THE FIGHT ON MONEY

Hill's Resolution Denouncing Silver.

IT IS SIGNED BY CLEVELAND

Eighty Minutes Debate Allowed—Tillman Swings His Arms for Fifty Minutes of It.

(Special to THE CHRONICLE.)

CHICAGO, July 9.—The convention was called to order at 11 a. m. The Committee on platform have added an anti-A. P. A. plank and formulated a resolution granting civil and religious liberty to every citizen. Senator Jones of Arkansas presents the platform and Senator Hill presents a resolution endorsed by President Cleveland denouncing free silver. One hour and twenty minutes was given to the debate for each side. The plank endorsing present administration was loudly cheered. Tillman of South Carolina speaks for fifty minutes. He claims the newspapers have misrepresented him as the "Pitchfork man" from the South. (Laughter.) He says we are to inaugurate a war to liberate the "white slaves," and denounces the gold owners. He says he will have his say if it takes till sundown. He denounces Cleveland, calls him a traitor and denounces bonds. Tillman finishes at 12:35. Hill takes the platform and denounces Tillman. He favors international bimetalism.

Bryan of Nebraska takes the platform. He says: "We will support the majority in money matters." He also favors an income tax. He draws comparisons between Jefferson and Hill, and says he prefers to stand with the former. He says the gold standard means government legislation in the hands of a foreign government. Great cheering and cries of "nominate him." A vote on the platform was ordered. Hill's motion for a gold plank was voted down.

Hill moved to indorse the Cleveland administration. The vote resulted ayes 357, noes 564, not voting 9. (Cheering and hissing.) Recess until 6 p. m.

CUBANS ARRESTED.

Detained by Health Authorities in Jamaica.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, July 8.—An official recognized rumor has been current in Kingston that a Spanish warship recently secretly landed a force at Dry harbor to kidnap a Cuban, alleged to be the chief mover in a filibustering expedition.

This place is conveniently situated at a lonely spot near Dry harbor. In the neighborhood are many of the old Spanish ruins, in the secret cellars of which it is known that the Cuban insurgents have from time to time hidden arms and shipped them off to Cuba at their leisure, defying the native detectives, who have always failed to locate those store places.

Matters stood thus when a few days ago just before daylight an open boat with 11 men arrived just off Runaway bay on the north side of the island. The boat had come from Cuba, and those on board were Captain L. Prado, Senor Zelamoa, J. J. Lumones, R. Magarro, P. Forma, G. Lavis, M. Laro, P. P. Morales, a servant and two reporters for American papers. They had come, it subsequently transpired, with dispatches from Antonia Maceo for the Cuban junta here.

Three of the men were put ashore at Runaway bay with instructions to make their way with all speed to Kingston, on the opposite side of the island. The men traveled by road and reached the railroad line at the Ewarton station. When about to board the train the three were arrested by a police sergeant and taken to Dry harbor. The medical authorities ordered the men and the police who arrested them and the driver of the conveyance from Ewarton to Dry harbor to be placed in quarantine. Senor Ron-den, president of the junta and a couple of prominent Cubans finally went over to Dry harbor, but were not permitted to approach closer than 100 yards from those in quarantine.

They carried on a conversation in Spanish with the messengers, who brought reports of the recent battle in Puerto Principe. They spoke of the position of the insurgents as excellent. The organization and discipline of the Cuban force left nothing to be desired, and Havana was at their mercy, they said, but without a fleet they could not hold the city, and nothing therefore was to be gained by an assault upon it just yet.

It was gathered that the Cuban generals had decided upon a course of definite action with a view of forcing matters. The dispatches which the men brought are also understood to bespeak the assistance of the Cubans in Jamaica. It is said the dispatches have reference to a coup de main that Gomez is preparing, and which will startle the world in a short time.

To Guide Balloons.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The Herald's correspondent in Montevideo telegraphs that a Spanish resident, an electrician, declares that he has discovered means whereby he can guide balloons in any direction in the air. The inventor has been asked by the Spanish government to visit Madrid that his invention, if found to be practicable, may be applied to use in Cuba.

ASSIST NATURE a little now and then in removing offending matter from the stomach and bowels and you thereby avoid a multitude of distressing derangements and diseases, and will have less frequent need of your doctor's service.

Of all known agents for this purpose, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best. Once used, they are always in favor. Their secondary effect is to keep the bowels open and regular, not to further constipate, as is the case with other pills. Hence, their great popularity with sufferers from habitual constipation, piles and their attendant discomfort and manifold derangements. The "Pellets" are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system. No care is required while using them; they do not interfere with the diet, habits or occupation, and produce no pain, griping or shock to the system. They act in a mild, easy and natural way and there is no reaction afterward. Their help lasts.

The Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. In proof of their superior excellence, it can be truthfully said, that they are always adopted as a household remedy after the first trial. Put up in sealed, glass vials, therefore always fresh and reliable. One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are mild cathartic. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, or to relieve distress from over-eating, take one after dinner. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules; any child will readily take them.

Accept no substitute that may be recommended to be "just as good." It may be better for the dealer, because of paying him a better profit, but he is not the one who needs help.

"One of my sick headaches," you will hear people frequently say, as if the complaint was hopelessly incurable. As a matter of fact, Ayer's Pills not only relieve sick headache, but effectually remove the cause of this distressing complaint, and so bring about a permanent cure.

A Flag-Pole 200 Feet High.

An enthusiastic citizen of Tabor Heights invites any one "who wants to see a sight which beats all the other sights of this glorious Fourth, to visit Tabor Heights, and see Old Glory waving from the top of a fir tree nearly 200 feet high." The flag, he says, was placed there by Fred Bendick and Frank Reising, employes of the City & Suburban railway, which feat he claims evinces indomitable pluck and energy, and "shows what the boys at Tabor Heights are made of." No doubt the flag floating from this elevated position is a very pretty sight, and it requires some energy to climb the tree, but such an act is not considered much of a feat in this country. School-boys have been known to carry a wheel of their teacher's buggy to the top of a higher tree than the one spoken of, and, after carefully trimming the extreme top, to adjust the wheel on it, and in descending trim off every limb so carefully that no one could climb the tree again. This showed pluck in the boys; but it was not appreciated by their teacher.—Oregonian.
