

Gentlemen of The Dalles

We are showing a splendid line of Spring and Summer Suitings at lower prices than can be obtained elsewhere. No need to patronize foreign firms employing Chinese labor. Our garments are made on the premises by skilled workmen.

"It is immaterial, in my judgment, whether the sheep grower receives any benefit from the tariff or not. Whether he does or does not, I am for free wool."—Extract from speech of William J. Bryan in the house of representatives when the Wilson bill was under consideration.

THE PEOPLE WILL BE CAREFUL

Since that great Democratic newspaper, the New York Sun, has come out openly for McKinley the public will be interested in knowing what it has to say. In a recent issue it criticises young Mr. Bryan's speeches as follows:

In his speech from the balcony of the Clifton house on Friday night to the Bland Club of Missouri and other unfortunates, the Hon. William Jennings Bryan said:

"Why should you not be careful in selecting the man who serves you in a public capacity when you give great care in selecting those who serve you in a private capacity?"

Mr. Bryan need not worry lest the people should be too hasty in making up their minds as to whom they want for president. The shallow and hysterical emotion which nominated him on the strength of a few chromos of speech cannot last, and will not be felt outside of the convention. He may continue to appear to himself what Governor Stone of Missouri painted, in high molasses, the night of his nomination, "a splendid leader, beautiful as Apollo, intellectual beyond comparison, a great orator, a great scholar," but the people are not selecting candidates on account of their loveliness of face or figure, and of Mr. Bryan's intellectual equipment they are capable of forming their own opinion. The gifts of oratory and scholarship, provided he possessed either to an extent calculated to impress the sane and well educated, would not count. The questions the people will ask are:

"Who is he?" "What has he done?" And they will find out that he is a glib young lawyer, who has practiced politics instead of his profession, and has once lapsed, with no cheerful results, into journalism. His public career consists in having served two terms in congress with no other conspicuity than what he attained by an occasional empty and rhetorical speech such as filled the Populists and anarchists with rapture last Friday. Though a member of the ways and means committee during both terms, he never caused himself to be regarded as an important personage in it or in the house. In the fifty-third congress he helped force the income tax, filched from his friends and allies, the Populists, upon the Democratic party, but he was not the original or a notable person in the scheme. In short, it was by means of his speeches outside, his irresponsible, free-silver harangues, and not by his efficiency in congress, that he attained the reputation he has enjoyed for two or three years as a radical talker, who has coquetted with the Populists and was well regarded by them. Of judgment, of administrative ability, of knowledge of affairs, of any essential quality of statesmanship, of any qualities whatever except a fluent tongue and a sufficiency of self-assurance, he has never shown a trace, so far as his brief and obscure career can be followed. If he were a candidate on the best of all platforms he would still be only a sonorous nullity. He remains a sonorous nullity on about as bad a platform as can be conceived.

With between six and seven million pounds of wool lying unsold in The Dalles warehouse and no immediate prospect of any sale, there is no danger of the Democratic ticket carrying Wasco county next November. But McKinley's majority should be made as large as possible, so it will bring up the ticket in other places not so favored.

There are sixteen voting precincts in the county outside of The Dalles. Everyone of these should have a Republican Club. No matter whether the membership be large or small, there is a work for such organizations to do. This is a time when every business man should be a politician.

It may be a surprise to some people, but it is none the less true that the contract with the Messrs. Day at the Cascade locks does not expire till June 11, 1897.

DO YOU EXPECT
To Become a Mother?
If so, then permit us to say that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is indeed, a true "Mother's Friend," for it makes Childbirth Easy by preparing the system for parturition, thus assisting Nature and shortening Labor. The painful ordeal of childbirth is robbed of its terrors, and the dangers thereof greatly lessened, to both mother and child. The period of confinement is also greatly shortened, the mother strengthened and built up, and an abundant secretion of nourishment for the child promoted. Send to cents for a large Book (108 pages), giving all particulars. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

PAINLESS CHILDBIRTH.
Mrs. FRED HUNT, of Glenville, N. Y., says: "I read about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription being so good for a woman with child, so I got two bottles last September, and December 13th I had a twelve pound baby girl. When I was confined I was not tick in any way. I did not suffer any pain, and when the child was born I walked into another room and went to bed. I kept your Extract of Smart-Weed on hand all the time. It was very cold weather and our room was very cold but I did not take any cold, and never had any after-pain or any other pain. It was all due to God and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Compound Extract of Smart-Weed. This is the eighth living child and the largest of them all. I suffered everything that flesh could suffer with the other babies. I always had a doctor and then he could not help me very much, but this time my mother and my husband were alone with me. My baby was only seven days old when I got up and dressed and left my room and stayed up all day."

It May Do as Much for You.
Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called Kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began to use Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all Kidney and Liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price 50c and $1.00.
