is sufficient to cover the areas of all the lands of the earth with a uniform layer of salt to a depth of 1,000 feet.

It seems, says Popular Science Monthly, that the sea was made salt in the beginning as a part of the grand design of the Creator to provide for the system of evolution which has been going on since the creation. Many distinct species of living organisms live in the sea as a result of its salinity, and their remains have largely contributed to the growth of continents. The three great factors in accounting for the system of currents in the ocean, by which it becomes the great heat distributor of the globe, are changes of temperature, the winds and salinity. The last mentioned becomes an important factor through the immediate and essential differences of specific gravity and consequent differences of level that it produces in different parts of the ocean through the action of evaporation and rainfall.

Forecast—Today and tomorrow fair and warmer.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Many years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the "Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., compounded this medicine of vegetable ingredients which had an especial effect upon the stomach and liver, rousing the organs to healthful activity as well as purifying and enriching the blood. By such means the stomach and the nerves are supplied with pure blood; they will not do duty without it any more than a locomotive can run without coal. You can not get a lasting cure of Dyspepsia, or indigestion, by taking artificially digested foods or peepsin—the stomach must do its own work in its own way. Do not put your nerves to sleep with so-called celery mixtures, it is better to go to the seat of the difficulty and feed the nerve cells on the food they require. Dyspepsia, indigestion, Biliousness and Nervous Affections, such as sleeplessness and weak, nervous feelings are completely cured by the "Discovery." It puts on healthy flesh, brings refreshing sleep and invigorates the whole system.

Mrs. K. Henck, of No. 866 North Halsted St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I regard my improvement as simply wonderful. Since taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in connection with his Pleasant Pellets I have gained in every respect, particularly in flesh and strength. My liver was dreadfully enlarged and I suffered greatly from dyspepsia. No physician could give relief. Now, after two months I am entirely relieved of my disease. My appetite is excellent; food well digested; bowels regular and sleep much improved."

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c and $1 per bottle at the Snipes-Kinnersly drug store.

How to Cure Rheumatism.

ARAGO, Coos Co., Oregon, Nov. 10, 1893.—I wish to inform you of the great good Chamberlain's Pain Balm has done my wife. She has been troubled with rheumatism of the arms and hands for six months, and has tried many remedies prescribed for that complaint, but found no relief until she used this Pain Balm; one bottle of which has completely cured her. I take pleasure in recommending it for that trouble. Yours truly, C. A. Bollard. 50 cents and $1.00 bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton's Drug Store.

$100 Reward $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CHESEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75 cents.
