PEASE & MAYS

Maltese Cross.

MAIER & BENTON are Sole Agents for the Maltese Cross Fire and Garden Hose for The Dalles. Anyone once buying this brand of Hose will never buy any other. It is carbolized and guaranteed to stand a pressure of 350 pounds to the square inch. This city has just purchased 500 feet of the Fire Hose and the School District 200 feet of the Garden Hose. The city has some of the Maltese Cross brand that was bought seven years ago, and it is better today than some other brands that were bought only four years ago. The Maltese Cross has been the standard Hose for years, and is manufactured by the Gutta Percha Rubber and Manufacturing Co. Parties wanting hose for spray pumps and lawn purposes will do well to buy the Maltese Cross. It will cost a little more in the start, but it is the cheaper in the long run.

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Antelope wants to incorporate.
The McKinley Club of Spokane now has 538 members on its roll.

A communication from Mr. F. S. Gordon was crowded out today and will appear in a later issue.

See advertisement in another column of Rev. L. Grey. Here is a splendid chance to learn Latin or German from a competent instructor.

Arthur Stabbing stood third in the contest for one of the military positions. He stood best in his physical examination, and would surely have won one of the honors if he had expended more time in preparation. He spent but three days upon it, whereas the Johnson brothers had their energies fixed upon the prize for two years previous, and were in course of preparation during all that time.

Mr. John H. Mitchell, Oregon's senior representative in the United States senate, has telegraphed that he will be in Portland about August 24th. It comes direct from him to his friends in Oregon that he will take the field for McKinley as soon as arrangements can be made. Senator Mitchell expects to make speeches in every part of the state and do his utmost for the success of the Republican party.

The Oregonian says that Messrs. J. G. and I. N. Day yesterday started a force of forty cutters at work cutting stone for the walls of the new lock in the Cascades canal. The water is less than three feet deep in the lock, and if it has not gone out in a short time the lock will be pumped out and a force of about 200 men will be put to work building the walls. Mr. Day says there will be no delay in the work on account of stone, and he is anxious to have it completed before the rainy weather sets in.

A threshing engine belonging to Poedtemeyer Bros. of Stafford, went through the bridge over Kriese creek, about nine miles west of Oregon City yesterday, and the engine, driver and team fell a distance of eighteen feet. The driver, Ernest Boekmann, suffered a severe scalp wound and a bruised hip. The engine was wrecked, and one of the horses so injured that it had to be killed. The engine carried sixty pounds of steam, at the time, and but for the fact that the driver was able to move himself, he would have been seriously scalded.

A controversy arose yesterday between W. A. Johnston, the groceryman, and Marshal Blakeney over the right to construct a cement sidewalk with a hump in it leading up to the store door. The controversy arising out of the question led to a special council meeting this forenoon, and the decision was reached that the hump had to go. Mr. Johnston argued his rights eloquently before the council, but to no avail. His reasons were that it was very convenient for trucking back and forth, and that women with baby buggies would be less inconvenienced than with a step. He answered the objection of a councilman that it looked bad by saying he had not completed it, and that it would look all right when he was through with it.

Arraigned for Larceny of a Saddle.
Henry Tennant was arrested last evening for larceny of a saddle on complaint of Alex. Fargher.

The facts in the case are that about three weeks ago defendant borrowed a saddle from Mrs. Fargher, stating he was sent for it by a friend of Mrs. Fargher who wanted to use it. Soon afterward the same saddle was sold to Rupert & Gabel for $7.50 by Tennant. About this time Mr. Fargher returned from the East and hearing of both transactions had Tennant arrested for larceny.

The defense we understand will be intricate, if the story Tennant told in connection with the transaction is to be used. He claims he lent the saddle to a friend for two or three days. The days lengthened into weeks and still the saddle came not. Finally a stranger came in with a horse and saddle which Tennant admired and he purchased them. He then sold the saddle to Rupert & Gabel, when lo, it turns out that the saddle he sold was the identical one he loaned to his friend some weeks before. This story possesses much artistic merit from a novel writer's point of view, but who shall say that truth is not stranger than fiction? The trial of defendant took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock before Justice Filtson.

"DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS LOADED."

Edward Ward Accidentally Kills His Brother at Portland.

A sad and fatal accident occurred yesterday morning at the home of Mrs. Ward, a widow, living in the third story of the building at the northwest corner of Morrison street and Union avenue, Portland.

Edward Ward, her eldest son, aged 23 years, was engaged in cleaning a revolver, which he supposed to be empty. It was loaded in every chamber, however, as was subsequently ascertained. Edward's brother, Henry, aged 17, wished to examine the weapon and made a search for it while it was in Edward's hands, and in some unaccountable way it was discharged. The bullet entered the lower region of the boy's abdomen, and he started to run out of the room, but fell to the floor. Recovering his feet, he hurried down the two flights of stairs, and ran into Logan's drug store, near by, and told Mr. Logan what had happened.

Drs. Gillespie, Chambers and Johnson were summoned, and soon arrived, and upon examination saw that the boy was fatally wounded.

Young Ward was thereupon conveyed to St. Vincent's hospital, and in the afternoon Drs. Gillespie and A. C. Smith placed him under an anaesthetic, and found that the bullet had passed through the stomach, perforating the large intestine in three different places, and had then lodged in the spleen, which was badly lacerated. The wounds were carefully stitched, but the worst feature toward a possible chance for recovery was the perforated spleen, which made the case even at that time almost hopeless.

When young Ward regained consciousness, Dr. Gillespie informed him that he had but a few hours to live. The boy, who had borne up bravely, received this sad information in a calm and heroic manner. He suffered intensely, but endeavored to repress the evidences of his sufferings, as he did not wish to add to the sorrow of his heart-broken mother, who was at his bedside, and to whom he spoke comforting words. At 10 o'clock he died, his mind remaining clear to the very last.

At the time of the shooting, Mrs. Ward was at church. Edward Ward says that he did not know the revolver was loaded, and his grief over the deplorable accident is as keen as that of his mother. Young Henry declared that the shooting was purely accidental. An inquest will be held this afternoon by Coroner Koehler.
