NATIONAL REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For President, WILLIAM M'KINLEY, Ohio; For Vice-President, GARRET A. HOBART, New Jersey; For Presidential Electors, T. T. GEER, Marion County; B. M. YORAN, Lane; E. L. SMITH, Wasco; J. F. CAPLES, Multnomah.

THE APPROACHING CAMPAIGN

The campaign of 1896, more than any during the past thirty years, demands of all parties fairness and freedom from deception or error. The financial question has become, through the agitation of the combined forces of the advocates of a greater supply of money, the prominent issue. It is an issue that must not be determined by trickery or fraud, for such a determination would be a source of danger to the ultimate prosperity and possibly to the very existence of the nation. It must be an educational campaign in the truest and highest sense. Oratory of the sky rocket order, vituperation and appeals to prejudice will move some voters, but the intelligent laborers and farmers who constitute ninety per cent of the voters of the nation will attempt to understand the effect of free coinage before they will vote for it, and in this lies the assurance that this latest proposed experiment of Democracy will not be tried. Between now and the November election the truth, so far as history and reason can reveal it, can be and should be found.

It is utterly useless for the advocates of free coinage to quote single passages from the utterances of Lincoln, Grant, Blaine and others of the illustrious dead, to support their claims. The American people know—the Popocrats and Populists who quote these statesmen know—that were they able to speak to the American people today their advice would be in the words of McKinley and of Sherman—not in the words of Bryan, Altgeld and Mrs. Lease. Said Mr. Blaine Feb. 7, 1878, in the U. S. Senate: "At current rates of silver, free coinage of a dollar containing 412½ grains, worth in gold about 92 cents, gives an illegitimate profit to the owner of the bullion, enabling him to take 92 cents worth of it to the mint and get it stamped as coin and force his neighbor to take it for a full dollar. This is an undue and unfair advantage, which the government has no right to give to the owner of silver bullion and which defrauds the man who is forced to take the dollar." What would Mr. Blaine say as to the free coinage of a dollar worth only 53 cents in gold?

"It (the free coinage of silver) would not make labor easier, the hours of labor shorter or the pay better. It would not make farming less laborious or more profitable. It would not start a factory, nor make a demand for an additional day's labor. It would create no new occupations. It would add nothing to the comfort of the masses, the capital of the people or the wealth of the nation."

These utterances from McKinley's letter of acceptance cannot be refuted. Talk about the lap of indolence and the brow of labor sounds well in a stump speech; they are, however, nothing but appeals to prejudice and their use is an attempt to influence men, not by reason, but by hatred. McKinley is no "boy orator." He speaks forth "the words of truth and soberness."

The percentage of silver coinage has been increasing ever since 1873. In 1872 we coined $21,812,645 of gold and $2,504,488.50 of silver; in 1890 we coined $20,467,182.50 of gold and $39,202,908.20 of silver; in 1872 the coinage of gold was nearly ten times that of silver; in 1890 the coinage of silver was nearly one and a half times that of gold. Will the silverites if they come, into power, ever treat gold as well as the gold bugs have treated silver?

The Dalles has recently felt the effect of a good example in the matter of sidewalks. The appearance of the principal business portion of town has been improved 100 per cent during the past three weeks by the construction of cement sidewalks. Times are hard but The Dalles is growing and rapidly improving in appearance even under the regime of a gold standard.

Mr. Bryan said at Syracuse yesterday: "We want enough standard money to keep pace with the demand for money and increase of population." He knows, if he knows anything about the money question, that under the gold standard of the last forty or more years the per capita circulation of standard money has been steadily increasing.

Mr. Bryan asks: "Is there a man who believes the age of oratory is gone?" Taking Bryan's idea of oratory, such a man has been beyond the reach of newspapers since the Chicago convention was called to order, and must live where there are no Populists.

Reduction in Railroad Fares. As there will be numerous requests for reduced rates on account of political meetings during the coming contest, it has been decided that in order to treat all parties alike, a one fare rate will be made by the O. R. & N. Co. for various meetings of this character.

This course is intended only for occasions where there is sufficient number to justify a reduction in rates. This is done so that there will be no partiality in favor of any one party.

Through trains on the O. R. & N will run via Umatilla, Walla Walla and Pendleton. Through sleepers, first and second class will run in connection with the Union Pacific, the same as heretofore. A through first-class sleeper from Portland to Spokane, connecting with the first-class sleeper to St. Paul and a through tourist sleeper from Portland to St. Paul, will be run in connection with the Great Northern railway.

$100 Reward $100. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J.
