WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

The river stood this morning at 30.5. The silver convention have finished their cut-and-dried program, nominated Bryan and Sewall and adjourned.

Malt-nutrine, a very wholesome drink, is having a wide sale by Stubling & Williams, who introduced it in The Dalles. They also keep the famous Anheuser-Busch beer on tap.

Quotations from New York City announce that peach plums are selling for $1 upwards. A commission company there have honored a draft for $200 advance money on a carload of fruit to be shipped by The Dalles Commission Co.

Two young men from The Dalles, who had been up the valley fishing, last Sunday, while coming down the Indian creek hill on their bicycles, collided on the bridge and about the same time struck a loose plank, which demolished their wheels. Both men were more or less injured. Glacier.

Geo. Krauss and daughter sustained an accident Sunday evening while driving along 3-Mile road. The horse tangled his feet in some baling wire, which threw him, breaking one of the shafts of the vehicle, the broken end lodging behind his shoulder. The horse did not run but held the buggy by means of the broken shaft though it was wounding him. Mr. Krauss was thrown out, injuring his back quite severely, and depriving him of his breath momentarily. Mr. Krauss has not yet fully recovered. The injuries to his daughter are less severe.

"The meanest man I ever saw," an irrepressible Washington judge exclaimed to a crowd of admirers, "has never appeared in my court as a defendant, and it's lucky for him. As a matter of course he was a newspaper man—a blankety rascal of an editor. One day he was playing seven up with a young lady friend and guess what he did? He told her that whenever she had the jack of trumps it was a sure sign her lover was thinking of her. Then he watched her, and when she blushed and looked pleased he would lead a high card and take her jack. A man who would do that would steal a hot stove or write a villainous joke about me."

Lawn Social.

The lawn social given by the young ladies of the Epworth League was a decided success. The grounds were attractively decorated with lanterns, flowers, electric lights and beautiful young ladies. The genial hostess, Mrs. G. C. Bill, in her usual attractive style, had everything in readiness at an early hour for the reception of guests. At the first glimpse of the beautified grounds one was reminded of the "good time coming." The well selected program was a credit to the committee of arrangements, some of the principal pieces being a piano duet by Misses Edith Randall and Clara Nickelsen, solo by Miss Hilda Beck, recitation by Mr. Dage, "The Black Horse and Rider, Benedict Arnold." The latter was the gem of the evening. Mr. Wood then told an interesting story about another black horse, with which he had a very difficult chase up the hills and through the snow.

Mirthful games and delicious ice cream and cake was indulged until a late hour, when all went home, sorry the "good time coming" was a thing of the past.

THE CHURCHES.

Christian church—Subject for morning service "The Victor and the Victory." Following this service will be a basket dinner in the academy grounds. Subject for evening "The Great Door." Misses Myrtle and Retta Stone will render two duets at the evening service.

The Congregational church, corner of Court and Fifth streets, Sunday services as follows: At 11 a. m. worship, and a sermon by the pastor, W. C. Curtis. There will be no evening service. Sunday school immediately after the morning service. Meeting of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor at 7 p. m., to which all are invited. Topic, Claiming the promises—what and how? Isa xl:25-31. (A promise meeting.) All persons not worshipping elsewhere are cordially invited.

Danger of Swimming.

The danger of swimming in the Columbia, owing to the water being so cold, was shown last night by the almost fatal results attending the bathing in the Columbia last evening of Mr. Frank Thornberg, a deck hand on the Regulator. He was swimming in about 15 feet of water near the incline, when cramps suddenly seized him and he sank. Reaching the bottom by a vigorous movement he kicked himself to the surface again, but, being powerless to move his arms, sank again. Seven times he sank and rose in this manner before a boat reached him and drew him in.

Bicycled From Salem.

Judge Blakeley received a telegram from Salem yesterday morning inquiring after two young men named Steiner and Miller, who left Salem two weeks ago on a tandem bicycle for The Dalles via the McKenzie route. Their Salem friends had not heard from them since they left and were uneasy about them. They wanted Mr. Blakeley to send parties out from The Dalles to search for them. While Mr. Blakeley was debating what to do the bicyclers arrived in town and soon Mr. Blakeley was apprised of the fact. They were travel-stained and dusty and their faces bronzed from exposure, but were in excellent health and spirits. Speaking of the trip they said the route was quite rough in places, but they were compelled to walk but little. They had only one accident and that was trifling—the breaking of a chain which they quickly repaired. They left this morning for home by the same route. Before leaving they appeased the anxiety of their Salem friends.

The Old Folks Entertainment.

The entertainment at the Christian church last evening was very enjoyable and a thorough success. Nearly all of the older ones who recited or sang have not appeared before an audience for many years, and some were as much embarrassed as they were when they first recited the same piece, which is the first time they remember to have ever spoken upon a stage. Mrs. Capt. Lewis recited "Mary Had a Little Lamb." Mr. R. H. Darnielle rendered "Twinkle Little Star." Dr. Eshelman recited an old-fashioned juvenile selection and was encored. Fortunately he was prepared. Grandma Ward sang an old song. Though it was very simple, the sensation of appearing before an audience after so long a time produced a visible effect upon her. After the entertainment the greater part of the audience went below stairs and indulged in ice cream.
