

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla

For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1900 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphia. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith.

The Portland Industrial Exposition.

Saturday night next, the Oregon Industrial Exposition opens at Portland. Arrangements have been made for cheap railroad fares to and from the city during the entire exposition. There are also being arranged special excursions at much cheaper rates to run into the city at the times of the greatest special attractions. The management has provided an attraction for every day of the fair. Some of these are extremely novel and highly entertaining. There will be a grand merchants' carnival; also a flower carnival of children; there will be a minstrel show in which the performers will be all well known Portland ladies; there will be a complete Chinese theatre; there will be special nights devoted to the Odd Fellows, the Elks, the Woodmen, the Red Men, the Workmen, and the Foresters. On these occasions, excursions will be run from all points in the Northwest, bringing the members of these orders and their friends, for a grand celebration in Portland. There will be a grand choral night, at which there will be chorus and solo singing, and there will be a wedding night, when two couples will be united amid great ceremony and music and flowers. The exhibits will be more numerous and finer than ever before. The manufacturers of the Northwest will make special displays, and will have working exhibits, showing the various processes of the manufacture of goods. The greatest display of the natural resources and products of the Pacific Northwest ever brought together, has been collected for this exposition. Twice as much space as has ever before been devoted to this feature is now occupied by this magnificent collection. Even the producers of the Pacific Northwest will themselves be astonished at this display, while the thousands of visitors from abroad will simply be overwhelmed by it. The attendance from outside the city promises to be the largest in the history of expositions in Portland.

Hard to Digest.

A cougar was killed near old Fort Warner last week which was either possessed of poor judgment in the matter of selecting food or else was a victim of misplaced confidence. The Lekeview Rnster says that two men were hunting near the fort when they were attracted by a sound like the bleating of a fawn, and upon investigating its source were surprised to see an immense cougar rise up and make for the brush. The brute was trailed, treed and shot, and after it was dead the curiosity of the hunters was aroused by the numerous porcupine quills that were protruding from his neck and mouth, so they went inside of him to find out what victuals he had lately regaled himself with and to their surprise found the remnants of a porcupine. Evidently he had been rendered dyspeptic by his indigestible tit bit, and hence the wall caused his discovery and untimely end.

None But Ayer's at the World's Fair. Ayer's Sarsaparilla enjoys the extraordinary distinction of having been the only blood purifier allowed on exhibit at the world's fair, Chicago. Manufacturers of other sarsaparillas sought by every means to obtain a showing of their goods, but they were all turned away under the application of the rule forbidding the entry of patent medicines and nostrums. The decision of the world's fair authorities in favor of Ayer's Sarsaparilla was in effect as follows: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine. It does not belong to the list of nostrums: It is here on its merits."
