

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphia. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 195 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

A MOSQUITO INVADES ENGLAND.

New Jersey's Insect's Revenge for Violation of Monroe Doctrine.

The harrowing news comes from London that a mosquito has been taken alive in Hertfordshire. A gentleman living at Barley, Royston, writes to a London paper that on a recent evening he encountered the ferocious beast in his bedchamber.

An Englishman is always brave, and it seems almost superfluous to add that the man of Barley grappled with the creature single-handed, nor stayed his hand until it was under subjection. We sometimes read of such feats of derring do even in these degenerated days.

Next to vindicating his personal bravery, an Englishman's first duty is to write to his newspaper and tell about it. To this admirable national trait the readers of the Sunday Herald are indebted for the particulars herein set forth. The man of Barley had traveled in far countries. Among other places he had visited the famous city of New Jersey, and in the transmississippi capital had met and coped with the mosquito in its lair.

Thus he is able to identify his quarry and lay before the British public a harrowing picture of the animal's distinguishing traits.

"The specimen caught," he writes, "has every characteristic of the foreign mosquito, especially the New Jersey variety. I believe they have been brought to England with timber, for in New Jersey the logs of timber, which are usually carried down the rivers, have on them mosquito eggs gathered from the surface of the water, where they breed, and so in this manner are transported to Europe, where the sunshine hatches them, and they fly away."

It now remains only to unite the English people as one man against the invader. Hence this suggestion:

"Let every person carefully examine his bedroom window in the morning and kill them, as by so doing they would be prevented laying their eggs and breeding. Now is the time to act to prevent them spreading. They may easily be known by their resemblance to gnats, but having a long trunk or proboscis, and by making a humming noise when approaching the face or hands of a person."

Accompanying this slogan is a diagram what has been called the business end of the mosquito, which may be used for further identification of the dreaded foe, should he be encountered unawares.—N. Y. Herald.

Reduction in Railroad Fares.
As there will be numerous requests for reduced rates on account of political meetings during the coming contest, it has been decided that in order to treat all parties alike, a one fare rate will be made by the O. R. & N. Co. for various meetings of this character.

This of course is intended only for occasions where there is sufficient number to justify a reduction in rates. This is done so that there will be no partiality in favor of any one party.

None But Ayer's at the World's Fair.
Ayer's Sarsaparilla enjoys the extraordinary distinction of having been the only blood purifier allowed on exhibit at the world's fair, Chicago. Manufacturers of other sarsaparillas sought by every means to obtain a showing of their goods, but they were all turned away under the application of the rule forbidding the entry of patent medicines and nostrums. The decision of the world's fair authorities in favor of Ayer's Sarsaparilla was in effect as follows: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine. It does not belong to the list of nostrums. It is here on its merits."

The Ideal Panacea.
James L. Francis, Alderman, Chicago, says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as an Ideal Panacea for coughs, colds and Lung Complaints, having used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physician's prescriptions or other preparations."
Rev. John Burgess, Keokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have been a Minister of the Methodist Episcopal church for 50 years or more, and have never found anything so beneficial, or that gave me such speedy relief as Dr. King's New Discovery." Try this Ideal King Remedy now. Trial bottles free at Blakeley & Houghton's, Drug Store.
