PROSPERITY IN MEXICO.

It is well enough to 'talk about prosperity in Mexico to those who not speculative, and while the price have never been there. Some may of silver is in doubt, our business United States view prosperity Mexico time to time, and undertake no large he market. is anything but prosperous. In an interview published in the New York Sun August 23d, Jose Y. Limantour,

"Mexico," said Mr. Limantour, "has always had free coinage. The ratio is 161 to 1. Theoretically, our standard is bimetallic, but, of course, it is really a single silver standard. It is not possible to have a double standard under free comage. Any gold we have is immediately exported, and I have never seen any gold in circulation in Mexico. Gold is at a premium of nearly 200. We bly. The same is true of Japan, produce but little gold. Last year where wages are very low. For this the output was 2,000,000 ounces, reason, Japan and Mexico will, in a while we produced about the same few years, be able to compete sucamount of silver as the United States, cessfully with England and the United 55,000,000 or 60,000,000 ounces.

"There is a keen interest in Mexico in the result of your election, because of the effect it will have upon the price of silver generally. Each time silver goes down it is a serious detriment to our country, because we have made four foreign loans, payable in gold. As silver depreciates and the premium on gold is increased, it becomes more difficult for our government to meet these gold obliga- crease with the depreciation in their tions. Of course, we have silver bonds also, which are taken up at home. The gold bonds are worth nearly double what the silver bonds are worth. It was a serious blow to us when the Indian mints were closed in 1892 and the Sherman act was repealed in 1893, because of the fall in the price of silver which followed.

"The price of imported goods has been doubled. The increase in price of domestic products which are consumed at home has been small. The price of tropical products which are raised principally for export has vir tually increased, because they are paid for in gold, the international medium of exchange, and the premium en gold in Mexico has increased with the fall of silver. On this account the producers of coffee and other tropical products have profited greatly and have grown very wealthy. The fall in silver has also had the effect of developing our manufacturing industries."

"How do you account for that?"

78 Second Street. has greatly increased. The price of domestic manufactures, for which silver is paid, has not increased. Hence the tendency has been to develop domestic industries, and wool, iron, linen, and paper mills have sorung up all over the country. The fall in protection, which has become more

"No; because manufacturers want just enough protection to enable them to keep the home market. They do not want any more than that. the point that I mentioned before, that every fall in silver is a detriment to our national finances. It is a det riment, too, to the railroad companies, which have invested gold cap-Wasco ital and Issued gold bonds, but whose earnings are in silver. What we fear most is a fluctuation in the price of silver, or in the rate of exchange Our commerce is conservative and operations. This is the best time, however, to invest money in Mexico, because silver has got down so low Mexican minister of Finance, says: that it is likely to go up now rather than to continue downward."

> "Is Mexico prosperous on the silver standard?"

"Our prosperity is increasing rapidly, but it is due to a number of causes, and not especially to the silver standard."

"What is the effect upon wages of the depreciating silver standard?"

"They have not increased precepti-States because of the silver standard and low wages."

"What is the ruling rate of wages for agricultural laborers in Mexico?" "Twenty-five cents a day."

These are the words of one whose interests are to present the matter as favorably as possible for Mexico. The ruling rate of wages for agricultural laborers in Mexico is twentyfive cents a day. Wage not inmoney standard.

The matter of lighting the streets of our city is becoming an important one. If we cannot afford electric lights we can afford oil lights which are a great improvement over black darkness. Many cities are lighted by incandescent lamps, which are less expensive than are lights and more) . desirable than lamps. We hope something in this line will be done soon.

We regret that the gold standard Democrats did not leave the campaign to be determined by two representatives of the main issue. But McKinley will be elected just the same for a vote for Palmer and Buckner will be a vote for Bryan, and most anti-Populist Democrats will not throw a vote which will be counted against the only sound money candidate who stands a chance of election.
