WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Heppner is to have a ladies McKinley club.

The McKinley club has almost reached the 400 mark.

A great number of wheat teams came in today from Sherman county.

Mr. Iesenberg of Hood River will address the McKinley Club of 8-Mile on Saturday evening, Sept. 26th. Everybody invited.

The force at Herrick's cannery has been reduced to about sixteen, the salmon run having become lighter in the past few days.

The mining boom near Stevenson has fallen through. Even the tuneful lyre of Sullivan, "the wild Irishman," has quit the business.

Mr. W. A. Kirby, the Third street groceryman, kindly remembered THE CHRONICLE force yesterday with a luscious watermelon.

There are a number of cows in town which are erroneously of the belief that The Dalles is yet the meadow of the old Laughlin homestead.

Remember the political speaking Thursday night at the court house by Hon. H. W. Craven of Seattle and Hon. H. L. Wilson of Seattle.

Horace Campbell, chief engineer of the D. P. & A. N. Co. was up yesterday taking measurements for a new steering gear, which is soon to be attached to the Regulator.

Mr. F. F. Foster, a veteran river man, brought up 2000 ties on her scow, which he is unloading at the old O. R. & N. incline, having constructed a gangway and using a horse and cable.

Mrs. Mattie Brown, who made a complaint against her husband in this city a few weeks ago for non-support, is in Portland soliciting aid from the public to go to New Haven, Conn.; also for her meals and lodging.

An accident was narrowly averted the other night between a bicyclist and a farmer's wagon, which approached the same corner from different directions at a high rate of speed. As it was the rider was thrown from his wheel in an effort to save himself and the wheel was slightly injured.

Mr. Winans' ledge of building stone is but twelve miles from the town of Hood River, instead of twenty-five, as stated the other day in THE CHRONICLE. He has surveyed a practicable route for a narrow gauge railway to it, and some time in the future it will be a valuable addition to the resources of Wasco county.

Mr. Henry L. Wilson of Spokane, who will speak at the courthouse Thursday evening, is a brother of Senator John L. Wilson of Washington, and has a reputation for being one of the best all-around political organizers of that state. The Oregonian today contains an interview with him a column in length, which we would be glad to publish if space permitted. He talks very encouragingly of the situation.

News comes from Butter creek that a vine is again springing up that has caused considerable trouble at different times. It is said the seed comes with the alfalfa seed, which has been procured from Salt Lake. The peculiarity of the weed is that when above the ground it will leave the root and cling to any vegetation that may be near, from which it draws its sustenance.

Geo. Watson was relieved of the accusation against him and the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses by being declared insane at the court house today, Dr. Kane conducting the examination. Watson is a reputable citizen 60 years of age, and a property holder of considerable amount. So far as known he has always previously borne a good character.

Last night, at the residence of Mr. S. L. Young, a permanent musical club was organized by the members of Fern Lodge, D. of H. This organization will be known as the "Werlin Glee Club." The name is in honor of E. Werlin, G. M. W. of Oregon, who united with Fern Lodge, D. of H., while visiting in our city last week. The club will meet every week and will be an attraction to the lodge. Mr. J. C. Crandall will be musical director.

It is reported that most of the able-bodied population of Umatilla these days is engaged in the search for Indian arrowheads, such as adorn the primeval implements of warfare and were "tipped with flint and with feather," says the Grant County News. The recent sand blizzard which swept along the shores of the Columbia has uncovered many of these arrowheads, and they are supposed to be especially numerous on the site of the old Indian battlefield near Umatilla. In fact, this is about the only place where the relic-hunter considers it profitable to turn his attention. Many arrowheads have been picked up in this locality. They are made of flint and are of various designs and structure.

True Worth Is In Being, Not Seeming.

Many odd jokes can be adapted to the present political situation, as for example:

Mr. Goldman—If you call a dog's tail a leg how many legs has the dog?

Mr. Silverman—Five.

Mr. Goldman—Wrong.

Mr. Silverman—How so?

Mr. Goldman—Because calling a dog's tail a leg doesn't make it a leg.

(Exit Mr. Silverman scratching that soft part of his head in which had lodged the absurd notion that calling fifty-three cents worth of silver a dollar would make it a dollar.)

Little Emma Nelson's Find.

Mr. John Short came up from the Susanville country last night, says the Milton Eagle, and relates that a short time ago little Emma Nelson picked up a small piece of quartz while at play on the hillside above her parents' house. The little tot carried her find to her mamma and sagely remarked that she believed it contained gold. Her mamma laughed at her and thought nothing more of the matter until evening, when the father returned home, and Emma lugged forth her find and exhibited it to him. His experienced eye quickly caught indications of the precious metal, and securing a hammer to crush the quartz, he found on closer examination that a solid bar of gold extended through the entire piece. Mr. Nelson separated the gold from the quartz and cleaned up $75.

The result of little Emma's find will be invested in a secure place at interest until she is of age, when the principal and accruing interest will be given her.

The child mentioned above is the same who was lost for a whole week last July, in the mountains back of Susanville, of which village her father is postmaster, and was found several miles from home tired and hungry, but uninjured. She was evidently born under a lucky star.

Locks Complete November 15th.

Colonel J. G. Day says work on the new lock in the canal at the Cascades is progressing satisfactorily. The south wall is completed, and the north wall will be finished within the time specified, and the locks will doubtless be opened by November 15th. Last Sunday the steamer Sadie B., which had come down through the locks, and on to this city, returned to the Cascades and entered the lower lock. On her way up, in passing around Sheridan point, just below the locks, she ran on a rock, which, owing to the river having fallen three feet since she passed down, was too near the surface. She had impetus enough to drive her over the rock, but plunged her nose well under as she cleared it. Colonel Day says he will have anti-friction rollers put on her bottom before he comes down again.—Oregonian.

Sheepmen Go Free.

The criminal suits brought by the United States against Messrs Brogan, Stewart, King and Gabel, for trespassing on the Cascade reserve by driving and pasturing sheep there, were dismissed in the United States court yesterday, United States Attorney Murphy consenting.

terday, United States Attorney Murphy consenting.

The Freight Wreck.

The wreck which occurred the other day near Grants came near proving the last of Joseph Earhart, or "Bull Run Joe," as he is familiarly called by trainmen. He escaped death it would seem by a miracle. He was hardly aware of the danger until he was thrown in some unaccountable way to the tank of the engine, which sloughing around, cast him in front of a freight car. The freight car ploughed its way through the sand, rolling him along in front of it and almost burying him. Four cars followed and piled up on top of him. He was pulled out of a space so small that seemed impossible a much smaller man than Joe could occupy. Though he sustained some severe bruises, about the face and body, he fortunately came out with no broken bones and no serious injury. Our informant was wrong the other day in stating this was Earhart's first introduction to a railway accident, as this makes the third for him. The fireman escaped by jumping. The cause of the wreck was an accumulation of sand on the track.

Mrs. Poorman's Missionary Work.

Mrs. Martha Poorman is the name of a highly respected old lady who for years has been doing as much good for the prohibition cause as it is possible for her to accomplish. She never tires of her missionary work, which she propagates in her own way. This is by distributing small tracts, containing brief articles of her own composition, which she has caused to be printed in the city. She has distributed thousands of these in the past several years. The one most familiar is the one upon tobacco, which she gives to everyone she observes smoking a pipe or chewing tobacco. Since the campaign has opened she has attached to this one with flour paste made of cold water a tract of similar size, urging the recipient to "come out of the old parties to the Lord's side, and vote only for good pure men, who will make and enforce good laws." The persistence of the old lady in the cause of her adoption entitles her to great respect, which she undoubtedly receives.
