NATIONAL REPUBLICAN TICKET

For President, WILLIAM M'KINLEY, Ohio
For Vice-President, GARRET A. HOBART, New Jersey
For Presidential Electors, T. T. GEER, Marion County; S. M. YORAN, Lane; E. L. SMITH, Wasco; J. F. CAPLES, Multnomah

Never was a more grievous wrong done the farmers of our country than that so unjustly inflicted during the past three years upon the wool growers. Although among our most useful citizens, their interests have been practically destroyed. McKinley's letter of acceptance.

THE OREGONIAN AND THE CHRONICLE.

We are accused by the Mountaineer of disagreeing with the Oregonian. Well, THE CHRONICLE has sometimes been, and is now, independent enough to say what its editor thinks and believes, whether it is in direct line with the Oregonian or not. But as to capital being driven from this country by the free silver agitation, there has never been any difference of opinion among those who believe that the free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1 is unwise, impracticable and dangerous to our commercial safety. That gold is now flowing back to this country is not in anywise a reflection upon our judgment in this matter.

Gold was leaving this country steadily and rapidly until after Bryan's Madison Square public reading. That the gold is coming here simply supports our contention that in the opinion of the most careful observers there is no prospect of the election of a free-trade, free-silver, free-railroad and free-telegraph president. The prospective election of a wise executive, an experienced statesman and financier, a man under whose policy the industries of this country were once stimulated into activity, encourages capital to come this way. As soon as McKinley's election is proclaimed, prosperity will begin to return, even as capital is doing now, its owners being satisfied as to what the result will be.

The Popocratic newspapers are now engaged in publishing what purports to be an affidavit of an ex-soldier who claims to have lived in Mexico, and who is made to say that all the stories about Mexican cheap money and low wages are false. The alleged affidavit recites: "I assert that a Mexican will not accept an American dollar, either gold, silver or paper, for any amount; but will refer you to a broker, where you can sell your silver dollars as bullion for Mexican money; then they will trade with you."

I hear it asserted that the national debt is payable in gold. I brand this as utterly false. Every dollar of the debt—$146,000,000—is, and always has been, payable in the lawful money of that country, and we are now paying our debt in the Mexican silver dollars." Some people might be fooled by this stuff had not President Diaz and Minister of Finance Jose Y. Limantour, Mexican officials of the highest rank, both recently stated for publication that the government loans of Mexico were payable in gold. Said the minister of finance to a New York Sun reporter: "Each time silver goes down it is a serious detriment to our country, because we make our foreign loans payable in gold. As silver depreciates and the premium on gold is increased, it becomes more difficult for our government to meet these gold obligations. There are a number of people in Oregon today who have recently been in Mexico: one from our own county, who says that an American dollar is always and eagerly accepted for two Mexican dollars. This alleged affidavit is too plainly a falsehood to be used by anyone but James Hamilton Lewis, the famous liar of Washington.

The interview of the Oregonian with General Freight Agent Harder, of the Great Northern, published yesterday, states the situation at The Dalles fairly and without exaggeration. That we have the best business location in Eastern Oregon has long been conceded. We have done little or nothing until the last year to attract attention of outsiders to our advantages and resources, and yet our city has continued steadily to grow in wealth, population and appearance. The time is not far distant when the steady and firm growth of the last ten years will bear fruit in great commercial prosperity. We need a few manufacturing enterprises to start the promised development into an important city.

The United States census returns show that the talk about farm lands depreciating in value under the present financial system as compared with values previous to "the great crime," is absolutely untrue. In 1860 the average price per acre was $16.27; in 1880, $19.02; in 1890, $21.31. In 1880 and 1890 we were under the same financial system as now, and these figures were made before Bryan, Stewart or Jones discovered that there was any trouble with our financial system.

"It is not the campaign in New York that is interesting the voters of Oregon at this time."—Mountaineer. From a Democratic point of view that is certainly true; but the rest of us are taking an active interest in New York, which casts thirty-six electoral votes. We feel that Oregon is safe, and we are taking considerable interest in the campaign elsewhere. It behooves Oregon Democrats to confine their attention to Oregon from now on.
