"It is immaterial, in my judgment, whether the sheep grower receives any benefit from the tariff or not."
Whether he does or does not, I am for free wool.—Extract from speech of William J. Bryan in the house of representatives when the Wilson bill was under consideration.

BLAINE'S TRUE POSITION.

The statement has frequently been made of late that James G. Blaine was a believer in the free coinage of silver by the United States, independent of the action of other nations. Populists and Democratic papers have been eager to reiterate this statement, and free silver Republicans have been heard to declare that what was good enough for Blaine would do for them.

As time was needed to look into the matter and learn the truth or falsity of the charge, the declaration gained wide circulation. An examination of the speeches of Mr. Blaine shows that instead of being a believer in the free coinage of silver, he took a directly opposite course. His words were garbled and rearranged by silver papers till they were made to convey opposite meanings from what their author intended.

Mr. Blaine held the opinion that if the demonetization of silver by the United States were the only cause for the decline in the value of silver, then remonetization would be the proper cure. "But," he declared, "other causes beyond our control have been far more potentially operative than the simple fact that congress prohibited its further coinage. As legislators we are bound to take cognizance of these causes."

This was an explicit declaration against the unlimited silver coinage, and yet a writer in the Minneapolis Tribune has found one, it possible, more so. Here are Mr. Blaine's exact words:

"If we coin a silver dollar of full legal tender below the current value of the gold dollar, we are simply opening our doors and inviting Europe to take our gold. With our gold flowing out from us we shall be forced to the single silver standard, and our relations with the leading commercial countries of the world would be not only embarrassed, but crippled. What gain should we make, therefore, for the circulating medium if on opening the gate for silver to flow in, we open a still wider gate for gold to flow out? It is, therefore, clear that until Europe remonetizes silver we cannot afford to coin a dollar as low as 112 1/2 grains."

Can anything be plainer than that this far-seeing Republican—the idol of his party and one of the greatest statesmen of his era—foresaw the dangers that would attend the adoption by the nation of the Democratic platform? Were Blaine alive now he would be found combatting with all his power the forces which have united to overthrow the nation's credit.

The free silver believer who calls himself a Republican, but who is going for Bryan, should think over this message of the dead leader, and consider whether its words are not worth the heeding.

Yet relief is ready to the hand of almost any one who will use systematically the remedy that has permanently cured thousands. SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is so drastic, violent purgative, but a gentle assistant to nature.

CONSTIPATION

SHOULD not be regarded as a trifling ailment—in fact, nature demands the utmost regularity of the bowels, and any deviation from this demand paves the way often to serious danger. It is quite as necessary to remove impure accumulations from the bowels as it is to eat or sleep, and no health can be expected where a costive habit of body prevails.

This distressing affliction occurs most frequently. The disturbance of the stomach, arising from the imperfectly digested contents, causes a severe pain in the head, accompanied with disagreeable nausea, and this constitutes what is popularly known as Sick Headache, for the relief of which TAKE SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR OR MEDICINE.
