WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

The Roseburg public school will not open until September 21st, on account of a shortage of school funds.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet every Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Congregational church.

The Elks meet tonight at 8:30 o'clock at the Umatilla House parlors to consider matters of importance. All members are requested to be present.

A man from Siuslaw was in Eugene Wednesday with a wagonload of chinook salmon, which he had caught in the Siuslaw river. They were very fine, and sold readily.

The destructiveness of a modern navy may be noted by reading the account of the bombardment by British war vessels of the palace of the sultan of Zanzibar, which will be found on our first page.

Harney valley, like the Columbia river region, is yielding this season an immense crop of hay, about 100,000 tons having already been cut and secured in the stack. There will be plenty of hay for stock the coming winter.

The Elks give a whist party tomorrow night. It is a little early to open the whist season, but it is thought to be a protective measure, as an enticing and entirely unscientific game called "black jack" is getting dangerously popular.

The painters have finished their work on the St. Mary's Academy, putting it in readiness for the fall and winter term of school, which begins on the first Monday in September. The academy will be in charge of Sister Mary Matthew.

Ex-President Harrison addressed an audience of 5000 people in New York City last evening. The greater portion of his speech was devoted to the monetary question, showing the fearful results that would follow free coinage by the United States.

The Cramps get $350,000 bonus for enabling the United States cruiser Brooklyn to go faster on her trial trip yesterday than she was contracted to go, being allowed $25,000 for each quarter knot above a certain limit. She will never go as fast again.

The bottom has dropped out of the melon market in Portland. Within the past ten days seven carloads have been shipped in from California, which with the supply grown near that city, has forced the prices down to almost nothing. It is thought that prices will advance again in a few days.

The thunder storms of yesterday missed The Dalles, though both rain and lightning, were near at hand. In Umatilla county the effects were more severe. A son of A. T. Perkins, living north of Pendleton 16 miles, was struck by lightning during the progress of a thunder storm. He lies unconscious and may die. He was driving a water tank at the time the stroke came.

Working Them Too Hard.

It is little wonder The Dalles team did not win the first races of the tournament, when it is considered that the cart they were compelled to drag was twice as heavy as that of any other team. Their cart weighed 600 pounds exclusive of horse, and with it and the trappings, about 1,000 pounds. It was almost enough to stall a horse, and then to think that twelve men were compelled to drag this immense dead weight and run at breakneck speed on a race, is calculated to draw tears. The other teams had carts weighing 300 pounds. It was comparatively easy to start off with so light a cart and to maintain a good rate of speed with ease. Not so with the big cart. The effort to start the unwieldy affair and get it under headway left the boys panting and exhausted before 25 yards had been covered. They were in no condition to race after such a useless task. It is a wonder some of them did not break a blood vessel. The fact that they were only beaten by six inches in the hub-and-hub race shows of what superior timber our boys are constructed. In this race the winning team also had a start of thirty feet. The department should have a racing cart. All the carts in the city are service carts and very heavy, and it is nothing short of impudence to inflict so heavy a burden upon our own boys, making them work harder than every other team to win a prize, to say nothing of the danger of losing the honors altogether through so unfair a handicap.

C. F. LAUER FOR MARSHAL.

The Third Name Presented by the Mayor Received Confirmation.

The vexed marshaling question has been settled at last. At a special meeting called for the purpose last evening five of the councilmen agreed upon a name, and there will not be another farce of the kind which has lasted two months for another ten. It is a mistake to suppose the mayor and council are not as tired of the new way of choosing a marshal as the people are. By the change made by the legislature in The Dalles city charter, the mayor is given supposed authority to appoint a marshal. But actual experience proves it to be a myth. The only power with which the mayor is gifted is that he need appoint no one who is persona non grata to himself. The difficulty is that the appointee must also be the personal choice of five of the councilmen, which is a very difficult requirement. The mayor and the council are aware that the position in which both have been placed has not been a dignified one, and they would have been glad to have disposed of the marshal appointment long ago.

At the meeting last night, a full council was secured about 9 o'clock, when they were called to order by the mayor, Mr. Menefee. He at once presented a list of names, the third name securing the requisite five ballots. The name of L. S. Davis was first presented and lacked one of confirmation; Jess Blakey lacked two; while C. F. Lauer received five votes of the nine and was declared elected marshal.

The only other business was the reading of a petition asking for the opening of the south and east side of block 28. Referred to committee on streets and public property.

Found Dead Near Astoria.

An Astoria dispatch says John Svenson, a fisherman, was found dead at Clifton yesterday, with a bullet wound in his breast. At first it was thought Svenson committed suicide, but Coroner Pohl's investigation now makes it appear that it was a case of murder instead. Svenson was the keeper of the scow from which a woman and two men, whose dead bodies were afterward found, disappeared during the fishermen's strike, a few months ago. It is surmised that Svenson knew something of the murderers of these people, and, under the stimulus of the reward offered by the county court, was about to make some damaging disclosures, and hence his taking off.
