

CANCER CURED —AND A— LIFE SAVED By the Persistent Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. FIELDS, Bloomfield, Ia.

You Can't Make Black White.

Philadelphia Inquirer.

Suppose congress should pass the following act:

"An act to make one ton of coal equal to one bushel of wheat.

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America, and it is hereby enacted, That upon the passage of this act one ton of coal shall be equal in value to one bushel of wheat."

How would such legislation be received by the people? They would just laugh at it. They would make all manner of fun of the congressman who had taken part in such nonsense. The man with the ton of coal would still demand its market value and the farmer with the bushel of wheat would get just what he could for it.

There is a universal law of supply and demand which is paramount to any legislation, and there is not a 10-year-old child who would not puncture congress with his dart and ridicule its members as a set of know-nothings should they adopt such legislation.

Suppose, again, congress should enact the following:

"An act to establish the ratio between gold and silver.

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America, and it is hereby enacted, That upon the passage of this act 16 ounces of silver shall be equal in value to 1 ounce of gold."

The market price of silver today is about 80 to 1 when compared with gold. How would it be possible, then, for congress to declare 50c to be $1 any more than it would be possible to declare that a bushel of wheat is equal to a ton of coal?

CORONER SAID IT WAS SUICIDE.

But Foul Play is Suggested in Connection With Lawrence's Death.

The coroner's jury in the case of J. W. Lawrence, brought in a verdict of suicide. Lawrence is the man who was found beside a trail about eight miles from Union. The two young men who first discovered him at 8 o'clock Monday morning, did not get off their horses, believing the man to be dead, but went directly into town and informed the sheriff. The sheriff obtained a coffin and with two conveyances, started for the scene of the tragedy, arriving there about 1 o'clock. When about fifteen feet from the body one of the sheriff's party made the remark that the man was not dead, and stated he could hear him breathing, and such was the case. The injured man was removed to town and died at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning. The autopsy revealed the fact that the bullet had not penetrated the brain, but had plowed its way between the skull and scalp. The skull was fractured to some extent, and in the opinion of the physicians who examined the injury, the man's life could have been saved if he had received medical and surgical attention at an earlier hour.

It is commented upon in Union that it seems very queer that though there are about fifteen houses within a radius of a mile and a half from where Lawrence was shot, and that he was discovered in the morning, that no one visited the scene of the shooting between the time of the finding of the body and the arrival of the sheriff's party. Remarks of foul play are freely made, as it is known that Lawrence was hot on the trail of some horse and cattle thieves, and it is thought by many that he was done away with by some of the parties he was accumulating evidence against, as the easiest means of avoiding a criminal prosecution.

The deceased was 34 years of age, and was a miner by occupation. His father lives three miles north of Union, and he has no other relatives in this country.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Now no Trace of Disease.

Hair Thick, Child Fat, Good, and Hearty.

When four days old my babe broke out over one side of his head and body with watery blisters, which turned to a complete scab. We called the family doctor, and he said that "he could heal them up," but "the baby would never have any more hair on his head," and we were completely discouraged. We were told to try CUTICURA REMEDIES and did so. We used two boxes of CUTICURA, two cakes of CUTICURA SOAP, and he now is all right. The hair is on thick, and you would never think there was anything the matter with him, he is so fat, good, and hearty, and I do not know how to praise CUTICURA REMEDIES enough for the good they did my child. Mrs. W. M. H. SCOTT, Luzerne, Pa.
