The Wasco News has the wrong idea of how it will work. It has reduced its subscription price to $1 per year, instead of raising to $4, professing to believe that Bryan will be elected.

Spokane is up-to-date and don't want Wing & Son's Pianos. Why should you buy cheap goods when you can get a first-class Piano like the Ludwig, Jewett and Hardman for the same price at Jacobson's.

Dr. F. W. Parker, pastor of the Congregational church at Pendleton, will lecture at the Congregational church in this city, Monday, Sept. 28th at 8 p. m., on the subject, "The Work of the Teacher and the Relation of the Parent to That Work." Prof. Gavin, who has heard this lecture, pronounces it as very entertaining, witty and instructive.

Mr. L. Comini returned last night from Mt. Adams, where he has erected a handsome stone to the memory of Frederick Troh. He reports the burning of a residence and contents by careless children, but cannot recall the name.

An attempted suicide occurred last night by the inmate of a house of ill fame. There are some who profess to believe the attempt was pretended. The medium was a capsule containing carbonic acid.

An impromptu foot race occurred yesterday afternoon at the fair grounds between Mr. C. E. Cameron, who was one of The Dalles hose team at the Astoria races, and a traveling sprinter. The purse of $40 was won by Mr. Cameron by only a few inches. Sixty-five yards were covered in seven seconds.

Mr. Smith French is cutting down the poplar trees from around his handsome residence. The absence of the trees, though subtracting in a measure from the beauty of the premises, will permit other vegetation to make a thriffter growth. The poplar is a horticultural hog.

Mr. W. E. Garretson has a free silver dime. It is considerably larger than a silver dollar. The words appear on one side: "Free Silver—One Dime—1896," and on the other: "Sixteen to One—Bluster, Populism, Socialism, Anarchy, Free Silver, 50c Dollar, Free Wool, Free Trade, Repudiation, Panperism, Democracy, Bankruptcy, Agrarianism, Idleness, Starvation, Lunacy."

Mr. A. C. Giddings of Portland has an educational device for the instruction of children which recommends itself for its worth as an educator. It contains a slate about two feet square, above which and serving as a pattern is a panoramic chart, containing the alphabet written and printed, the German alphabet, short hand characters, drawings from the most primitive to the most elaborate designs, etc. Mr. Giddings has with him a recommendation from the superintendent of public instruction Mr. G. M. Irwin, recommending its use wherever possible. It is mounted on a neat and substantial oak frame.

Lander's Luckless Love.

Love by letter is not what it is cracked up to be. At least that is what a Mr. Lander will always think who went to the train last night to meet for the first time a blushing bride, who, in pursuance of a series of letters, originating from a matrimonial advertisement, arrived on the 10:30 train. The lady in question met her fiance and after a tete-a-tete at which the reporter, not being invited, is unable to reproduce, parted for the night. Early next morning Lander appeared at the hotel and was told the girl had left on the 4:30 morning train for Portland, from whence she came. No explanations were left, and Lander was left to conjecture what had so suddenly changed the mind of his anticipated wife.

The only thing in evidence was the grizzled moon, which for centuries untold has beamed with its mellow light upon countless pairs of lovers, and which must have revealed the evening before to the Mrs. Lander-to-be some qualities in her lover's face which she regarded as unprepossessing. She left also without paying her hotel bill. Lander paid it, and thus balanced up another page on life's great book of experience.

BORN.

In The Dalles, Sept. 24th, to the wife of J. M. Huntington, a daughter.

Some months ago we sent one of our pianos to Spokane, Wash. The party who ordered it became involved in financial difficulties and was unable to purchase it. We then transferred it to Mr. I. C. Nickelsen of The Dalles, who has been storing it for us during the last few months. We do not wish the piano re-shipped to us because that will involve a considerable expense of freights. We are therefore willing to sell the piano actually below cost. The piano is the best we manufacture, listed in our catalogue at $1,200, retail price $640. We offer it, with stool, scarf and lamp, to anyone who will buy within the next thirty days, for $275. This is an opportunity to get a first-class piano at absolutely less than cost. Everyone who intends to buy a piano any time at all, ought to see this instrument and consider this offer before making a purchase. The piano can be seen at I. C. Nickelsen's at any time. We have authorized Mr. Nickelsen to accept this price for it.

THE FACTS IN THE CASE.

Mr. Craven is Plentifully Supplied and Applies Them Mercilessly.

Mr. Herman W. Craven of Seattle delivered a ringing Republican address at the court house last evening to an audience taxing the capacity of the court house last evening to contain it. No more enthusiastic Republican exists than Mr. Craven and he succeeded in communicating a generous share of it to his audience, who cheered him wildly from start to finish. The only unpleasantness which marred the evening were the babblings of a drunken individual, upon whom therefore the timely rebukes of the speaker were lost. His sense of shame was sunken in his inebriety. Mr. Craven was pleasantly introduced by Mr. F. W. Wilson as a citizen from a sister state who comes to us to preach the gospel of protection, sound money and McKinley.

The speaker opened with the statement that while Oregon seemingly contained more Republicans than Washington, yet he claimed his state would not be in the rear in November, and referred to the recent Vermont and Maine elections as a tremendous expression of the conservative element in the East. Taking up the extravagant claims of the silver forces he exposed to view a copy of the San Francisco Examiner of the 29th of August, where that paper contained the following "scare" headlines: "New England Engulfed by the Huge Wave of Silver Sentiment—The Republicans Will Have Trouble With Maine Yet." The only trouble, said Mr. Craven, was to count the unparalleled Republican majority. The speaker exploded the claim of the silver people when he said the change from unexampled prosperity in 1892 to the lowest depths of financial distress in 1893 was sudden; quoting from Dunn and Bradstreet's commercial agencies incontestible proof.

The Weekly Review of Trade, June 30, 1892, said: "Business is better than ever before in history; money is in better demand, but it is in ample supply; woolen mills are running night and day to supply the demand; stocks of Continued on Fourth page.
