THREE FASTEST HEATS

Remarkable Performance of Star Pointer.

BEAT ROBERT J. AND FRANK AGAN

Lowered the World's Record for the Fastest Heat Ever Paced, and Might Have Done Better.

MEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 18.—Star Pointer, at Mystic Point, this afternoon, not only beat two accredited faster horses—Robert J. (2:01½) and Frank Agan (2:03¼)—but passed the three fastest heats ever made in competition, the time being 2:02½, 2:03½ and 2:03½, an average of 2:03¼. He also lowered the world's record for the fastest heat ever paced—2:02½—as well as the records for the fastest quarter and half—29¾ and 59¾, respectively.

The race between the three pacers was phenomenal, for, while in the first heat Robert J. was beaten by ten lengths, in the next two he was close on the leaders, coming in second in the third heat. Frank Agan in the whole race was never a length behind, and at one time was a nose to the good. Star Pointer, however, managed to go under the wire first in every heat, and must have had something in reserve, for McCleary never raised his whip in the three times.

It was shortly after 2 o'clock when the gong rang for the pacers. Robert J. was the favorite, 100 to 200, with Agan, 65 to 200, and Star Pointer, 35 to 200. Star Pointer had the pole, and, after two attempts, the three were sent away well bunched. The pace from the start was terrific, much too fast for Robert J., who dropped behind the other two, being five lengths in the rear at the first quarter, which was made in 29¾ seconds. Pointer and Agan were neck and neck all the way down the back stretch, making the half in 59¾, with Robert J. still further behind. The three-quarter pole was reached in 1:31½, with Pointer still in the lead, and, notwithstanding the fact that McCarty applied the whip, the son of Flora could not reach Pointer, and the two rushed under the wire in the record-breaking time of 2:02½, Robert J. being ten lengths behind.

The second heat was still more exciting, Frank Agan poked his nose in front of Pointer in the back stretch, but it was only for a moment, and, with a little burst of speed, Pointer soon regained his place. Robert J. showed up much better in this heat, and was close on Agan all the way through. The quarter was made in 31, the half in 1:02, the third quarter in 1:33 and the mile in 2:03½.

In the third heat, Pointer led from the start, but Robert J. managed to overtake Agan at the three-quarter pole and last furlong was the most exciting of the whole day. Pointer, however, won the heat and race by a nose, in 2:03½, making the quarter in 30¾, the half 1:01½ and the three-quarters in 1:32½.

A Unique Epistle.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The personal letter from the emperor of China to President Cleveland, which formed the credentials of Li Hung Chang, has been placed on exhibition in the library of the department of state. The letter is written on a scroll of lemon-colored parchment paper about five feet in length by a foot and a half in width, a portion being in ancient Chinese and part in Chinese characters with the royal red seal and the emperor's autograph in the center. The envelope is unique, being a great sheet of yellow satin embroidered in gold and silver, with exquisite workmanship, with five large Chinese double dragons, conventionally arranged.

Maceo Near Pinar Del Rio.

HAVANA, Sept. 18.—The rebel leader, Maceo, has left his stronghold in the mountains, and is encamped with a large force on the Danes estate, south of Pinar del Rio City. An attack on that city is momentarily expected.

It is rumored here that Captain-General Weyler will soon take command of the Spanish forces in Pinar del Rio, with the intention of expelling Maceo from the province. If true, hard fighting is expected. The Cuban chiefs have determined to make any sacrifice to effect Captain General Weyler's capture.

THE M'KINLEY CLUB.

to be a miserable subterfuge for a national policy. "It is as strange as it is true that hundreds of Republicans in Oregon have forgotten the lesson of the past three years, and still persist in playing with the fire that burned them. It is to these citizens that McKinley spoke when he said, 'better open mills than open mints.'"

The speaker then touched lightly upon the financial question, and in closing said: "We have come tonight three hundred strong to aid in deciding that this country, which had its birth in 1776, and struggled for existence through the turbulent years succeeding, shall not perish through the ignorance or cupidity of a portion of its population; and, in the words of the immortal Lincoln, let us 'here highly resolve that the government of the people, for the people, and by the people, shall not perish from the earth.'"

Mr. Wilson's concluding peroration brought forth thunderous cheers. When they had subsided he made known the fact, which again made the roof quake, that the roster for the new McKinley club, with only two days circulation, has enrolled upon it 347 names, which with but one or two exceptions were names of our townspeople. He then called upon and introduced to the audience Hon. J. W. Ivey of Portland. Mr. Ivey was so unfortunate as to be suffering from a very sore throat, which precluded his making any extended remarks. He informed the audience that he had recently returned from a prolonged trip throughout Crook county, making Prineville the base of operations, and that after having canvassed pretty thoroughly the entire county, he was confident that Crook county would give 300 majority for McKinley and Hobart.

The interest there for Republican success was deep-rooted. He regarded the issue this year as the most important since 1864. Mr. Ivey begged to be excused from making any extended remarks owing to the raw condition of his throat, but promised to appear later before a Dalles audience, when he would consume an entire evening. Mr. Ivey was honored with enthusiastic cheering.

President Wilson then announced that it would be in order, to the end that a reorganization of the McKinley club be made, that new officers should be nominated, and suggested that since this was a business man's campaign, that some business men be chosen for president. Sheriff Driver nominated Mr. Geo. Ruch, and Mr. Menefee nominated Mr. L. E. Crowe. Mr. Ruch declined and Mr. Crowe was nominated by acclamation.

For vice president Mr. B. S. Huntington nominated Mr. David Creighton, saying he would nominate of the class claimed by the Bryan element—the farmers. For secretary Mr. G. J. Farley was nominated by Mr. F. W. Wilson and Mr. A. M. Kelsey for assistant secretary by Mr. C. L. Phillips.

On motion of Mr. B. S. Huntington, a committee of five were appointed by the chair, an executive and finance committee, of which president and secretary were ex-officio members, the committee to choose a treasurer for the club.

The business of the evening being thus completed, Mr. W. H. H. Dufur was called upon, who responded in a vigorous speech of some ten minutes length. Mr. Dufur's opinions were valuable because of his convictions as a silver Republican and the interesting fact is noted that like thousands of other Republicans who have been friendly to the white metal, he will not compromise the nation's prosperity and honor by continuing a Democratic administration. His speech was mainly on tariff lines, and he quoted the period of 1837 which was one like the present—a period of business stagnation caused by the adoption of free trade.

Mr. Hugh Gourlay was the next speaker. For about 20 minutes he held the closest attention of the audience. He pleaded an intense earnestness for Republican success. Mr. Gourlay denounced the course of certain Democratic newspapers in publishing alleged misstatements, among them the quotation from Blaine, and more recently the statement of a local daily concerning the Goodyear Rubber Co., which the speaker denounced as false, and has been shown to be false through the columns of the Oregonian. He regarded the election of McKinley as practically over and we are only waiting for the returns. At the conclusion of his remarks he called for three cheers for McKinley and Hobart, which were given with right good will, and the meeting adjourned.
