THE TARIFF LEAGUE.

The American Tariff League has issued a manifesto signed by its president, Cornelius N. Bliss. The work of the league in the cause of protection has produced great results wherever it is known, and the scope of its influence should be made coterminous with the country. The league will disseminate tariff literature extensively during the coming campaign, and Republicans would do well to take advantage of its liberal offers and post themselves with facts and figures to overcome their free trade friends. We gladly publish the announcement of the League:

"The American Protective Tariff League is grounded upon the fundamental idea that the American people ought to produce for itself all those things which it needs except those upon which nature has placed an embargo. Thus, as far as our present knowledge goes, tea and coffee cannot be naturally and economically produced on American soil. It would, therefore, be an offense against sound policy to seek by tariff measures to encourage their production here. On such articles the duty would be purely for revenue. Another condition, however, appears when the disadvantage under which we labor arises out of the wage cost of human effort. This raises at once the question of civilization, for it is indisputable that the comparative return which labor receives by way of reward for its service in the main determines the quality of the civilization which the vast body of people may be able to sustain.

"The Tariff League, therefore, finds its field in educating the people to understand that the simple and only way in which that standard can be maintained is to put such a tariff duty on articles produced in another country as will recognize the difference between the labor cost in this and the other country on like products. This is simply the difference between the money cost of maintaining the civilization of the competing country. Rightly understood, this will furnish the raison d'etre of the Tariff League.

"It does not, however, seek to furnish specific planks for Republican platforms. It desires only that every tariff shall breathe the spirit of the League's philosophy, which is that protection should be adequate to maintain what the Americans rightly demand their homes shall be. The application of this test to any particular industry will at once suggest the substance of a party plank and the suitable scope of a tariff law which will make it effective, and the American producer should have the benefit of any doubt as to the amount of protection necessary to produce this result."

Outside of Colorado, Utah and Nevada the silver bolters are meeting with little enthusiasm. There seems to be a feeling in other places that the speeches of the silver men have a decidedly metallic ring. The sincerity of their convictions is beginning to be questioned.

Congressman Ellis has been heard from and declares that the St. Louis platform is a good thing and should be pushed along. Incidentally he remarks that it is not opposed to the free coinage of silver at a ratio different than 16 to 1. Mr. Ellis has the happy faculty of seeing things as he wishes to see them, not as they really are.

Pendleton is thinking of contributing $2,000 towards building a telephone line from that place to Canyon City. The investment would ultimately prove a good one, and aid in securing trade from a large area. One of these days The Dalles will extend a telephone line to the interior, and the sooner it is done the better.

A Carload to Chicago.

The berry growers of Union county expect to put up a carload for shipment to Chicago. Mr. J. D. McKennon, of La Grande, who goes to assist in the nomination of a Democratic president, will look after the shipment when it arrives in Chicago, and will see that the berries go at the best market price. The shipment is in the nature of an experiment, both for the purpose of determining how the fruit will stand such a long haul, and the price it will bring. If it is successful, it will be immediately followed with another lot and possibly all the remainder of the crop will go to that market.—Chronicle.

CURES BY ELECTRICITY.

Card From Mr. Austin Telling How His Wife Was Cured of Total Blindness.

THE DALLES, Or., June 28, 1896.—MR. EDITOR:—Hearing of Dr. Darrin's advent in The Dalles, I wish to make known what he has done in my family. Eight years ago my wife was totally blind from what the doctors called "nervous abhorrence of sight." In that condition she visited him and was cured, so she could see as well as ever in her life. I know of hundreds who have been as miraculously cured. I am employed on the railroad and stopping at the Umatilla house when in The Dalles, and can be referred to. I most earnestly recommend the afflicted from whatever cause, to consult Dr. Darrin. It will not be out of place to say the doctor performs his cures by electricity in the majority of cases. W. H. AUSTIN.

Dr. Darrin will remain in The Dalles at The Umatilla house until July 3d.
